MILITIA CALLED OUT IN LOUISIANA

KIDNAPING CAUSES STATE GOVERNMENT TO TAKE ACTION

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

MONROE (La.) Dec. 19.—Company G, Louisiana National Guard, consisting of sixty-five men and three officers, under the command of Capt. T. W. Cooper, moved out of Monroe at 2:30 p.m. today in automobile trucks for Mer Rouge, Morehouse parish, under orders from the adjutant-general's office at Baton Rouge.

Although no definite information [illegible] purpose of the military [illegible] at Mer Rouge has been [illegible] here, it is understood the [illegible] were called out in connection with the situation brought [illegible] by the kidnaping last August [illegible] band of hooded men of five [illegible] Rouge citizens, two of whom [illegible].

[illegible] report in circulation before [illegible] departed was that they [illegible] ordered to Bastrop, [illegible] parish seat, where they [illegible] to guard the Court House [illegible] the next thirty days, in[illegible] that an open hearing in[illegible] kidnapings, decided on re[illegible] at a conference between [illegible] and Atty.-Gen. Coco, [illegible] held immediately.

[illegible] troops left Monroe well [illegible]. In addition to arms and [illegible] they were supplied [illegible] rations to last twenty days. [illegible] Robert Dade of Mer [illegible] in response to a message [illegible] conditions there, stated [illegible] there have been no dis[illegible] of any kind for several [illegible] Morehouse parish of[illegible] expressed surprise that [illegible] should be sent into the [illegible] that normal condi[illegible].

[illegible] Mer Rouge citizens, in[illegible] Watt Daniels and Thomas [illegible] Richards, the missing men, were [illegible] on the night of August [illegible] returning from a meeting [illegible] by thirty or forty [illegible] men. They were taken in[illegible] county and a whipping [illegible] at least two of [illegible] of the party, including [illegible] Daniels, father of Watt [illegible], was released, and after [illegible] all night in the woods, [illegible] to their homes the following morning.

JAPS TAKE NO CHANCE WITH NAVY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Responding to a House resolution Secretary Denby transmitted to Congress today the information in the hands of the Navy Department on the status of warships scrapped under the terms of the Washington arms conference naval treaty, or otherwise disposed of by the signatories since the adjournment of the conference.

The report showed that neither the United States nor Japan plan to complete the scrapping of any existing capital ships, at least pending promulgation of the treaty, although both nations have stopped work on large building programs of capital ships. Great Britain, on the other hand, was shown to have disposed of or to be disposing of a very considerable number of older capital ships.

CONSTRUCTION SUSPENDED

The United States, according to the report, in addition to suspending work on vessels under construction under the treaty, has decommissioned all completed ships affected except the battleship Connecticut, which soon will be placed out of commission, and has sold the Maine and the Missouri which are actually being broken up.

Great Britain, Denby said, had at the time his information was gathered, but which was not indicated, broken up three capital ships; sold to be broken up, seven; sold but not dismantled, one; completed mutilations on two, and was engaged in mutilating six others. The Australian government, he added, had decided to scrap the battle cruiser Australia.

Through her Ministry of Marine, the Secretary continued, Japan "had stated that while work preliminary to scrapping will be done, the hulls will not be broken up or sunk until the treaty has been ratified by all the powers."

PRELIMINARY WORK

Certain preliminary work involving removal of guns, turrets, armor and engines was being done, he said, on seven capital ships; three others had been placed in the fourth reserve and work had been suspended on six. Work on two others was proceeding with the evident intention of completing them as aircraft carriers, permitted under the naval treaty.

Neither France nor Italy was required to scrap any completed vessels by the treaty. One of the ships France was permitted to retain, Denby said, had been wrecked and that nation proposed to complete, as an aircraft carrier, one of the five battleships it had under construction at the beginning of the war.

ACTION BY ITALY

Italy, Denby said, had disposed of one battleship under construction and had annulled contracts for three others. In addition, the Leonardi da Vinci, a battleship

REPRIEVE GIVEN TO OLD SHIP

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE, Dec. 19.—Memories of the golden days of the clipper-ship, stirring the hearts of the old seafaring men, have brought [illegible] a day of execution for the [illegible] square rigger, Glory of the Seas, once queen of the American merchant marine and holder of speed records in every ocean. SHIPPING BILL IS HELD BACK

Motion to Lay Aside Measure Proves to be Key-log in Legislative Jam

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Efforts to bring about a vote on the motion of Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, to lay aside the administration shipping bill in favor of the Nebraska Senator's agricultural credits measure, today failed in the Senate. The session ended with the Norris motion more firmly than ever imbedded as the key-log in the legislative jam.

[illegible] Jones, Republican, [illegible] in charge of the shipping bill, supported by administration [illegible], proposed, as he did [illegible] that a time be set for a [illegible] unanimous consent. [illegible] Norris indicated his [illegible] to the proposal, objection [illegible] by Senators numbered [illegible] those supporting the [illegible].

[illegible] thereupon abandoned efforts to reach a [illegible] the day, and the remainder of the session was given [illegible] to discussion of agricultural legislation by Senator Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, and to an attack on the Federal Reserve Board by Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama.

When a vote might be obtained and the shipping bill subjected to its first test was a question tonight which leaders could not definitely answer. Senator Norris left the Senate chamber at the end of the day's session with the declaration that a vote might come tomorrow, but other Senators supporting the move to lay aside the shipping bill,

TERMINAL AT PLAZA ANNULLED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 19.—The State Supreme Court today annulled the order of the State Railroad Commission directing the principal railways entering Los Angeles to join in the construction of a union passenger terminal on the old Plaza.

The decision halts the most important development under way in Los Angeles, a scheme whereby railroad passenger traffic would be concentrated for the public convenience, grade crossings eliminated and the city possess a terminal similar to those of large eastern cities.

It was the opinion of the Supreme Court that the Railroad Commission had exceeded its jurisdiction in ordering the project. This was the contention of the railroad officials when they appealed the commission's order in January. The Railroad Commission issued its order on April 26, last year.

The railroads insisted that the only governing body with authority to order the building of union terminal station was the Interstate Commerce Commission. The court upheld this view, ruling as follows:

"We arrive at the conclusion that full power and authority over the matter of union terminal depot facilities of the railroads largely engaged in interstate commerce have been vested in the Interstate Commerce Commission and that the State commission has been divested of this power."

The railways affected by the order were the Southern Pacific, the Santa Fe, the Union Pacific and the Pacific Electric, each of which now has a separate station.

The site on the Plaza was selected after much discussion as to the best place for a union terminal, and the project involved a rearrangement and improvement of the mail service.

WANTED PLANS RUSHED

The Railroad Commission's order defined the site as "that portion of the city of Los Angeles bounded by Commercial street, North Main street, Redondo street, Alhambra avenue and the Los Angeles River." It called for plans for the new station to be filed within six months.

The project called for a plan of gradual elimination of grade crossings and other features of a comprehensive scheme for transportation development meeting present and future requirements. The commission laid out five years as the period needed to complete its plan. The supervision and direction of the construction of the union station was to have been done by a committee composed of two men appointed by the city, and two by each of the railroads, a disinterested person to be chosen as chairman.

ASKED WRIT OF REVIEW

The railways at once announced they would fight the order, and soon after petitioned the Supreme Court to order the issuance of a writ of review of the case. The court on January 5 ordered the Railroad Commission to make a return of all of its proceedings, and the case since has been pending.

In its order the Railroad Commission said that in selecting the Plaza site it "assumes that the city will carry out its repeatedly announced intention to further in every way possible the consummation of the general plan, which by resolution the city authorities have so strongly urged the commission to promulgate in the proceedings."

The campaign for a union passenger terminal began in 1911, following a series of accidents which emphasized the danger of grade crossings.

Several local organizations petitioned the Railroad Commission to order the abolition of the grade crossings, but the commission feared it lacked proper jurisdiction and, ruling against itself, the matter was taken before the Supreme

Delayed Stork Costs Woman Term in Jail

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—A stork that failed to arrive on schedule will cost Mrs. Irene McAuliffe Inks, former postmistress of Franklin Park, a year in the Federal prison in Rhode Island.

Miss McAuliffe and Inks were arrested in Cleveland in January, 1920, after they had disappeared simultaneously with the discovery of a shortage of $20,000 in Miss McAuliffe's postoffice accounts.

While waiting trial they married and a year ago when the case was heard Judge Mack suspended the woman's sentence when told she was about to become a mother.

FRANCE UNMOVED BY TALK OF HUGE LOAN TO GERMANY

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Dec. 19.—France will invade the Ruhr immediately before or after January 15, unless in the meantime something more decisive than now seems likely intervenes to prevent such action. The Times is able to announce this authoritatively following a series of important interviews had today between Premier Poincare, Marshal Foch, Minister of War Maginot and Minister of Finance Lasteyrie.

In the best informed official circles tonight it was said that occupation is 80 per cent probable.

CABLE FROM WASHINGTON

The decision reached at today's conferences here were strongly influenced by two communications. Foremost of these was a cable from Ambassador Jusserand at Washington, setting forth the American position on the basis of a detailed interview which Jusserand has just had with the United States Department of State.

This message explains that the United States is anxious to aid Europe in the present financial crisis and that it would be excellent if the French viewpoint were clarified. It is also suggested that certain American bankers might act as advisers or investigators. The message did not, however, contain any reference to a direct loan, such as it has been reported here America contemplated, or any suggestion that the United States might participate in the situation in a material way at all.

The other message which seriously engaged today's meetings came from London and suggested a comparatively small credit offer to Germany by London bankers, covering four or five reparation payments, on condition that France call off her plans for occupation of the Ruhr.

Neither of these messages, however, was considered sufficiently concrete by Premier Poincare and his counsellors to influence the French decision relative to the seizure of guarantees from Germany.

MEETING OF PREMIERS

If the meeting of the Premiers here January 2nd does not provide the resources for satisfactory 1923 reparation payments through the medium of a loan, or through installation of Allied control in Germany the presence of France on the Ruhr may be regarded as a certainty around the middle of next month.

SEIZE HUGE CHRISTMAS RUM CARGO

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 19. — An ocean-going barge, laden with 4000 cases of holiday whisky valued by prohibition officials at $250,000 was captured inside Sandy Hook tonight by the former sub-chaser Hanson of the prohibition navy.

The prize was said by Zone Chief Appleby to have been one of a fleet of rum-smuggling craft which left Nassau, Bahamas, three weeks ago and has been off the coast outside the three-mile limit awaiting a chance to run the Christmas blockade.

The rum-runner was seized after the government signal station at Sandy Hook had tipped off the authorities that a suspicious looking craft, with dim lights, was heading in.

The vigilance of the prohibition navy was at high-pitch tonight, the belief being that with Christmas only a few days away, the liquor fleet, halted in its efforts to get its stock into port by motorboats would now take desperate gambles with their rich cargo.

Appleby declared there were at present more rum-smuggling craft off the New Jersey and Long Island coasts than ever before, with cargoes worth millions of dollars. The skippers are growing desperate at their inability to run the gauntlet and establish connection with their bootlegging partners ashore, he asserted.

FORCE OF 500,000 FOR PROTECTION IN RED UKRAINE

BY GEORGE SELDES

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ODESSA, Dec. 16.—[By Courier to London.] For the first time since the days recorded in the Bible, the Jewish people have a large army, capable of protecting the lives and interests of 5,000,000 of their race living in Russia. It was organized in secret a year ago. This army which, in many respects parallels Michael Collins's Irish army before the Free State days, "the Jewish defense army," has grown until it approximates 500,000 strong. It is well equipped with rifles, ammunition and machine guns. Branches exist in every city of the Ukrainian republic having Jewish populations.

These astonishing facts were discovered on a trip to Odessa from Moscow. The first rumor of the army came to Kharkov, the capital of Ukraine, where the information and directing centers of the army are located. In Kiev the secret was not so carefully kept, and in smaller cities the activities of the secret Jewish army are seen openly. Every man from 18 to 50 is enrolled, giving it a total of 500,000 bayonets, but the younger members number at least 100,000.

FOR SELF-DEFENSE

The organization of the Jewish army was caused by the continued massacres in Southern Russia, which surpassed anything ever known, and which did not end with the soviet dictatorship. Ukrainian Jews today are living in the same fear of pogroms as during the days of Denikine and Petlura.

Evidence of the Poles supplying money and munitions to bandit bands, which at times have grown so large as to plan to overthrow the southern Russian soviets, was another reason for the formation of the secret army, inasmuch as all these bands, using arms from across the Polish borders, continued the massacres which Petlura's bands began.

When not engaged in actions with enemies, detachments of the Jewish Army are systematically reclaiming villages and parts of cities where their people were massacred and deprived of their belongings. Throughout the journey from Kharkov to Odessa I have heard hundreds of stories of this continuous action, and have seen some of the results.

In a town called Spalla, for instance, the Jewish volunteer army, well armed, engaged in guerilla warfare with a band of several hundred bandits, which ended with the Jews entering the town. Immediately order was established and several thousand former residents, who escaped a series of massacres two or three years ago, began streaming back from all parts of Russia and Rumania. Today Spalla has a larger population than it did before the war.

ALWAYS ON GUARD

In cities with a majority of Jewish population this army, although refraining from taking up governmental control or in any other way manifesting its power, actually is the supreme force. In the villages they are continually on guard, because whenever heavy taxation is placed on the peasants numerous peasant sons join small bandit organizations for the purpose of attacking the villages and making the villagers bear their taxation. In order to protect the villages the Jewish army has built up a huge courier system.

TURK FEARS GROWING AT CONFERENCE

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LAUSANNE, Dec. 19.—Turkish fears of submarines, Turkish fears of swiftly flying military airplanes laden with bombs and, generally, Turkish fears of aggressions from without that will put Constantinople in danger have tonight placed the whole Lausanne conference in jeopardy.

The United States is silent on the situation, but the Allied leaders say tonight that they have uttered their last word on the question of liberty of the straits. Tomorrow the Turks must say yes or no to the Allied project.

EXPERTS DEPART

British experts, Admiral Keyes and Gen. Burdett-Stuart, already have left for England, believing their work to have been completed and the French experts are preparing to depart tomorrow night at the conclusion of the "last session" for discussion of the straits. Whether a rupture will come on the straits problem depends chiefly on whether the Entente diplomats and their experts can remove the Turkish fears. This they are trying to do tonight.

The diplomats are endeavoring to convince the Angora statesmen that the straits project is essentially framed to meet conditions in times of peace and that the Allies are not in any sinister hidden manner seeking facilities for war and especially against Turkey. They say they have only sought the equality of all fleets plying the straits on peaceful errands.

The Allies have emphasized that they cannot accept the Turkish request for the suppression of submarine and military airplanes any more than they can accept the suggestion that combined foreign fleets entering the Black Sea shall not exceed in strength the fleet of the strong naval power of the Black Sea. "That would make the Black Sea forbidden ground," said a French expert tonight.

IN FIGHTING MOOD

As the Russians are here only for discussion of the straits question, tomorrow may see the last of them at Lausanne. They still are in a fighting mood, however. George Tchitcherin was in an argumentative frame of mind today. He tried to win American sympathy for the Russian straits project by insisting that it incorporated the American idea of "beneficent warships."

But the Allies have agreed that the Moscow straits plan is abso-

PHAROAH'S GLORY SHOWN

Archeological Treasures of Tomb Surpass Dreams of Egyptologist

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Dec. 19.—The archeological treasures of the recently discovered tomb of King Tutenkhamun in the Valley of the Kings, were described today by the American Egyptologist, James H. Breasted, in a telegram to the Cairo correspondent of The Times from Luxor.

"I spent an hour in Tutenkhamun's tomb this afternoon," Dr. Breasted said in his dispatch. "The impression is overwhelming. The dispatches but feebly suggested the marvelous reality. It is a sight I never dreamed of seeing.

"The antechamber of the Pharaoh's tomb is filled with magnificent equipment which only the wealth and splendor of the imperial age of Egypt of the fourteenth century before Christ could have wrought or conceived, and with everything standing as placed there when the tomb was last closed in antiquity.

"Two facts are evident. First, it is clear that the place is a Pharaoh's tomb and no mere cache. Behind the remaining unopened sealed doorway we must expect to find the burial chamber where the Pharaoh still lies in royal magnificence. Second, we have here a royal burial very little disturbed, in spite of the hurried plundering it suffered at the hands of the ancient tomb robbers.

"In mere quantity of furniture found it far surpasses all precedent. In quality it is an astonishing revelation of the beauty and refinement of Egyptian art at the culmination of its development in the imperial age, quite surpassing anything I ever imagined."

WAR LORD HER "TREUE LIEB"

Exiled Ruler's 'Housekeeper' Bares Heart Story

Sweetheart, Affinity and Lastly Comforter

Gabriella Von Rochow Still Defends ex-Kaiser

BY LARRY RUE

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERLIN, Dec. 19.—Like a storybook grandmother, Gabriella Von Rochow, who played the same role in the life of the former Kaiser as Betsy did in the life of Tom Sawyer, today told the story of her love in pig-tails, the heartaches and laughter of childhood as a playfellow of young Prince Wilhelm, and later the shy coquetry behind large fans at brilliant balls, and coyly flirting during the minuet with the Prince whose heart was not his, but the Foreign Office's. Her next role was affinity to the married King, and later sisterly comforter to the wrecked man who once set the world on fire.

During the narration her face was sentimental with reminiscences, but was flashing like fire when she defended the character and war record of her hero.

Gabriella is a typical white-haired grandmother. She was sitting in a rocking chair and knitting in her little red brick castle near Brandenburg, 100 kilometers west of Berlin, when I visited her.

EMPLOYMENT DENIED

"I absolutely deny I was employed in Doorn by the former Kaiser, and that I tried to marry him. I am unable to understand how Princess Reuss made a statement like that for she must have known how well I have known the former Kaiser since childhood. We were playfellows as children. I will never forget my first dance partner at the first ball I ever attended. Prince Wilhelm, who was later Emperor and is now an exiled man at Doorn, was present.

"We were good friends. He was a man of exceptional personality. He was prudent, ingenious and clever. He was able to talk intelligently on any subject. He has only one failure—he is good natured. This was the cause of his ruin. I am certain Wilhelm would have won the war had he exploited our intentions with U-boats and poison gas. But he was too tender-hearted. He was too good and therefore he is alone in exile."

Only between the lines could one gather she had loved the former Kaiser in her youth and he had loved her. Once she had been a famous beauty. But on this and her exact relations with the former Kaiser throughout his rise and fall she vouchsafed nothing except that their "relations were only amicable."

VISITS EXILED "HERO"

She explained in detail certain circumstances of her visits to Doorn, which, despite her age of 62 and her lifelong friendship with the former Kaiser, caused gossip.

"The former Kaiser was desperate during the first two years of his exile," she said "The summer there was beautiful, but the winter was unbearable. Wilhelm always was fond of society. His children seldom visited him. I was not surprised in 1921 when the former Kaiser invited me to Doorn. When I saw Wilhelm after the revolution I nearly wept. It was terrible for me to behold in exile a man whom I had seen at the height of his magnificence. I only stayed a few days, but in December, 1921, I returned as he had begged me, remaining this time over Christmas, passing six weeks with him.

NEVER SOUGHT HAND

"Then a rumor started that I was trying to marry him. It is a lie. I never tried. As many court intriguers at Doorn supported this rumor, I did not go there any more.

"I always understood the former Kaiser would marry and I even felt certain there would be a Kaiserin. The former Kaiser is a man who cannot live alone. But, I think his choice was wrong. He is 64 and she is 35 years old. If it is true she married him on condition she could pass sixteen weeks in Germany every year, it is possible she will leave him in the winter when he needs her society most. This is awful for him. I feel very sorry for I am fond of him."

After this Mme. Von Rochow chatted of old times and personalities of old court life. She mentioned that once her husband had reminded Prince Joachim Albrecht that the Von Rochows had lived in Purssia 200 years longer than the Hohenzollerns, to which he replied:

"Well, you must admit we are doing much better."

Although not expressing her opinion, it is plain that she was not overly fond of the late Kaiserin. The Kaiserin always was too much embonpoint to please the former Kaiser and he forced her to take treatments to reduce, she said. During the treatments he held up the figure of a beautiful Austrian Princess as a model.

AGED MAN BALKS POORHOUSE TRIP

Death Comes to Centenarian Preventing Removal by County

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PATCHOGUE (N. Y.) Dec. 19.—Death came today to Patchogue's oldest resident, James Verneto, aged 106, just two hours before he and his wife Mary, aged 97, were to have been removed to the county poorhouse.

When officers called at the home to take the aged pair away, they were met at the door by a son, Joseph, aged 70, who told them of his father's death. The officials did not disturb the widow.

Duel Challenge is Aftermath of Stormy Session

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BRUSSELS, Dec. 19.—Minister of the Colonies Franck has challenged former Premier Paul Hymans to a duel. M. Franck sent his seconds to M. Hymans today after sharp words had passed between them in the Chamber of Deputies.

The altercation came during a stormy period of the session which followed passage of a measure making Ghent University a Flemish situation. The vote is expected to bring a Cabinet crisis as the Liberal ministers recently announced they had resolved to quit the government if the bill was adopted. Closing voting marked the end of the debate on the question, the bill being adopted by 85 votes to 83. After the Chamber voted to make the University Flemish, it voted on a proposal that the institution should be bi-lingual, using the French and Flemish languages, but this was rejected.

KLAN MASK STANDS, SAYS CHIEF OFFICER

IMPERIAL WIZARD SAYS HOODS NEVER WILL BE TAKEN OFF BY ORDER

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Emphasizing that he had not sought the conversation he had yesterday with Gov. Allen, of Kansas, Dr. H. W. Evans of Dallas, Tex., Imperial Wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, said today he had "listened to Mr. Allen two or three minutes in which he said he was in hearty sympathy with the Klan principles, but registered some objection to the Klan regalia."

The Klan mask will never be taken off, he asserted, saying it was part of the organization's lodge regalia and never would be abolished.

"I came to Washington on important business," said Dr. Evans, "and had no intention of wasting any time with Mr. Allen. It makes little or no difference what Gov. Allen says, and what he does means even less."

The new imperial wizard of the invisible empire held confab with Klan officials in his hotel here today but no hint of what was considered was disclosed. He was accompanied to Washington by a group of high officials of the order.

"The spirit of Klan-craft," he said, "has enwrapped the United States in a mantle of love for country which designing and ambitious politicians cannot break and in a few brief years the influence of the Klan will have so engulfed the thought of the country that we can expect intelligent legislation from the Congress of the United States which will drag down the white flag of the supine inertia from our legislative halls and raise in its place the militant flag of red, white and blue, which means the thing nearest the heart of every real American."

ORDER HEARING FOR PACIFIC ELECTRIC

situation in Ukraine and the fact that the Soviets look upon it such as Great Britain looked upon Michael Collins' Irish army.

To begin with, the Jewish army was founded by young Zionist groups and therefore had religious, as well as racial significance. This was incompatible with the Soviets' plan to stamp out religious organizations everywhere. On the other hand the Soviets realized that the new forces were useful in dealing with banditry, which has reached dangerous heights, and endangered the Soviet rule in Southern Russia.

As the Zionists are decidedly Nationalistic and not Communistic, the government continually sought to check the movement. Even leading Communists of Jewish origin who, in adopting the Communists formula renounce their religion in favor of atheism or materialistic agnosticism, have bitterly opposed the Jewish army. Even today, when the army has become a great force, its future remains precarious. However, the army leaders declare it will resist any oppressive measures.

"One leader whose name and villages cannot be given on account of the mentioned circumstances, told me:

"Under the Czar's regime the Jewish people submitted. They had only one method of retaliation, namely, calling upon Americans and other just peoples to protest. All invasions of Russia by anti-soviet forces are accompanied by appalling massacres. There is not a single Jew alive today who has not lost from two to twenty relatives in the World War. But those were times when the Jew was impotent."

In one village I found a serious conflict with the soviet authorities, who demanded that the Jewish troopers enforce a grain tax on the peasants. The Jews refused, declaring they already were blamed by the peasantry for all their ills.

In another village there was a conflict because the Jews had killed several soviet soldiers recognized as pogrom leaders.

At all places where Jewish army contingents guarded villages I found a spirit among the people which the inhabitants said never before had existed. The military success seems to have rejuvenated the villagers. They are going ahead, afraid of nobody.

TURKS' FEARS INCREASING

lutely unacceptable. Tchitcherin made a dramatic plea to the world masses. He said Russia was convinced the world's people were back of Russia in her attempts to secure international justice. He also bitterly condemned what he called "marinism," adding, "I mean the sea militarism, which hopes to strangle Russia."

An additional fear of the Turks which the Allies must calm tomorrow is that with which they surround the proposed international commission to supervise control of the straits. The Turks claim the commission will be inquisitorial in nature, that it may infringe Turkish sovereignty and, finally, that it may be used as a club by some powers to threaten Turkey. Hence their ambition to have a general guarantee pact signed at Lausanne, which will assure the neutrality of the straits and prevent acts of hostility in Turkish territorial waters.

The Turks tonight seemed unruffled. They did not appear at all impressed by the ultimatum talk with which the Lausanne atmosphere is charged.

It was pointed out tonight that failure of the straits negotiations would not necessarily imply failure on other vital matters of the Lausanne agenda, one of which is arranging peace between Greece and Turkey and between Turkey and the Allies.

PLAN REGULATION OF FIRE RISK FIRMS

BILL WILL BE INTRODUCED IN LEGISLATURE ACCORDING TO ANNOUNCEMENT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 19.—A bill will be introduced at the next session of the California Legislature, designed to regulate the business of fire insurance in the same manner as the public utilities are regulated by the State Railroad Commission, it was announced here today at the office of the League of California Municipalities.

Former State Senator Kehoe has been named by the league as chairman of a committee to draft the bill, according to W. J. Locke, secretary of the organization which represents a majority of cities in California.

Mr. Locke asserts that California now is losing $10,000,000 annually through overcharges in insurance rates which could be saved if all companies doing business here were responsible to a public body. About two-thirds of the State regulate insurance concerns in the manner after which the new bill will be drafted.

CHURCH LEADER IS GOING TO HOSPITAL

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BALDWIN (Kan.) Dec. 19.—Bishop W. A. Quayle of the Methodist Episcopal Church, St. Louis, who is critically ill at his home here, will be taken to a hospital at St. Joseph, Mo., next Tuesday, if his condition has improved sufficiently.

This announcement was made late today by Mrs. Quayle after a consultation with Dr. William J. McGill of St. Joseph.

MARRIAGE .. PROVED .. FAILURE?

Pauline Frederick

RELATIVES of Pauline Frederick, famous on stage and screen, yesterday indignantly refused to discuss published reports that she and her latest husband, Dr. Rutherford, separated almost immediately after their marriage at Riverside last June, without living together as man and wife. Miss Frederick is in the East.

Dr. Rutherford was prominent as one of Seattle's best physicians and Miss Frederick had planned for him to practice medicine in Los Angeles. Dr. Rutherford had different ideas, it is rumored, and planned to retire after his marriage to Miss Frederick.

Miss Frederick's aunt, who lives at the Frederick home in Beverly Hills, yesterday refused to comment on a report the Rutherfords never lived together as man and wife, but separated four months ago because of their differences of opinion.

The separation is reported to have taken place when Miss Frederick went East to be starred in Al H. Woods's stage production, "Lawful Larceny." No mention has been made of a divorce, but Dr. Rutherford returned to Seattle when his bride went East and Miss Frederick's home is occupied by her uncle, who was her business manager.

At Norwich, Ct., Hibbard R. Norran, attorney for Pauline Frederick, in private life Mrs. Pauline Beatrice Rutherford, in the contest of the will of her father, the late Richard O. Libby, last night said:

"I do not know that Mrs. Rutherford and her husband have separated but I have known for two months that it was to be expected. I also understood she was to be in New York about this time, but I am awaiting a reply from an inquiry I made of her business manager on the Coast in connection with the will contest, which is to have a trial before a jury at New London, Ct., in February."

Pauline Frederick is in Philadelphia playing the leading role in "The Guilty One," an A. H. Woods play, which opened in Atlantic City recently and is booked for Broadway in the spring.

When Miss Frederick's father, Richard O. Libby, died in Norwich, Ct., last September, he disinherited her although he left an estate of approximately $50,000.

"I give and bequeath to my daughter, Pauline Beatrice Rutherford, nothing," a clause in his will read. "And I mention this omission to show that the same is intentional and not made by mistake."

WAITING FOR HARVEY

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Whether the United States will find it possible to bring about a settlement of the German reparations question which has produced the present international crisis in Europe will not be determined until President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes have conferred with George Harvey, Ambassador to Great Britain, who sails for America December 23.

As the matter now stands, America and the Allies are far apart on the question and working at cross purposes. The situation may be summarized thus:

(1.) England and France are maneuvering for a reparations settlement contingent upon the intercancellation of all the war debts the Allies owe each other and the United States.

(2.) America is contending for a reparations settlement without the cancellation of the $11,000,000,000 Allied debt to the United States.

The arrival of Harvey is awaited to throw light on the possibility of the Allies accepting the American viewpoint or of some alternative plan which would not involve surrender of the American claims on the Allies.

The official view here is that the United States can help materially in the rehabilitation of Europe if the European governments take the necessary steps to improve their credit. Such steps would be the balancing of budgets, reduction of military expenditures and reduction of German reparations to an amount that Germany can and will proceed to pay.

If such conditions were complied with American bankers would join with European bankers in floating a huge loan to Germany with which to discharge German obligations to the Allies.

J. P. Morgan and associated American financiers have been considering such a loan for several years. It would be an enormously profitable venture but so far the European, no less than the American bankers have pronounced the security unsatisfactory. The security will not be satisfactory until German credit is restored.

American international bankers generally favor cancellation of the war debts and have been charged with selfish motives in connection therewith, inasmuch as the lightening of the European burden of debt would make their past and future foreign investments more secure.

Morgan has not changed his opinion of the conditions necessary to the flotation of a German loan since last June when he returned from the meeting of the international bankers' committee. At that time he said he had explained to the European bankers that there is no interest in the United States in a loan to Germany under present conditions.

MINNESOTA COW IS CHAMP BUTTER MAKER

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

OMAHA, Dec. 19.—May Walker Ollie Holmstead, a Holstein cow owned by the Minnesota Holstein Company at Austin, Minn., has broken the world's record for a year's production of butter. Her figure for 365 days ending at midnight last night was 1217.27 pounds of butter fat, the equivalent of 1521.6 pounds of butter, according to L. E. Eberhardt, president of the company, and manager of a local packing plant.

The former record of 1506.9 pounds of butter was held by Duchess Skylark Ormsby, a Holstein.

Court which then held that the commission had full authority to cope with the situation.

In the investigation necessary to determine the needs of the city, the City Council furnished $20,000 and the work was carried on under Richard Sachse, chief engineer of the Railroad Commission. His staff of engineers spent two years in the survey. The Plaza was selected as the best site after public hearings by the Railroad Commission and the City Council. From the start the railroads opposed the plan. The Santa Fe held that it was satisfied with its present facilities, while the Southern Pacific stood for a partial union station at the Arcade Station in East Fifth street, offering to allow the Salt Lake use of this station but refusing to admit the Santa Fe unless forced to do so.

BLOW TO CITY

In the opinion of City Attorney Stephens the Supreme Court decision is a hard blow to the city.

"It will have a depressing effect upon the Traffic Commission and City Planning Commission plans which have been carried forward with such marked success during the past two years," said the City Attorney last night.

"Without having access to the decision in its entirety, it is my best guess that the ruling was taken on the point that such a procedure as the State Railroad Commission ordered would be taking property without due compensation.

"If the decision was reached from an interpretation of the State Constitution, neither the State Railroad Commission nor the City of Los Angeles can appeal from it, because our Supreme Court is final in matters involving an interpretation of State constitutional rights.

"If the decision was rendered by the court sitting en banc there is scant possibility of the city of Los Angeles being able to get a rehearing, although I will certainly send the matter back for reconsideration if it is possible to do so."

Public announcement of the full text of the decision is awaited by city officials and heads of various civic and business organizations who figured conspicuously in the long drawn-out hearings on the union terminal question.

It could not be definitely learned last night whether or not the Supreme Court ruled against the entire terminal order, with its various subjoined orders or merely against that part which ordered the construction of a union passenger terminal at the Plaza.

One of the leading features of the original State Railroad Commission order, aside from the order to build the terminal, was an order for all steam and electric railroads operating in and out of this city to proceed at once to eliminate all grade crossings.

CLEAR TO PASADENA

This feature of the order was made to include grade crossings reaching as far inland as Pasadena. This embraced a large number along the Union Pacific, Santa Fe and Southern Pacific lines between here and Pasadena, and embraced upward of 150 grade crossings in and near Los Angeles.

The railroads entered no objection to this feature of the order. In fact, they acquiesced in the matter and said that they would proceed with proper dispatch, but when the original Plaza order was sent back for review the railroads did not go ahead with grade-crossing elimination.

Touching on this point last night, City Attorney Stephens declared that every effort will be made by the city to get grade-crossing elimination work under way without further delay if it is found that the Supreme Court decision did not nullify that feature of the original State Railroad Commission order.

BRIDE TOO CROWDED, SHE SAYS

Mother-in-Law is Persona Non Grata, She Insists; No Privacy at Bath

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—Helen Heiser's romance went on the rocks with a dull, sickening thud, she told Judge Steffen, in the divorce court today, for these reasons:

Her mother-in-law slept in the same bed with the bride and groom for twenty-eight days after the wedding. She and her husband had no more privacy than a pair of goldfish.

Five persons occupied the five-room apartment where she lived and it was impossible to take a bath without embarrassment. The others bathed infrequently but they all displayed a lively interest in observing how she looked in the bathtub and the effects of water in winter time.

Her husband threw her down stairs and bombarded her with dishes and anything else that came to hand.

When her baby was born, he said it resembled the bride's father and he hated and abused it because of that.

The court indicated it would grant her separate maintenance. She said she never wanted to see her husband, Edgar, again as he had killed all love and respect she ever had for him.

IMPEACHMENT CASE SLOWS UP

Daugherty Proceedings Near Close in Committee

Future Action Depends on New Evidence

Witnesses Appear Somewhat Reticent

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Proceedings before the House Judiciary Committee in connection with the impeachment charges brought against Atty.-Gen. Daugherty by Representative Keller, Republican, Minnesota, appeared today to be nearing an end. In fact, it was indicated that the scope of future hearings would depend to a large measure upon the nature of information to be laid before the committee by Representative Woodruff, Republican, Michigan, after his examination of documents at the Department of Justice.

After a brief public discussion today, at which no additional evidence was received, the committee decided, in executive meeting, to hear Mr. Woodruff tomorrow.

Mr. Keller having withdrawn from the prosecution of his charges, the committee in proceeding with the hearing on its own initiative, had before it today Mr. Woodruff and Representative Johnson, Republican, South Dakota. Both emphasized that they had no part in the drafting of the Keller charges and that they were appearing solely in response to an invitation from Chairman Volstead.

"DRAGGED" IN

Declaring he had been "dragged" into the hearing, Representative Johnson said the charges he had made in the House relating to alleged war frauds had been directed solely at the War Department. If the committee wanted to go into these charges he was prepared to give the names of witnesses to support them, he continued, adding that there were officers in the department who "should be court-martialed, instead of promoted." As to the Department of Justice action in regard to war fraud cases, Mr. Johnson said that in his judgment Atty.-Gen. Daugherty had proceeded with reasonable promptness in bringing suits considering that he had had to reorganize the department after he came into office and had to have great masses of information relating to the alleged frauds examined before any move could be made.

REMOVES GROUNDS

Representative Woodruff also told the committee that since he made his charges in the House last April of a failure by Mr. Daugherty to prosecute war fraud cases, suits had been brought in six of the eight or nine instances he had cited and that necessarily this had changed the situation materially. He added that it was not his purpose to embarrass the Attorney-General, in the conduct of the court proceedings and that his opinion was that these cases should not be inquired into at this time.

Asking that he and his counsel, H. L. Scaife, a former attorney employed in the Justice Department, be permitted to examine the documents in the "Wright-Martin case," Mr. Woodruff said that whether he could present charges that would form the basis for impeachment proceedings within the scope of the Keller specifications would depend upon what those documents disclosed. Asst. Atty.-Gen. Seymour immediately announced that the documents would be made available to Mr. Woodruff and his attorney at the department at any time during the day.

THE MISTAKES OF THE KAISER--IV

BY RENE VIVIANI

Premier of France When the War Broke Out

[Copyright, 1922, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate.]

POLITICAL MATERIALISM, BASIS OF GERMAN STATE

Whence came this generation of Germans, such as it was when William II ascended the throne, such as it still remains in 1922, scarcely changed for the better by the remitted disgrace of the misfortune which brought about its defeat?

In the pages of this rapid survey we cannot probe, much less solve, the problem of whether the universities of Germany or her barracks were the cradle of her haughty pride, intoxication and collective madness, that incurable disease which killed Germany after having sought to infect the entire world—whether it was born solely of the teachings of German philosophers or was the child of events. This is not a psychological study, even of human beings in collective movement; a profound study of that sort would require another method of treatment. Nevertheless, it may be stated that two causes contributed toward facilitating the blossoming of these generations of Germans, alike hotheaded, violent, rebellious against all lessons from outside, refractory to all influences from foreign lands.

Prussia was a poor and mediocre kingdom, unable to live despite the fact that it had the determination to live, ambitious to spread beyond itself, and, consequently, beyond its frontiers. Its struggles were like those of a prisoner who, unable yet to break down the bars of his prison, wishes, nevertheless, to thrust them aside in order to open a narrow passage for himself. Such were the struggles of Prussia, first in pursuance of the policies of her chiefs of long ago, afterward under her three kings, particularly Frederick the Great.

CONQUEST FOR OWN SAKE

How, then, was Prussia to extend her frontiers; not merely to seize—which is simply an act of force—but, having seized, to keep; how, then, was she to do all this, to cater to her insatiable appetite, if deference must be paid to what was morally right, to the rights of others, even to nothing more than the rare principles which the human mind had managed to set up during the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries as scruples evidencing the birth of a conscience among the nations? Such questions were not asked by those who believed in conquest for conquest's sake. Without even asking themselves whether what they did was morally right, whether the sporadic violence of one day might not, because it had turned out to be advantageous, engender the principle of continuous, permanent violence, the Prussian monarchs went ahead and acted. It may well be said that what they did was equivalent to applying the system of piracy at sea to politics.

First they introduced a system of discipline which smothered in the mass of men subjected to it all illusions of personal independence, all independent thinking, criticism, and—naturally—all yearnings toward revolt. Then, having emptied the brains of their subjects, they took good care that their hands should be provided with weapons and that they should be taught to strike! Above all, no individual thinking!—in that the Prussian rulers paid heed to the prohibition, superfluous, to be sure, of Frederick.

CONCEPTION OF PRUSSIA

And thus it was that the Prussian state was created not, like other states, for the advantage of those whom it governed, but for its own advantage; for the purpose of swallowing up everything else; of assimilating everything into itself, to put the matter in a nutshell—individual human beings as well as material things. The state is everything—Right, Morality, Force—such was the Prussian doctrine.

In vain the French revolution passed, like a thunderbolt, hurling thrones into the dust. Not even the French revolution could crush that conception of the state. In vain the revolution of 1848, more international in aspect, came into being, that revolution whose dawn was too close to its decline. It moved men's souls, put its impress upon them, aroused them because of its romantictism, inspired some generous acts which clothed themselves with stormy strength; but only to die down again forever into nothingness under the boot of the soldier.

GROWTH OF MATERIALISM

From this political materialism, whose weapon was militarism, came economic materialism, wherein it found its resources, and later intellectual materialism, its guide and propagator, then social materialism, which—imposed with a heavy hand upon the German working class— also dominated French thought for too long, and brushed aside too long the fruit of the thoughts of Rousseau, Considerant, Louis Blanc, Proudhon. The world has seen what socialistic independence in Germany became under this system of education. This will be pointed out again in the course of these pages.

Let us bear in mind, for the present, the sinister lessons taught by those twin teachers, German philosophy and German literature. It was not a case, as with us French in our glorious eighteenth century, of thought creating in the human mind independence of reasoning; of philosophy proclaiming the rights of all; of a cohort of jurists breaking down the deadly formula of superannuated traditions; of genius, imprisoned in the Bastille, wearing away the stones that had lasted through the centuries until, at last, the people smashed to pieces what was left. In Prussia there was none of all this — whatever thought existed there was material, remained material, served only to strengthen what was material. Thus did Prussia form her conception of the omnipotence and unity of the State.

CRIME OF GERMAN THOUGHT

The crime of the entire German school of thought—with the exception of certain minds that were refractory to this enterprise which, none the less, was of a general character—was to have tolerated the conception that reasoning should be subordinated to force. What a humiliating spectacle, alike for the mind and the eye, are those lengthy dissertations, so often reported—and which reappeared in part quite recently — which exalted force into a divinity of whom man was the slave and Germany the temple!

"How can a nation live otherwise than according to such principles?" asked the Germans—such an existence was, to them, incomprehensible. This line of reasoning easily led them to the conclusion that any nation denying such principles was of an inferior sort, that it should be despised and scorned, that it should be subjugated by means of an alliance, if self-interest demanded, or—if interest pointed in another direction—that war should be waged against it.

TAUGHT TO HATE

And so it came about that hate against England was preached, against England, which protected her moving barrier of ships, thwarting German power and neutralizing German commerce! And hate was preached also against France from the very beginning of the eighteenth century, even though, at that time, France had been so uselessly favorable to Frederick and to Prussia by means of her eighteenth century philosophy! And hate was preached, above all, against liberating revolutions which entomb the old-time respect felt by peoples for authority. Germany stood above everything!

Amid such influences the generations of Germans grew up from the beginning of the nineteenth century. The process of concentration worked slowly, being checked by a vague liberalism emanating from Konigsburg, whence sounded the voice of Kant, and from the lofty thoughts of Goethe. The various German States did not resemble each other and, though similarities of mind and race drove them together despite this, there was lacking, nevertheless, a strong bond of union; moreover, the mentality of the inhabitants of these different States was not that of the Prussians. In other words, the time for the fusion was at hand, but not the powerful and crushing mold in which it was to be accomplished.

MAN NEEDED

For this unity—the great dream of Frederick II—what was needed was a basic interest and the man capable of serving it. The true heir of the great King was not destined to be born upon the steps of the throne; the formidable and fateful genius was destined to come, however; that genius who possessed what every one of the others lacked—will-power.

This master of events appeared in 1862. His name was Bismarck. He it was who was destined to complete by "blood and iron" the work begun by the Great Elector in the seventeenth century, and continued, in the eighteenth, by Frederick II. It was Bismarck who was to force into a reality the aspirations of German intellectuals toward national unity.

Records Fall at Postoffice; Rush is Great

Monday stamp sales set a mark for future postmasters to shoot at when a total of $52,000 was reported as the result of the day's operations at the main postoffice and the numerous substations throughout the city.

The rush of people loaded with gifts crowded the postoffice main and auxiliary stations all day yesterday. Postmaster O'Brien was enthusastic that possibly the figures of Monday might be exceeded.

It is sure to be the greatest holiday shipping season in the history of the Los Angeles postoffice, Mr. O'Brien says.

Naval Academy Men Expelled from Service

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ANNAPOLIS, Dec. 19.—Three midshipmen, members of the first class, walked the plank at the Naval Academy yesterday. Nevett Steelen, of Owings Mills, Md., was "dropped" from the rolls for "inaptitude." Stuart H. Hawkins of Springfield, Mass., and Bruce Robinson, Chandler, Ariz., were found guilty of hazing.

Announcement was made that Frederick G. Sharling, Seattle, has been dropped for inaptitude. Sharling was a pitcher of the academy baseball squad. Inaptitude covers a multitude of offenses against naval regulations. The specific infractions committed by Steelen and Sharling were not stated.

CAFE MAN FACING MOONSHINE CHARGE

Ed Rush, a cafe man at 5300 South Santa Fe avenue, was taken into custody yesterday by prohibition enforcement officers on the charge of violating the Volstead law.

He is charged with making a sale of moonshine liquor. In default of $2000 bond he was committed to the County Jail.

MINT BANDITS YET ARE FREE

No Trace of Daring Band Found by Officers

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DENVER, Dec. 19.—Denver State and Federal authorities this evening, after a day and a night spent in searching for the masked bandits who yesterday morning shot and killed Charles Linton, stole a consignment of $200,000 from Federal Reserve Bank guards, and then made their escape in one of the most daring and sensational daylight hold-ups ever staged in the West, were without tangible clews as to the identity of the bandits.

Police, spurred on by the offering of a reward of $10,000 for the bandits, dead or alive, by the city and county of Denver, and by an additional reward aggregating $5000 offered by the Kansas City Federal Reserve Bank, admitted that although they had many clews that promised possibilities they were still far from the solution of the hold-up.

CLEWS RUN DOWN

Detectives and patrolmen, the entire department having been on duty during the day, were dispatched throughout the city many times today in investigating the numerous clews that came to the attention of the police.

Tonight a squad of fourteen detectives are engaged in watching a rooming-house in the immediate vicinity of the government mint, where earlier in the day a car, evidently left on the street by the bandits to be used in case of accident to their own machine during the hold-up, was discovered through information furnished by a woman. The car had been stolen Sunday evening. It was equipped with a license tag stolen more than two weeks ago from the car of the Deputy County Clerk of Jefferson county at Golden.

The automobile, according to the woman, had been parked on the street by three men about an hour preceding the hold-up and subsequent gun fight on the front steps of the main entrance to the mint. The gasoline tank was well filled.

NO NEW LIGHT SEEN

Continued questioning of eye-witnesses and other persons throughout the day by Chief R. H. Williams and Captain of Detectives Washington Rinker failed to shed any additional light on the identity of the men responsible for the robbery.

That the robbery was accomplished by Denver bandits, and not by outside highwaymen, is the belief of Chief of Police Williams. The search for them is being conducted with that theory in mind, although every clew or bit of information that appears to be worthy of consideration regarding the escape of the bandits is being run down, declared Chief Williams tonight.

Roads leading into the mountains were thoroughly policed today by details of officers in an effort to find trace of the escaped men, but all searching parties reported to headquarters that their trips had been fruitless.

WATCH FOR BILLS

All stores in Denver and in adjoining cities are being checked today for possible appearance of the stolen bills. The numbers of the bills, all of $5 denomination, as given out by officials of the Federal Reserve Bank were from 20,852,001 to 20,876,000 from 20,940,001 to 20,956,000.

Proffers of assistance in running down the robbers have been received by police and Federal authorities from all parts of the country. Federal officers and criminologists representing the best-trained and keenest minds in the American man-hunting business are on their way to Denver to augment the work of local Secret Service agents, State officers and the police, it was announced.

SONS ON STAGE

Tom Linton, son of the slain guard, had to go on the stage at an Indianapolis theater last night and "play clown," despite his sorrow over the death of his father, according to a statement made here today by Mrs. Anne E. Linton, the widow. Young Linton, said his mother, is a comedian who just began a twenty-weeks engagement at Indianapolis with his own company. Mrs. Linton explained her son could not return to Denver for the funeral.

Harry Linton, another son, also is on the stage, and was forced to go through a comedy role last night at Scranton, Pa. Mrs. Linton said she believed her husband had a premonition of some dire event hours before the attack upon him.

LAST "GOOD-BY"

"For the first time in five years my husband failed to sleep well Sunday night," she declared. "He spent a restless night. In the morning I was in the kitchen when he called a "Good-by" to me. I told him:

"Don't say good-by, Daddy; you'll be back; just say 'Au Revoir.'"

Three hours later Mrs. Linton received a telephone message that sent her hurrying to the County Hospital. She declared today that just before her husband died he told her: "I was just locking the door of the car when the bandits surprised us. I saw them coming and I locked the door as they rushed.

"Why did you do that?" asked his wife.

"It was my duty," was her husband's answer.

Linton fired three shots before he fell. Mrs. Linton declared only a few days ago her husband had told her that he "wanted to die on his feet."

PLAYS UNDER STRAIN

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SCRANTON (Pa.) Dec. 19.—While he made hundreds of persons in a local theater laugh and applaud his lines and antics on the stage here last night, Harry Linton, actor, and son of the guard shot and killed by bandits in Denver, was almost breaking with grief.

Just before he went on the stage Linton received a message from his mother stating that his father had been killed by robbers who stole $200,000 in currency on its way from the United States mint.

Linton went through his act as usual, but after the performance started at once for Denver. The audience did not know the strain the actor was working under.

WOMAN BADLY HURT BY AUTO

Mrs. Marie Gearhart of 1148 West Thirty-seventh Drive was seriously and perhaps mortally hurt yesterday when an automobile struck her on Spring street. Her left arm was broken, she had a severe case of concussion of the brain and possible internal injuries. Dr. Saverin, at Receiving Hospital, said her recovery was doubtful. O. M. Davis of 1923 Atlantic street was driver of the car, the police say.

Montreal — Quebec
Where King Winter Holds Carnival

In this great fortress of good cheer, towering over the loveliest City of Old French Canada, you will learn with delight the true meaning and warmth of sincere old fashioned hospitality. A few hours outdoors in the keen, frosty, health-giving air tones up lagging vitality, gives a zest for skiing, skating, tobogganing and sleigh rides and whets the appetite for a big supper, a blazing log fire and a night of dreamless, delicious sleep.

Montreal, too, and its famous Hotel Place Viger has a great winter sport season and indoors the snug homelike well-appointed accommodations offer their inducement for a time of enjoyment and recreation.

SHIP LINES HIT LIQUOR RULING

Wickersham Holds Foreign Vessels Within Law

Declares Lower Court Erred on Five Points

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
[Copyright, 1922, Public Ledger.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Foreign vessels holding intoxicating liquor for their crews and passengers as ships stores are not violating the Eighteenth Amendment or the Volstead Act, George W. Wickersham, former Attorney-General of the United States contended in a brief filed today with the Supreme Court. The argument was made in behalf of ten foreign steamship lines against the decision of Judge Learned Hand of the Southern District of New York upholding the Daugherty decision that prohibition applied to foreign vessels within the three-mile limit as well as American vessels on the high seas.

The Daugherty ruling comes up for argument in the Supreme Court, January 2 on an appeal from the decision of Judge Hand.

Judge Hand in his decision held the carriage of liquor as a part of ship stores within the waters of the United States although not delivered to any person within those waters, was "transportation" within the meaning of the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Enforcement Act. His second point was that the case of Street versus the Lincoln Safe Deposit Company did not apply.

HOLDS COURT ERRED

In his brief Mr. Wickersham held that the court erred on the five points in holding the Eighteenth Amendment or the Volstead Act prohibits a foreign ship from keeping on board while in territorial waters of the United States intoxicating beverages constituting part of the customary sea stores of such a ship, lawfully acquired by it in a foreign jurisdiction, and on board said ship outside of the jurisdiction of the United States.

Mr Wickersham sought to show by quoting from numerous decisions and the congressional debate on the prohibition law that neither the Eighteenth Amendment nor the National Prohibition Act properly construed, require the application of prohibition to every place wherever the United States may exercise its power. He pointed out that special provision was made for applying the law to the territory of Hawaii and the Virgin Islands.

REVIEWS CASE

At some length Mr. Wickersham reviewed the jurisdiction exercised by a State over foreign vessels within her waters to show that a foreign ship temporarily within the waters of the United States is "not territorially subject to the jurisdiction of the United States within the meaning of the Eighteenth Amendment and the National Prohibition Act."

"The courts," he said, in summing up his third argument, "will never give a construction to a statute contrary to international law or the accepted custom and usage of civilized nations, when it is possible reasonably to construe it in any other manner."

He quoted many authorities in an attempt to show that sea stores on merchant ships are considered as part of the ship itself and always have been exempted from tariff and other laws affecting merchandise introduced into the country. In exemplification of this point as applied to the question at issue he developed as his fifth point the following:

"Even if the foreign steamships within American ports or waters should be considered as territory subject to the jurisdiction of the United States nevertheless the carriage of intoxicating liquors as part of their sea stores under the circumstances described in the bill is not a violation of the amendment or the statute."

"Hands and Ships Across the Sea to Hawaii" is the title of an entertaining and instructive article in the Midwinter Number of The Times, out January 1.

DRY RAID HELD ILLEGAL

Search Warrants Must Issue Rules U. S. Judge; Constitution Protects Private Citizens, He Declares

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 19.—Declaring that United States prohibition agents violated the Fourth Amendment of the Constitution in making raids without proper search warrants Judge Thompson in the United States District Court today dismissed two liquor cases involving several hundred thousand dollars.

Liquor and wines valued at $300,000 were ordered returned to the warehouse of J. L. Lipschutz, where they had been seized by dry agents. Stills, copper coils, malt extract, whisky flavoring and accessories worth many thousands were ordered returned to the Atlantic Food Products Company, from which place they had been taken.

Judge Thompson ruled that the dry agents had invaded the individual rights of citizens as guaranteed under the Fourth Amendment, regulating the right of seizure.

"In many prosecutions against violators of the prohibition act," said the court, "evidence canont be obtained except upon a search warrant. The legality of the search warrant, therefore, becomes the very foundation upon which the successful prosecution of the guilty depends.

"The constitutional rights of the individual under the Fourth Amendment must be equally enforced in favor of the guilty and the innocent unless sufficient facts are shown under oath to support the finding of the probable cause.

"The right of a person to be secure from unreasonable searches and seizures must not be violated."

APPROVAL OF VETO IS ASKED

Property Owners Protesting Hospital Frontage to Visit City Council

Hollywood property owners are expected to be present at the City Council session this morning to urge Mayor Cryer's veto of the ordinance permitting the Hollywood Hospital Company to use all of its 620-foot lot on Vermont avenue at Fountain street for a new $500,000 hospital be sustained.

Under the present zoning laws, the company would be permitted to use about one-fourth of the lot for the hospital. Physicians who organized the hospital company desire to use the entire property.

Many of the adjacent property owners contend that while Hollywood welcomes the hospital, it should be located elsewhere than on Vermont avenue.

The City Council weeks ago sustained the property owners' protests and then unexpectedly reconsidered the matter and changed the zoning laws during Mayor Cryer's absence. Acting Mayor Criswell was enjoined by the courts from signing the ordinance.

Monday evening Mayor Cryer vetoed the ordinance, on the ground the property owners had not been given an opportunity to state their objections to the City Council before final action was taken.

John Kissel; Your Wallet's Under Arrest

If a man believed to be John G. Kissell, who got off a Salt Lake Railroad train yesterday and boarded a street car in front of the depot, reads this notice and comes to the Central Police Station, First street near Broadway, he may learn something to his advantage.

Lieut. O'Brien and Detective Seargeants Reed and Trainor were watching the vicinity of the station when they saw, they say, Sam Gordon and H. F. Harvey, whom they had seen before, board a street car and lift a wallet from the pocket of the man believed to be Kissell. Then Messrs. Gordon and Harvey got off the street car, got into an automobile, and made speed away.

The police pursued Messrs. Gordon and Harvey in one direction and the street car carried the man believed to be Kissell in the other, still apparently unconscious of his loss. The police caught Messrs. Gordon and Harvey and found the wallet in their possession. It contained $30, Mr. Kissell's card and some other papers. Up to a late hour last night the police had not located Mr. Kissell.

Two Fined at Venice for Dry Law Violations

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, Dec. 19.—Five men arrested Sunday night in a series of raids faced Justice Rennie today. Two of the men, R. Tamsley and H. McLaren, pleaded guilty to violating the dry laws. Tamsley was fined $600 on two counts, charging him with having and selling liquor. McLaren pleaded guilty to having liquor in his possession and was fined $25.

The three other men, Pete Garretson, C. Hansler and Van Dansfield, all pleaded not guilty. Garretson's case was continued until Tuesday and Dansfield's until Thursday. Hansler will have his hearing on Jan. 3, 1923. They are all charged with having and selling liquor.

MOTHER HID BRIDE, HUSBAND TESTIFIES

Mother put her foot down and squashed the romance of Roy F. Lee and Vesta G. Lee, his wife, it appeared from the husband's testimony before Judge Summerfield yesterday. The pair went to Santa Ana and were married, went to the bride's home at once, and that is the last Roy saw of Vesta.

"All I know is her mother wouldn't let her come to me," Lee said.

Judge Summerfield adjourned the case to January 9 and ordered that Mrs. Lee appear in court. The husband seeks a divorce on the ground of desertion.

PROBATION DENIED

Court Refuses Plea Because of Bad Record

When a probation officer reported that Raymond Razillard had admitted ten burglaries in Los Angeles in six weeks, Judge Shenk denied his plea for probation and sent him to San Quentin for one to fifteen years. Razillard had pleaded guilty to burglary. He has a wife and three children in San Francisco.

POOR TOTS ASK SANTA FOR FOOD

Necessities Come First in Christmas Letters Sent to Shriners

The wants of poor children are simple, and they are unused to toys and expensive gifts, the Shriners' Santa Claus has discovered. The letters that come to Relief Headquarters, 1040 South Broadway, call mainly for food and clothing and substantial necessities.

The Shriners' Relief Committee needs many gifts to answer its pathetic appeals for aid, which have been investigated and found deserving. One of the needs for Christmas baskets is beans, and others are rice, sugar, breakfast foods and canned goods. Contributors are urged to send such supplies in at once so that no appeals for Christmas baskets may go unanswered.

"I would just love a pretty dress like some of the girls wear and a sweater," wrote one little 10-year-old who added she "liked to look nice." She asked also for toys for her 5-year-old brother, who "has only a ball—that's all he's got" and "would need a suit of clothes if you could spare one."

"Our house got burnt so we can't live in it," wrote another little girl, "We haven't got a father either. I have a sister, a brothr, a mother and poor old aged grandmother. Please give us something for Christmas dinner. And if you can, please give us a doll."

HIGH DUES FOR CLUBS AN EXCUSE

"Wives Come First," Court Says in Alimony Hearing, as He Boosts Amount

Eugene M. Berger, head of an accounting firm, was before Judge Summerfield yesterday in alimony proceedings. When asked his financial ability to pay his wife, Agnese N. Berger, an increased alimony, he told the court his expenses were high. He said he was a member of the City Club, Brentwood Country Club and the Los Angeles Athletic Club and the dues were high. Judge Summerfield wrinkled his judicial brow and said:

"You belong to too many clubs. Wives come first."

"But this is a business requirement," replied Mr. Berger. "I make friends and acquaintances in these clubs."

Asked as to his other holdings, he said he had an oil prospect, some cash in bank and the furniture in the home his wife occupied.

Attorney Ellis, his counsel, drew out the fact that he had received in sixteen months $6692, and supplemented it with the remark: "Out of that sum he has saved a few small items. So you perceive my client has not much left for alimony. He is paying his wife $25 a week."

Judge Summerfield, looking H. C. L. in the face, fixed the order at $30 a week.

YOUTH CRUSHED IN COTTON PRESS DIES

Frank Seaman, aged 24 years, whose head was caught yesterday between the rolls of the municipal cotton press at Los Angeles Harbor, died last night at 6 o'clock. Seaman's head and shoulders were crushed badly. He was taken to the Hillside Hospital.

Peter Anderson, aged 19 years, a longshoreman working on the steamship Melville Dollar, was hurt badly when three steel plates fell on him. His shoulder and both legs were crushed and it was said at the Hillside Hospital that he would probably die.

Missing Youths Are Sought by Sheriff's Office

Search for five youths, missing since Sunday, was started by deputy sheriffs yesterday.

The youths, who range in age from 16 to 20 years, left in a small car for Mt. Wilson early Sunday morning. They were to return that evening, but nothing has been heard of them since they left. They are Francis Schuler, William Burnham, Thomas Cleveland and John and Howard Frost.

A. F. Schuler, father of Francis, told the Sheriff's office the trip had been arranged by his son. He fears that the boys have met with an accident.

Chinese and Other Oriental Rugs

Here is another example of our ability to sell quality merchandise in our comparatively inexpensive but easily accessible location at lower prices.

Chinese and other rugs from the Orient in the smaller sizes are especially suitable for Christmas Gifts because they can be used most anywhere in the house for "throws," etc., in addition to rugs already in use. Our stock offers a wide choice in smaller sizes and a choice assortment of room sizes.

Store open Friday evening, also Saturday afternoon and evening until 9 o'clock this week.

Chinese Rugs
—Much less than rugs of this quality usually cost. Excellent patterns and colors. Extra large sizes, and wanted dark blue ground, in addition to these small sizes.

Size	Price
4x2	$37.50
5x3	$50.00
6x3.2	$72.50
7x4	$107.50
3x12	$225.00

Hamadan Rugs
Particularly choice patterns and rich colorings. Bought so low that we are enabled to price them but a little above the cost of the best domestic rugs—with their vastly longer wear they are less expensive in the long run.

Size	Price
3.7x2.10	$24.50
4x2.7	$27.50
4.2x2.10	$29.00

Beloochistan Rugs

OBREGON HITS AT SOCIALISM

National Marine in Gulf is Transferred

Fascisti Movement Gaining Ground Daily

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 19.—The movement for unity of the middle and upper classes against the Bolsheviks and extreme Socialists, upon which the revolutionary governments of Mexico have leaned in the last ten years, took another turn yesterday when the French Chamber of Commerce called for members to unite and protect themselves against robberies to which they have been subjected in the last several years. The French will act in a solid body to choke off grafters and parasites who are feeding on business interests.

It is understood that other chambers of commerce will follow suit, ultimately forming a solid body for the protection of commerce and trade industries. It is believed to be part of the Fascisti movement which is daily gaining ground.

AMERICAN SENTENCED

Another sign that the Mexican government is withdrawing from the ranks of the Socialists was noticed yesterday in an arrangement to transfer the national marine in the Gulf of Mexico to a privately organized company, which agrees to invest heavy sums of money for building up and maintaining ships under the Mexican flag.

Charles Carnes, an American, well known here, has been sentenced to eight months in prison by the Criminal Court at Puebla on a charge of killing Jose Hernandez in Puebla several months ago. Mr. Carnes, whose parents are American, has lived in this city since he was a boy. He is a graduate of the American colony school and he attended college in the United States.

REBEL CALLED TO ARMY

Manuel Palaez, once the ruler of the Tampico oil region, where he defied the authority of the Mexican government at will, has been summoned to report immediately to Mexico City as a member of the Federal army. One report says he has been offered an important government position. Another report says his reported rebel activities are the occasion for his recall.

Gov. Gonzales of the State of Coahuila has refused to obey a Federal government order to permit opposition Deputies to enter the local Congress, which remains guarded heavily by State troops. President Obregon, through the Department of the Interior, placed the Coahuila matter before the Federal Congress, which will proceed to impeach the Governor. In the meantime Federal troops are ready at a moment's notice to interfere at Saltillo, the capital of the State, for the maintenance of order.

STRIKE DECLARED FAILURE

Electrical Contractors Assert Unionists' Places Are Being Filled Without Difficulty

A strike called by union electricians Saturday to enforce their demands for a wage increase from $8 to $10 per day is having no effect upon Los Angeles's building program, according to F. J. Zeehandelaar, of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association.

Los Angeles' open-shop plan and the fact that building operations are continuous here the entire year tend to attract skilled artisans to this city from the north and East, Mr. Zeehandelaar declares, so that the places of the striking electricians are being filled rapidly.

"The electrical contractors have formed a division of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association, and are now about 98 per cent organized to combat the unjust demands of the electricians' union," Mr. Zeehandelaar asserted yesterday. "Daily conferences are being held among the contractors, and between a committee of the contractors and the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association.

"The strike of the electricians has not materially affected the contractors, as there are a great many men who are daily applying for work and who have taken the places of the strikers. The exorbitant demands made by the unions have not met with the sanction or approval of organized labor generally, as it has been realized that the strike is doomed to failure and will seriously affect the activities of other craft unions.

"The wages now paid to the electricians in this city are higher than in any city in the United States, and a great many of the men who are steadily employed aggregate from $2400 to $2750 per annum.

Owing to our tremendous building program and open-shop conditions, many skilled mechanics are being attracted to this city, and the places of the strikers are being easily filled.

"The Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association is lending moral support to the contractors to the fullest extent."

Another meeting will be held at the offices of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association in the Van Nuys Building today at 10 a.m.

Locked Door so Hubby Made His Exit Otherwise

"It was the greatest surprise in the world to me," said Mrs. Jacquetta Cole yesterday, testifying in her suit for divorce before Judge Summerfield. "He broke a window and shoved his trunk right out through it, and then he went away."

"Why did he do that?" asked Judge Summerfield. "Why didn't he use the door?"

"Well, I had locked the door," Mrs. Cole admitted reluctantly.

Judge Summerfield granted a decree and ordered Robert M. Cole, the husband, to pay $30 a month alimony for a year.

Too Many Eggs So He Cancels Regular Order

He was King of Morania and, after a day of eggs, he decided that the air of Chicago would be more healthful. It's all part of "Adam's Rib," the new Cecil B. De Mille Paramount picture by Jeanie Macpherson, which features Milton Sills, Elliott Dexter, Theodore Kosloff, Anna Q. Nilsson and Pauline Garon.

NIGHT WORK ON STREETS EFFECTIVE

Water Bureau's Practice Urged in Improvement of Public Utilities

Indicating a way out of the vexing problem of excavating downtown business streets for public utility improvements, it was pointed out in a statement filed yesterday with the Board of Public Service Commissioners that the municipal Water Bureau has long followed the practice of carrying out this work during the night hours and on Sundays.

In a communication filed with the Board by Chief Engineer William Mulholland and Chief Electrical Engineer E. F. Scattergood, attention was drawn to the fact that the Water Bureau, many years ago, voluntarily adopted the practice of doing downtown street excavation work almost exclusively during the night and on Sundays, in order to interfere as little as possible with vehicular and pedestrian traffic. This program, it was pointed out by Mr. Mulholland, also enables the Water Bureau to push forward its work more efficiently and without the interruptions that would be occasioned by heavy moving traffic.

Proof that excavation work, incidental to public utility improvements, may be completed without inconveniencing the public was furnished by the accomplishment by the Bureau of Water Works and Supply last summer in laying a new sixteen-inch water main along Broadway from Fourth to Eighth streets without interrupting street traffic in any direction for a single moment. The work was completed in record time, three shifts of workmen laboring continuously twenty-four hours a day.

The extensive work throughout the downtown business area recently carried out by the Bureau of Power and Light because of the necessity of extending new electric cables to meet increased power needs is also being done during the night hours as much as possible, Mr. Scattergood stated. Because of the emergency nature of some of this work, it has been necessary to carry on the work both day and night.

Chauffeur Said to Have Broken Nine Ordinances

Only three speeders went to jail yesterday. They were all sentenced by Police Judge Chambers. E. S. Harwood got three days for going thirty miles an hour on Pasadena Boulevard; J. P. Rovinsal, two days for passing a standing street car, and S. Abbatte, one day for speeding.

Mrs. W. C. Schuckcroy was found guilty of speeding at the rate of thirty-one miles an hour on Washington Boulevard and will be sentenced by Police Judge Chambers at 9 a.m. today. William Slager, a chauffeur, was haled before Justice Chambers on charges of violating nine traffic ordinances and pleaded guilty to two of the charges. He was fined $5 and will be tried on the remaining seven charges on January 15.

WIFE WENT HUNGRY, SHE SAYS IN SUIT

Charging that her husband starved her, Mrs. Mary Gladys Cole filed suit for divorce against John J. Cole yesterday. Mrs. Cole asserts that although her husband earned a good salary he refused to buy sufficient food to keep her in good health, and that as a result of his tactics she was ill a good part of their married life.

She also charges that her husband was jealous of the ice and laundry man, although he had no justification. The couple were married in February of this year and separated on the 9th inst.

DOZEN TONS OF TNT EXPLODED

Giant Charge Breaks Up Huge Rock Ledge in Washington

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

YAKIMA (Wash. Dec. 19. Promptly at 1 o'clock today a twelve-ton charge of TNT was set off at the government construction camp at Rimrock, and a huge ledge of rock, estimated to weigh 60,000 tons, was heaved outward and upward, and then gradually slid into the Tieton River. The rock later will be piled up against the core wall of the Rimrock dam, to be the largest earth-fill dam ever constructed in the United States.

HERRIN HORROR VICTIM IS HEARD

One Survivor of Savagery at Mine Testifies

Cold-Blooded Killings Are Recounted by Witness

Book-keeper Tells of Events at Murder Scene

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MARION (Ill.) Dec. 19.—The first survivor to take the witness stand, Robert Officer, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, testified today at the trial of five men charged with murder in connection with the killing of twenty nonunion men in the Herrin riot.

Officer, a book-keeper at the "strip" mine, where the trouble started, told of the attack on the property the afternoon of June 21, when three union miners were shot and killed.

Both Officer and Col. Sam Hunter of the Adjutant-General's office in Springfield, another witness, said there were no agreements between the nonunion workers and the local officials of the United Mine Workers for a truce and a safe conduct of the besieged workers out of the district.

TRIED TO ARRANGE TRUCE

Col. Hunter said that he had tried to arrange such a truce while acting in a purely personal capacity, having come down from Springfield when he heard of the trouble.

Officer said that Col. Hunter had talked to him over the telephone and said that W. J. Lester, the owner, had authorized the surrender of the property.

Just before nightfall, the witness testified, those in the mine raised a white flag, but the sniping from surrounding hills continued all night and the flag was lowered at daybreak, when the nonunion men took refuge in some freight cars. Then the fierceness of the attack increased and the besieged decided to surrender, raising a white flag, he said.

After being assured of their safety, according to the witness, the forty-eight nonunion men were led from the mine, C. K. McDowell, the superintendent limping painfully along on his wooden leg. The crowd constantly increased, and Officer quoted one of its leaders, whom he could not identify, as shouting:

WE'VE GOT TO KILL THEM

"They're nothing but strikebreakers and we've got to kill them!"

About a mile from the mine, the witness said, Dowell was led away by two men. Other witnesses have testified that the crippled superintendent was slain at this point. Then the crowd marched about two miles further on, where it lined the remaining forty-seven prisoners up before a barbed-wire fence in front of a clump of woods, Officer said.

"We're going to give you a chance for your lives," he quoted one of the leaders as shouting, and then the firing began.

Officer said he dropped at the first discharge and rolled under the fence, fleeing while the crowd was hunting down those who had escaped the rain of lead. He described the crowd as "howling like wolves," but this was stricken from the record on an objection by the defense.

HUNTED LIKE ANIMALS

"Only those who have guns can enter the woods," the witness said he heard one of the mob leaders cry. It was at the barbed wire that other witnesses have testified fourteen bodies were found. Four others, according to the testimony, were found in another clump of woods a short distance away, having been shot down as they fled. Six other fugitives were captured and driven through the streets of Herrin and shot down at a cemetery just outside the town, he said. The distance from the mine to the cemetery has been given as approximately six and one-half miles. The time of the start from the mine has been placed at 6:40 a.m. and the shooting at the cemetery at 9 a.m. to 10:30 a.m.

Under a severe cross-examination, young Officer said there were forty-five workers in the pit and about twenty-five guards all of whom had been brought from Chicago at the time of the riots. He said he was at present employed in a Kentucky mine in which W. J. Lester has an interest.

Officer said that McDowell had dealt out arms and ammunition which the men used in the mine at the time of the first attack and admitted that he himself had a gun.

Officer was on the stand most of the day, his cross-examination taking up all of the morning session of court, which adjourned at 4:40 p.m. with the witness still on the stand.

ECONOMISTS SUPPORT STABILIZATION BILL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Eminent economists yesterday urged the House Banking and Currency Committee to consider the Goldborough dollar stabilization bill as the most feasible method of preventing the "curse" of fluctuations in the purchasing power of money.

Dr. Irving Fisher, professor of political economy at Yale University, warned the committee the present rapid rise and fall of prices was caused by an instability of money which would lead to class conflict. Dr. Fisher and Prof. John L. Rogers, of Cornell University, advocated immediate report of the bill to the House, although the measure's warmest friends doubt whether the committee would favor reporting it and believe neither the present House nor Senate would pass it.

Representative Goldsborough, Democrat of Maryland, its author, predicts its chances of passage by the next Congress will be good.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, Dec. 19.—Relatives of the American soldiers who lost their lives in the Otranto disaster may expect nothing in the way of damages from the British steamship line if the decision of the British court just promulgated stands. The court had previously held that the Peninsular and Oriental Line, owners of the Kasmir, which collided with the Otranto, was liable for approximately $300,000.

Last May the United States government brought an action in the British courts on behalf of Mary Trimpe against the Peninsular and Oriental Line for damages for the loss of her son Julius. The court ruled that under the War Time Conventions Act, and limitation of decrees the case had no standing in court in that it was filed too late, but the Judge granted "liberty of appeal."

Wife Says Husband Told Her He Had Been Divorced in Denmark

A mythical divorce in Denmark figured in the matrimonial experiences of Eric Von Ritzen, a motion-picture actor, his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Pauling Von Ritzen, testified yesterday before Judge Summerfield, who granted her a decree of divorce.

"We were married in 1915," she said, "and he told me about his first wife and said he had divorced her before he came over. Then his eldest son came over for a visit and I found out he hadn't been divorced at all."

Noticias de Washington

WASHINGTON, dbre. 19.—El Presidente y el Ministro Hughes no podrán resolver si los Estados Unidos se hallaran en aptitud de prestar su ayuda para el arreglo de la cuestión de reparaciones alemanas, hasta que puedan conferenciar con el Embajador Harvey, que se embarca rumbo a este país el 23 de los corrientes.

Ha dimitido el Sr. Mapes, Recaudador de Renta Interior, que relevó a los peritos en propiedad raíz del impuesto sobre crecidos honorarios en la ciudad.

Los demócratas han demorado por la fuerza lo votación sobre la proposición de Norris de hacer a un lado el proyecto de ley de subsidio a barcos, para ocuparse en el de la corporación de cien millones de dólares para la compra de productos agrícolas.

Crece la oposición a la resolución de que se enmiendo la constitución en el sentido de prohibir los valores exentos de impuestos. Tal vez no obtenga las dos terceras partes de votos que se necesitan.

Wickersham, en representación de diez compañías extranjeras de vapores, ha presentado un escrito a la Suprema Corte, protestando contra la decisión del Juez Hand, que hace extensiva la prohibición a los barcos que toquen puertos americanos.

Construcción de un Costoso Club Femenino

SAN FRANCISCO, dbre. 19.—La Junta Directiva de la Liga Nacional de Servicios Femeninos ha cerrado trato aquí para la compra de un lote en el centro, sobre el que se construirá un club que va a costar $1,000,000. Esta Liga tiene 2000 señoras como miembros, que pertenecen a los grupos profesional y de negocios.

Se Confiscan Drogas por Valor de $100,000

NUEVA YORK, dbre. 19.—Hoy fueron decomisadas por las autoridades drogas valoradas en $100,000, que venían escondidas en barriles de pescado, a bordo del vapor francés Fenchurch, en su muelle de Brooklyn.

Se Aplaca el Frío en el Norte

CHICAGO, dbre. 19.—El término de la primera fiera ofensiva del invierno en la región de los lagos inferiores ha venido marcado por temperaturas lentamente crecientes. Se predice que los termómetros irán subiendo poco a poco en los estados del noroeste, pero habrá ondas frías para Pensilvania, Nueva York y la Nueva Inglaterra. Chicago se estaba recobrando hoy del terrible frío de ayer, el más fuerte del año, y que dejó como recuerdo dos muertos y más de setenta quejosos de la frialdad de las habitaciones.

NOTAS LOCALES

Aprehenden Seis en los Raids

Un gran rodeo llevado a cabo ayer, en el que hubo raids de oficiales federales y del Condado, y de detectives particulares, dió por resultado la captura de seis presuntos miembros de una cuadrilla a la que se atribuyen robos de bancos, robos con fractura, atracos de tranvías, contrabandos y "bootlegging", y la recuperación de lo que se cree es parte del botín sacado del Fillmore State Bank en Piru. Dicen los gendarmes que un ex-vaquero de cine es el jefe de la cuadrilla referida.

Todo el día y toda la noche trabajaron los gendarmes en estas pesquisas, penetrando a seis lugares y arrestando a seis personas por pretendida complicidad en el robo al banco. Como $6000 y 2000 órdenes postales en blanco, que han sido identificadas como botín de Piru, fueron recobrados, a la vez que se obtuvieron pruebas de varios atracos de tranvías. Dicen los policías que tres hombres están ya confesos.

La Suprema Corte del Estado revocó ayer la orden la Comisión de Ferrocarriles del Estado, relativa a que los principales ferrocarriles que entran a Los Angeles se reunieran para construir una estación central terminal de viajeros en la vieja plaza. Tal dice un despacho de Sacramento llegado anoche. Esta decisión pone estorbo a la más importanto de las mejoras que estaba por emprenderse en esta ciudad, mejora por la que el tráfico de viajeros se concentraría para conveniencia del público, se eliminarían los pasos a nivel, yla ciudad tendría una terminal semejante a las de las grandes ciudades del este.

La Suprema Corte opinó que la Comisión de Ferrocarriles se había excedido en su jurisdicción al ordenar se llevase a cabo este proyecto. Esto fué lo que alegaron los funcionarios ferrocarrileros cuando apelaron el enero de la orden de la Comisión. Dicha orden había sido expedida el 26 de abril del próximo pasado.

Al salir del sanatorio de Hollywood, regresó el Sr. Hays a sus habitaciones del Ambassador. Pudo ver que el Sr. Reid se halla entre la vida y la muerte, de resultas, según afirma su familia, de la lucha que ha tenido que sostener para librarse de su afición a las drogas y al licor. El Sr. Hays espera que pronto se recobre el paciente, y le desea un feliz año nuevo.

DEPORTES

Balompié

Es posible que tres de los jugadores ases de Stanford tengan que pasar el juego de Pittsburg en los bancos. Murray, Wilcox y De Groot son los tres muchachos que quizá no compitan en el gran juego de diciembre 30. A causa de lastimaduras, y debido a que han adelantado notablemente otros muchachos de segundo plano, los citados no iniciarán probablemente el partido. La rodilla de Wilcox anda medio mal, por lo que Normand Cleveland figurará tal vez en las filas, para que los Cardenales tengan un buen pateador.

El equipo de Gonzaga que va a jugar el día de Navidad contra la Universidad de Virginia Occidental es gran experto en los pases. En esta clase de juego no tienen quien les supere en ningún colegio del país. Toda la fuerza del personal de instructores de Gonzaga se ha dedicado a esa parte del juego. Este equipo emplea no solo el pase común hacia adelante, sino que pone en práctica toda clase de juegos de treta, ya del pase completo, ó del imitado. Con estos medios de ataque, han podido lograr grandes anotaciones contra sus adversarios.

Los Leones de Nittany tomarán un día de vacaciones en Navidad, e irán a San Diego, donde presenciarán el partido Gonzaga-Virginia Occidental. A uno le parecería que estos muchachos deberían estar hartos de futbol, pero la verdad es que su mayor deleite es observar un juego desde las líneas laterales, siempre que no sea su equipo el que estén observando.

El equipo de balompié de la Universidad de California tuvo activa práctica ayer tarde en el campo Bovard. El equipo troyano se ve ya muy rápido, y por lo que se puede apreciar, tenemos en perspectiva un gran juego para el primero del año.

LOS ANGELES RADIO IS HEARD IN FRANCE

VICE-PRESIDENT, WAR AND NAVY SECRETARIES WILL BE HEARD CHRISTMAS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

HARTFORD (Ct.) Dec. 19—For the first time during the three annual trans-Atlantic tests of the American Radio Relay League, an amateur radio station has succeeded in crossing the continent and the Atlantic as well. It was announced at League headquarters here today that station 6KAY, operated by F. E. Kikirk, 1050 West Eighty-ninth street, Los Angeles, was heard yesterday by radio amateurs in France.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Vice-President Coolidge, Secretary Weeks and Secretary Denby, it was announced tonight, will deliver radio addresses to the American public on Christmas eve when their voices, reproduced by a new electrical and photographic invention on a motion-picture film, will be broadcast by the General Electric Company at Schenectady, N.Y. Although the speakers will be hundreds of miles away from the broadcasting station, it is declared their voices, which have been reproduced in advance on the films, will be heard as clearly as though they were speaking directly into the instruments. The broadcasting will be at 7:30 and 10:30 p.m., on a wave length of 400 meters.

Two Women, Man Victims of Footpads

Two women and one man were attacked by footpads last night, two receiving injuries which were treated at the Receiving Hospital.

Miss Leota Leach, who lives at the Clark Memorial Home, was on her way there last night when a burly negro held her up and took $9.

Mrs. Martha Waite, 1505½ Temple street, was attacked by a footpad in front of a house owned by D. J. MacDougall, 706 Echo Park avenue. The screams of herself and her 7-year-old daughter, who was with her, attracted the attention of Mr. MacDougall. The assailant fled as Mr. MacDougall ran out of the house. Mrs. Waite was treated at the Receiving Hospital for lacerations of the scalp.

Lee On Wong, Chinese, 344 Apablasa street, was attacked by two men while walking near his home and badly beaten before his shouts brought Patrolman Pomeroy to his assistance. The bandits fled without robbing him.

NEWS OF MIDDLE WEST IN BRIEF

AKRON, Dec. 19.—A golden eagle, said to be responsible for the disappearance of many young lambs and the first ever seen in the vicinity of New Lexington, was shot and captured by William White, near Corning, Perry county, recently. The bird measured 82 inches from tip to tip and is only two-thirds grown. State Game Warden Bailey today learned of its capture and placed White under arrest.

Chillicothe is to have a new hotel, the FitzLouis. It is to be erected by New York capital at a cost of $400,000. The site for the building is the northeast corner of Paint and Fourth streets.

Re-enactment of the Fouts special one-eighth mill levy to provide building relief and appropriation increases to permit faculty growth in proportion to that of enrollment are chief among the requests trustees of Ohio State University will make of the new Ohio Legislature when it convenes in January. The university will ask for $9,236,405 to cover its needs, until the middle of 1925.

MILWAUKEE

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 19.—A modern, nine-story fireproof structure is to be erected on the site of the present Hotel Racine, at Racine, according to plans completed today. The cost of the building, which is to have a hotel capacity of 245 rooms, is said to approximate $2,400,000. Building operations will commence in from sixty to ninety days.

Yesterday was "civic morals" day in Greenbay churches, when practically every pastor connected with the Ministerial Association inaugurated the drive for a moral clean-up of Brown county, centering their efforts on roadhouses and country dance halls.

Suffering from a fractured collar bone and internal injuries John Roberts, age 30, driver of an interurban bus, crawled from behind the steering wheel of his wrecked car to put out flames that were leaping from the hood and saved the lives of eleven passengers, including five schoolgirls who were imprisoned in the bus when it overturned in a ditch southwest of Stevens Point.

KANSAS CITY

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 19.—The Longdon district and, in fact, all Elk county is wild with excitement, due to the bringing in of a 1000-barrel "wild cat" oil well. According to reports received at Wichita, Kan., J. B. Jones and W. F. Braden and associates of Independence have drilled in the biggest oil producing well ever brought in in Elk county and one of the largest in Kansas in months.

After a twenty-year absence from his home, his wife and children, James Evans, one-time Sheriff of Stoddard county, who lived near Bloomfield, returned home a few days ago to die. He was brought home after he telegraphed his wife his whereabouts from Texas. He died taking with him the silence in which twenty years of his life were shrouded.

Conway Marshall of Garnett, Kan., died last night. He was 82 years old and had lived in Anderson county about sixty years. He served two terms as Sheriff, was also County Treasurer and Democratic candidate for State Treasurer twice.

ST. PAUL

ST. PAUL, Dec. 19.—Baudette is the county seat of the new Lake of the Woods county according to a decision of the County Board of Commissioners. Creation of the new county was approved at the general election. At their first business session today the County Commissioners appointed county officers for the next two years.

R. R. Wise of Brainerd was elected president of the Ten Thousand Lakes Association of Minnesota at the opening session of the sixth annual convention at Duluth.

Mrs. A. Severance, Cedarhurst, Cottage Grove will leave Monday January 1 for Pasadena Cal., where she will spend the winter months.

MINNEAPOLIS

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 19.—Closing of a tunnel between five tanks containing 1,000,000 gallons of oil and the main building of the Republic Creosote Company, St. Louis Park, near here, prevented explosions and checked the spread of flames which yesterday threatened to destroy the plant. The loss is placed at $100,000.

The County Board at Aitkin is advertising for bids for the erection of a new Courthouse. It will be a three-story brick building and of fireproof construction. Tax for building fund was levied during the last three years.

George and Jesse Knox of Minneapolis, who went on trial last week at Buffalo, Minn., for the murder of Marshal Rudolph Mauer of South Haven, were acquitted by a jury in District Court today. Fifteen ballots were taken. The jury deliberated 24 hours.

DES MOINES

DES MOINES, Dec. 19.—Developments yesterday indicate there will be no bidders for the bonus bonds on January 9 unless the validity of the bonds has been settled by a court suit in the meantime.

An ordinance was passed which provided that the name of Frase Park be changed to McHenry Park. The new name was chosen out of honor to Capt. Harrison C. McHenry, who was killed in the World War.

Placing of 1028 highway markers on roads leading into Cedar Rapids has been completed by the Chamber of Commerce as one of the improvements of the community and one which, the chamber declared, goes other middle western cities "one better." A total of 16,000 square miles of territory, of which Cedar Rapids is the center, has been covered with the signs.

INDIANAPOLIS

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 19.—The State Department of Conservation has indorsed the Patoka-Wabash $1,110,364 levee project in Gibson and Posey counties. The report submitting the approval says more than 62,000 acres would be benefited by the project and that land values would be increased from 100 to 150 per cent.

Work has been started on the erection of the large power plant of the Indiana Electric Company on the banks of the Wabash River, nine miles south of Terre Haute.

Gov. McCray has sold one of his two Morgan county farms, known as the Webb farm, situated three miles south of Mooresville, to Edward Burns, a Chicago capitalist, for $100,000.

A general increase in employment is noted at this time in all parts of Indiana, the Federal Department of Labor reports.

DENVER

DENVER, Dec. 19.—Nine tracts of land in various parts of the city have been designated by the Denver school board as locations for new school buildings and the greater portion of the land has already been bought. New buildings, the construction of which was authorized when the taxpayers of the city voted the $6,150,000 school bond issue on October 10, will be erected on the land that is now being purchased.

DETROIT

DETROIT, Dec. 19.—The State will investigate the cases of not only the four Detroit brokers ousted by the Detroit stock exchange, but also the seven firms the exchange acquitted in its investigation.

James H. Hatfield, formerly one of the leading industrial figures of Kalamazoo, is dead. The Kalamazoo Corset Company, founded by him in 1899 and employing 1000 persons, was wrecked by the great strikes of 1911 and 1912. In 1915 he organized the National Corset Company. He was 67 years old.

Dr. David Friday, president of the Michigan Agricultural College, will investigate the milk business in Detroit to see if it is possible to reduce the price below 14 cents a quart. He said he hoped to be able to get it down to 12 cents.

ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 19.—The slippery condition of the streets last night was reported by the police as a cause of eighteen automobile accidents in which no one was injured and six which caused injury to nine persons.

Because of his ill health, Ernest A. Koerner, former president of the Merchants Catering Company, who was sentenced to pay a fine of $1000 and to serve five months in the County Jail for selling liquor, will not be compelled to serve his term. He has agreed to pay the fine.

Figures compiled by J. W. Morris, superintendent of the State Free Employment Bureau, show that 5000 unemployed men are in St. Joseph as the Yuletide season approaches.

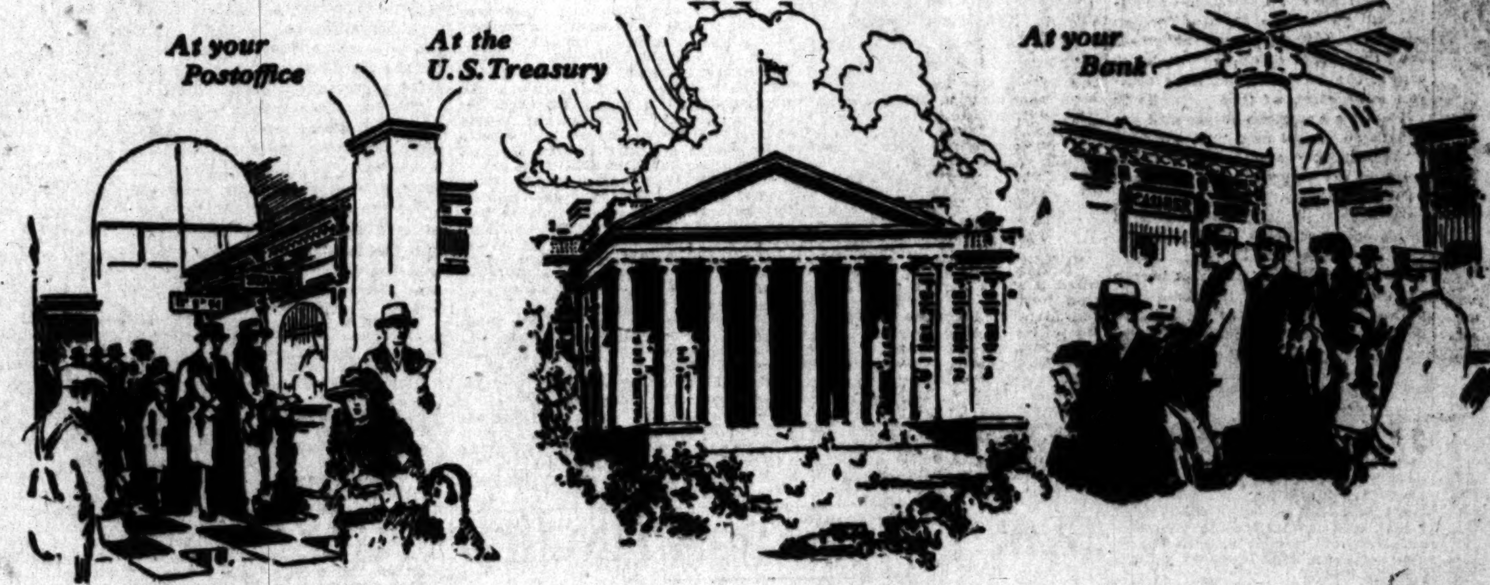
OMAHA

OMAHA, Dec. 19.—A. J. Boling, wealthy retired land broker of Sidney, was fatally injured when the automobile door gave way as he tried to dismount while the car was running. He was thrown on the back of his head and died without regaining consciousness.

Members of the Nebraska Good Roads Association and others interested in the Nebraska road improvement situation expect that a tax on gasoline will be advocated as the only feasible plan for providing a State fund to meet the Federal aid fund.

The mercury took a twenty-degree drop at Gordon and public schools were dismissed. Temperatures ranging from ten to thirteen degrees below zero were general in that part of the State.

Exchange Your 1918 War Savings Stamps for Treasury Savings Certificates



The United States Treasury offers an opportunity to renew your investment

Your 1918 War Savings Stamps will become due January 1, 1923.

Take them now to your post office or your bank. Exchange them for Treasury Savings Certificates.

If you have $25 in War Savings Stamps you can now obtain a $25 Treasury Savings Certificate and $4.50 in cash.

If you have $100 in War Savings Stamps you can now obtain a $100 Treasury Savings Certificate and $18 in cash.

If you have $1000 in War Savings Stamps you can now obtain a $1000 Treasury Savings Certificate and two $100 Treasury Savings Certificates and $16 in cash.

These examples show what you can get with your War Savings Stamps. You can make similar exchanges in other amounts.

Consult your bank or your postmaster

Advantages to you in owning Treasury Savings Certificates

1 Backed by the credit of the United States Government Treasury Savings Certificates are one of the soundest investments in the world today.

2 Issued in denominations within the reach of all. A $25 Certificate costs you only $20.50, a $100 Certificate $82, a $1000 Certificate $820.

3 Each member of the family may buy up to $5000 maturity value of any one series.

4 At present prices Treasury Savings Certificates earn 4 per cent per year, compounded semi-annually, if held to maturity. Each certificate matures 5 years from date of issue.

5 If cashed before maturity you receive 3 per cent simple interest.

6 The certificates are exempt from normal Federal Income Tax, and from all State and local taxation (except estate and inheritance taxes).

HOLD POSTAL WORKER

Ben Varis, a negro employed as a temporary worker during the holiday season at the Arcade Station, was before United States Commissioner Long yesterday on the charge of stealing four letters that came into his hands while handling holiday mail. One of the letters contained $7.50, which it is declared the young man appropriated. His bond was fixed at $2500.

Safe Deposit Experts Will Hear Tax Talk

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Dec. 19.—The California Safe Deposit Association will meet at the Maryland Hotel here on the evening of the 21st inst., with senior and junior officers of Pasadena banking institutions as guests.

Among the speakers are Edwin P. Werner, inheritance tax attorney for the State of California, southern district, who will make an address on "The Relation of Section Thirteen to Banks and Safe Deposit Departments," O. B. Manchester, inheritance tax deputy for Los Angeles county, J. W. Morin and Brunson W. French, safe deposit manager for the Guaranty branch of the Security Trust and Savings Bank of Los Angeles.

DAUGHTER ON STAND

Reluctantly Testifies Against Her Accused Mother

Miss Lorena Connor, daughter of Mrs. Beatrice Connor, Pasadena woman under arrest on an embezzlement charge, was a reluctant prosecution witness at the hearing yesterday before Justice Forbes.

She testified to conversations between her mother and Harry M. Gesner, the complaining witness, who asserts Mrs. Connor has $12,000 belonging to him.

The examination will be continued tomorrow. Gesner asserts Mrs. Connor collected the money for him from people who had bought his garage in Hawaii and that she failed to turn it over.

A few months ago Mrs. Connor began the construction of the most exclusive and expensive bungalow court in Pasadena, in which four-room bungalows were to rent for about $400 a month each.

Senate Committee Urged to Investigate

Senator Ladd Asserts Troops Should Come Home

Resolution Avers Friendly Relations Tottering

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—An investigation by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to ascertain the "true state of affairs" in Nicaragua, the facts concerning American occupation of that republic in 1910; why American forces still are quartered there, and "the connection between certain New York commercial houses and the Chamorro clan government of Nicaragua," was proposed in a resolution introduced today by Senator Ladd, Republican, North Dakota.

The resolution set forth at length various criticisms of the American policy with respect to Nicaragua, declaring that "no state of war exists between the United States and Nicaragua which would justify the permanent quartering of our military forces upon a territory of a friendly, neighborly nation," that "the executive department has no constitutional powers to maintain such invasion without the consent of Congress" and that "such permanent occupation conflicts with the traditional policy of the United States and is inimical to the continuance of friendly and harmonious relations with Central American republics."

Reference also was made in the measure to resolutions adopted at a mass meeting in Managua, which, it was said, accused Dr. Maximo H. Zepeda, a Nicaraguan delegate to the Central American conference now in session in Washington, of being "a traitor to his country" and "a warrior of Wall street against the legitimate interests in his country."

Another charge set forth in the resolution was that "while the United States marines still remained in control of the Nicaraguan capital," after the occupation of 1910 and while "the United States naval officers virtually dictated the policies of its nominal president, the United States government consummated an important treaty with Nicaragua."

An attempt to enforce the terms of this treaty, the resolution added, "has created disputes between the United States government and Central American nations involving territorial grants for a naval base and commercial concessions."

A further subject of inquiry under the resolution would be "the diplomatic conversations which preceded and followed the so-called Nicaraguan government's repudiation of the decree of the international Court of Justice in disputed matters which concerned Costa Rica, Salvador and Honduras as well as the United States government."

FARMERS' OUTLOOK ROSY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—A marked improvement in agricultural conditions of the country during 1923, not only in better actual prices, but as compared with the prices of other commodities, was predicted by Secretary of Agriculture Henry G. Wallace in an address tonight before the Chicago Association of Credit Men.

"While agricultural prices remain lower relatively than the prices of other things the farmers of the nation will get between $1,500,000,000 and $2,000,000,000 more total money for their crops this year than last," he said.

PRODUCTION DISCUSSED

"Perhaps the chief reason for the low prices the farmers have been receiving is that they have been overproducing. During the war years farm production increased greatly. The average cereal crops for the five years, 1910-1914, was 4,500,000,000 bushels. Stimulated by war needs the production increased to about 5,500,000,000 bushels in 1918 and 1919, and almost 6,000,000,000 bushels in 1920.

"Several forces are working toward a more nearly normal relation between things produced on the farm and things produced in the cities and industrial centers. More farmers are leaving the farms than in times past. Wages in the cities even for the commonest labor are higher relatively than wages on the farm."

Secretary Wallace said that the large advance in cotton prices has put the South in better shape than for many years. The advance in prices of coarse grains and the continuing profitable prices of live stock has led to marked improvement in conditions in the great corn belt surplus producing country, he said.

WHEAT PRICES BETTER

"There has been less improvement in the wheat-growing regions of the Northwest and the Southwest," he said. "Prices of wheat are much better, but in those sections weather conditions were unfavorable and many farmers got poor crops. High freight rates take up most of the price of wheat. Prospects of better foreign demand give hope to the wheat farmer.

"In dairy sections of the West the farmers are coming through very well. From the corn belt eastward, farmers have not suffered so severely as in the West. Freight rates have not hit them so hard. Farming there is more diversified and a great variety of cash crops is produced.

"The experience of the last three years has brought home to the nation its dependence upon agriculture. We realize as never before that national prosperity is dependent upon agricultural prosperity. About one-third of our entire population depends upon farming for a living. When the buying power of that one-third is restricted for any reason, all business and all industry suffers.

HEIR TO DUKEDOM PINCHED

Brooklyn Gendarmes No Respecters of Royalty, Arrest Descendant of Napoleon Aide

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—A little more than a century ago Joseph Fouche, Duc d'Otranto, Napoleon Bonaparte's dreaded Minister of Police, had the gendarmeries of police scurrying hither and thither in hot quest of plotters against the throne.

Today Eugene Fouche, who claims to be a lineal descendant and heir to the dukedom, had the tables rudely turned. He was run in by a member of the Brooklyn gendarmerie and landed in a dingy police court on a charge of disorderly conduct.

The Duke presumptive was paroled by Magistrate Eilperin until next Friday when other gendarmes will report on their investigation of his story that Mrs. Helen Westpay very sadly misinterpreted him when she thought he was trying to insult her in a Brooklyn restaurant.

It seems, according to M. Fouche's story, that he had become enraged at a restaurant employee and had loosed a flow of language that shocked Mrs. Westpay, even though she could not understand its intricacies of "cochons," "sacres" and "noms d'un chien."

STORIES DIFFER

But M. Fouche could not have spoken that way to a lady—nevaire. Indeed, he wouldn't have spoken that way in the presence of a lady, but for the misfortune that his indignation rendered him blind to her charming presence.

Mrs. Westpay insists, although she can't imagine why he did it, that M. Fouche aimed his remarks and his wild gesticulations at her.

The Duke presumptive is modest about his title, which he says the family hasn't used for seventy years. He mentioned it merely to back up his claim of breeding that precluded the possibility of his having addressed insulting remarks to a woman.

But reference books on the birth of the French republic devote columns to the Duke he claims as a forbear.

FAMOUS FORBEARS

Joseph Fouche sprang into prominence in the 1790's when he espoused the cause of the Jacobins and became a leader in the national convention which proclaimed the republic and decreed the execution of Louis XVI.

Ejected from the Jacobin Club at the instance of Robespierre in 1794, he was influential in overthrowing the dictator on July 28. Driven into retirement by the rise of the directory, Fouche swept back to favor with Napoleon I, serving before and after Elba as Bonapart's Minister of Police. Napoleon made him Duc d'Otranto in 1808. He died in Italy in 1820.

CATTLEMEN URGED TO SELL STOCK AT HOME

ARIZONA INDUSTRIAL BODY FAVORS MARKETING ON RANCHES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Dec. 19.—A resolution condemning the Los Angeles Union Stockyards and advising cattlemen in Arizona to sell their cattle at home was passed today by the executive committee of the Arizona Cattle Growers' Association at the closing session of the Arizona Industrial Congress.

J. A. McNaughton, manager of the Los Angeles stockyard, presented a strong argument favoring the shipment of Arizona cattle to the Southern California yards. He declared Los Angeles the logical center of the live-stock industry in the Southwest, and said the stockyards there offered a far better chance for good prices and treatment than the present loose system of purchase on the range by packers' representatives.

Educational addresses on the needs of the American farmer were made by W. H. Walker, vice-president of the American Farm Bureau Federation and William A. Schoenfeld, director of marketing research of the Department of Agriculture. Other talks were given by Judge W. A. O'Connor, George H. Todd, and C. P. Heisser.

ENGINEERS GIVEN CUP AT COLLEGE

University of Southern California Students Win Trophy

Nearly 300 members of the Los Angeles branch of the American Association of Engineers assembled in the parlors of the University of Southern California last night for the purpose of presenting the University of Southern California chapter of the A.A.E. with the cup which they recently won for the third consecutive time, thus gaining permanent possession.

The cup was a trophy which was offered to all colleges of engineering throughout the United States. The contest which these men took part in was to see who could get the largest percentage of the students of the engineering colleges to join the A.A.E. The local school won the affair by getting 100 per cent membership in the organization.

Hubert C. Fury, national director of the organization, presented the cup last night and complimented the school highly on the fine showing which was made by the students.

R. E. Rowley, president of the University of Southern California chapter, responded and urged the support of all of the engineers in the city in the drive for funds, which is being conducted by the university. He also told of the plans of the College of Engineering to enlarge the scope of their work and to get new quarters as soon as the money was available.

Many of the most prominent engineers in the city were present and a number of them made short addresses, among them being H. Z. Osborne, Jr., chief engineer of the department of public utilities; J. H. Clarke, Prof. C. W. Lawrence, J. B. Lippencott, consulting engineer; W. W. Patch, State highway department; W. D. Armstrong, county bridge engineer.

After the meeting "eats" were the order of the day and the college of engineering jazz band furnished music for the repast.

Locomotive Demolishes Film Car; Ruth Roland is Shaken Up

A climax entirely outside the script was given to the filming of a railroad serial film near Glendale yesterday afternoon, resulting, according to report, in a severe shaking for Ruth Roland, star of numerous serial thrillers, George Marshall, her director, and a dozen members of her company, when a locomotive shunting a box car crashed into the freight car in which Miss Roland's company was filming a scene.

Four cameras, valued at about $10,000, were splintered when the colliding freight car telescoped the film company's car, it was said. The car used for the picture had been prepared for stunt use, and collapsed when struck, throwing the occupants into the roadbed.

According to the statement of a film company official, Miss Roland had to be taken home, as she became hysterical following the shock. Marshall and Allie Thompson, head camera man, were severely shaken up, while one of the property men suffered an injured shoulder. Work on the picture will be held up for some time as a result of the mishap, it was reported.

FIGHT BEGUN ON UNTAXED BONDS

House Takes Up Resolution for Amendment

Representative Mills Has Praise for Rich

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—After a sharp preliminary skirmish the House took up today a resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution under which issuance of tax-exempt securities by the Federal government and the States would be prohibited.

Backed by the indorsement of President Harding and the treasury, the proposal was the center of a hard fight, in which many Republicans opposed it. Passage of the measure, offered by Representative Green, Iowa, ranking Republican of the Ways and Means Committee, which reported it, will require a two-thirds vote of the House. Opponents asserted tonight it would be defeated, although leaders who caused it to be brought up, insisted it would go through. Four hours of general debate, allotted under a special rule giving the measure right of way, had not been concluded on adjournment tonight.

PASSAGE URGED

Chairman Fordney, of the Ways and Means Committee, Mr. Green and Representative Mills, Republican, New York, also of the committee, urged passage of the measure, while Representative Garner, Texas, ranking Democrat of the Ways and Means Committee, directed the fight against passage and made the principal speech.

Throughout the debate the question continually bobbed up that the proposal would invade the rights of the States to control their own credit.

Mr. Fordney supported the resolution because, he said, he wanted the States to have the right to pass on the question. He said he had doubts of the wisdom of the purpose sought by the amendment.

Issuance of tax-exempt securities is unsound, "whether we look at it from the fiscal, economic or social standpoint," said Representative Mills. From the economic standpoint, he added, they were "indefensible."

MILLS PRAISES RICH

"Could there be anything more unfortunate from a social standpoint than this present situation?" Mr. Mills said. "Say what you will about large American fortunes, they were accumulated by men of ability, energy and vision during the course of an exceedingly busy life. Their reward may have been excessive, but who can deny that the Rockefellers, the Fords, the Carnegies and the Harrimans have made tremendous contributions to the economic and industrial development of America?"

"The outstanding fact about the rich men of the country—a fact frequently forgotten—is that they are all engaged in active business."

Mr. Mills said the funds of such men which formerly had been reinvested in productive enterprises "we are now drying up."

"We are driving such men from active business," he said, "and we are creating a class of idle rich."

TRUCK LOAD OF LIQUORS IS CAPTURED

Cargo Stopped at San Jose When Garage Man Gets Suspicious

A truckload of choice liquors destined for consumption here by Christmas revelers is in the hands of San Jose police, who are also holding Bert La Salle and Thomas Davis of San Francisco for violation of the dry act. The liquor seized is valued at $12,000.

A well-developed sense of smell on the part of Frank Cassell, a Coyote garage man, caused the downfall of the two asserted bootleggers. The suspects came to Cassell last night and told him that their truck had broken down. Cassell told the men that he would repair it. Before going to the truck, however, the garage owner went into a back room and telephoned to the Sheriff, declaring that he was suspicious of the men because he smelled liquor about them.

Then Cassell left the garage and drove the truck into a muddy ravine at the side of the road so that the men could not drive away before the Sheriff came.

Upon investigating the contents of the truck, the peace officer discovered that the piano boxes and phonograph cases with which the vehicle was loaded contained hundreds of bottles of liquor. The truck was seized and the men arrested. They declared at first they were taking a shipment of wireless apparatus to Los Angeles, but later confessed that the consignment of liquor was destined for this city for holiday consumption.

Teeth in Wright Act Drawn at San Francisco

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 19.—Search warrants will be necessary for entrance into homes by San Francisco police to search for violators of the Wright Prohibition Act and there will be no additions to the force as a result of the operation of the act, police commanders were notified today by the Police Commission. The commission at its meeting last night drew up the plan under which it will operate when the act becomes effective.

"Constitutional rights of citizens must be respected," Theodore J. Roche, president of the commission, said at the meeting.

SYNOPSIS OF PREVIOUS INSTALLMENTS

Le Comte de Guy, international gentleman crook, confers with three of the world's representative financiers and proposes to multiply their millions through an ingenious plan he has invented provided these men will supply him with the necessary working capital. They come to a tentative agreement wherein it is necessary for the Count to secure the financial support of one, Hiram C. Potts, an American shipping power, before the conspiracy is a contract. Whereupon le Comte de Guy assumes the alias, Carl Peterson, and removes to England. Some time later in London, Capt. Hugh Drummond, demobilized army officer, seeks some thrilling occupation through the columns of the newspapers which accounts for his meeting with Phyllis Benton. Her father, she explains, is in some manner unknown to her, being drawn into a game of murder and theft with two others, Lakington and Peterson by name, apparently against his will, but through lack of proof she can do nothing to clear the mystery that surrounds them. Later Hugh visits Phyllis at her home in Godalming and learning that The Elms just next door, houses the enemy, decides to investigate. In a side room of the place he sees Peterson and an unknown man who appears to be in a dazed and helpless condition. Sensing foul play he rescues the man, takes him to his apartment and discovers the drugged victim is Hiram C. Potts, American millionaire. While in Paris Hugh is approached by Green, an American detective who has been sent from the States to locate Potts. Later in London Hugh is the victim of a ruse which makes him a captive at The Elms along with two of his friends. With Green's assistance the men escape and Hugh goes immediately to Laidley Towers where Lakington, in the guise of an Indian magician, has gone in quest of the Duchess of Lampshire's pearls. He views Lakington's performance from a side window and when it is concluded, acts as chauffeur on the return trip having disposed of the original earlier in the evening.

But the American, whistling gently to himself, had his eyes fixed on the rope of wonderful pearls which Laxington was holding lovingly in his hands.

"So easy, you scum," continued Lakington, "and you thought to pit yourselves against me. Though if it hadn't been for Irma"—he rose and stood in front of the chair where he had last left Drummond—"it might have been awakward. She was quick, Capt. Drummond, and that fool of a chauffeur failed to carry out my orders, and create a diversion. You will see what happens to people who fail to carry out out my orders in a minute. And after that you'll never see anything again."

"Say, he's a dream—that guy," muttered the American. "What pearls are those he's got?"

"The Duchess of Lampshire's," whispered Hugh. "Lifted right under the noses of the whole bally house party."

With a grunt the detective rearranged his chewing gum; then once more the four watchers on the roof glued their eyes to the glass. And the sight they saw a moment or two afterward stirred even the phlegmatic Mr. Green.

A heavy door was swinging slowly open, apparently of its own volition, though Hugh, stealing a quick glance at Lakington, saw that he was pressing some small studs in a niche in one of the walls. Then he looked back at the door, and stared dumbfounded. It was the mysterious cupboard of which Phyllis had spoken to him, but nothing he had imagined from her words had prepared him for the reality. It seemed to be literally crammed to overflowing with the most priceless loot. Gold vessels of fantastic and beautiful shapes littered the floor; while on the shelves were arranged the most wonderful collection of precious stones, which shone and scintillated in the electric light till their glitter almost blinded the watchers.

The pearls were carefully placed in a position of honor, and for a few moments Lakington stood gloating over his collection.

"Do you see them, Capt. Drummond?" he asked quietly. "Each thing obtained by my brain—my hands. All mine—mine!" His voice rose to a shout. "And you pit your puny wits against me." With a laugh he crossed the room, and once more pressed the studs. The door swung slowly to and closed without a sound, while Lakington still shook with silent mirth.

"And now"—he resumed rubbing his hands—"we will prepare your bath, Capt. Drummond." He walked over to the shelves where the bottles were ranged, and busied himself with some preparations. "And while it is getting ready, we will just deal with the chauffeur who neglected his orders."

For a few minutes he bent over the chemicals, and then he poured the mixture into the water which half-filled the long bath at the end of the room. A faintly acid smell rose to the four men above and the liquid turned a pale green.

"I told you I had all sorts of baths, didn't I?" continued Lakington; "some for those who are dead, and some for those who are alive. This is the latter sort, and has the great advantage of making the bather wish it was one of the former." He stirred the liquid gently with a long glass rod. "About five minutes before we're quite ready," he announced. "Just time for the chauffeur."

He went to a speaking tube, down which he blew. Somewhat naturally there was no answer, and Lakington frowned.

"A stupid fellow, he remarked softly. "But there is no hurry; I will deal with him later."

"You certainly will," muttered Hugh on the roof. "And perhaps not quite so much later as you think, friend Henry."

But Lakington had returned to the chair which contained, as he thought, his chief enemy, and was standing beside it with an unholy joy shining on his face.

"And since I have to deal with him later, Capt. Drummond, D.S.O., M.C., I may as well deal with you now. Then it will be your friend's turn. I am going to cut the ropes, and carry you, while you're so numbed that you can't move, to the bath. Then I shall drop you in, Capt. Drummond, and when, afterward, you pray for death, I shall mercifully spare your life—for a while."

He slashed at the ropes behind the chair, and the four men craned forward expectantly.

"There," snarled Lakington. "I'm ready for you, you young swine."

And even as he spoke, the words died away on his lips, and with a dreadful cry he sprang back. For with a dull, heavy thud the body of the dead German Heinrich rolled off the chair and sprawled at his feet.

"My God!" screamed Lakington. "What has happened? I—I—"

He rushed to the bell and pealed it frantically, and with a smile of joy Hugh watched his frenzied terror. No one came in answer to the ring, and Lakington dashed to the door, only to recoil into the room with a choking noise in his throat. Outside in the hall stood four masked men, each with a revolver pointing at his heart.

"My cue," muttered Hugh. "And you understand, fellows, don't you?—he's my meat."

The next moment he had disappeared down the ladder, and the three remaining watchers stared motionless at the grim scene. For Lakington had shut the door and was crouching by the table, his nerve utterly gone. And all the while the puffed, bloated body of the German sprawled on the floor. . . .

Slowly the door into the hall opened, and with a scream of fear Lakington sprang back. Standing in the doorway was Hugh Drummond, and his face was grim and merciless.

"You sent your for chauffeur, Henry Lakington," he remarked quietly. "I am here."

"What do you mean?" muttered Lakington thickly.

"I drove you back from Laidley Towers tonight," said Hugh with a slight smile. "The proper man was foolish and had to be killed." He advanced a few steps into the room, and the other shrank back. "You look frightened, Henry. Can it be that the young swine's wits are, after all, better than yours?"

"What do you want?" gasped Lakington, through dry lips.

"I want you, Henry—just you. Hitherto you've always used gangs of ruffians against me. Now my gang occupies this house. But I'm not going to use them. It's going to be just—you and I. Stand up, Henry, stand up—as I have always stood up to you." He crossed the room and stood in front of the cowering man.

"Take half—take half," he screamed. "I've got treasure—I've . . ."

And Drummond hit him a fearful blow on the mouth.

"I shall take all, Henry, to return to their rightful owners. Boys"—he raised his voice—"carry out these other two, and undo them."

The four masked men came in, and carried out the two chairs.

"The intimidated rabbit, Henry, and the kindly gentleman you put to guard Miss Benton," he remarked as the door closed. "So now we may regard ourselves as being alone. Just you and I. And one of us, Lakington—you devil in human form—is going into that bath."

"But the bath means death," shrieked Lakington — "death in agony."

"That will be unfortunate for the one who goes in," said Drummond, taking a step toward him.

"You would murder me?" half-sobbed the terrified man.

"No, Lakington; I'm not going to murder you." A gleam of hope came into the other's eyes. "But I'm going to fight you in order to decide which of us two ceases to adorn the earth; that is, if your diagnosis of the contents of the bath is correct. What little gleam of pity I might have possessed for you has been completely extinguished by your present exhibition of nauseating cowardice. Fight, you worm, fight, or I'll throw you in!"

And Lakington fought. The sudden complete turning of the tables had for the moment destroyed his nerve; now, at Drummond's words, he recovered himself. There was no mercy on the soldier's face, and in his inmost heart Lakington knew that the end had come. For strong and wiry though he was, he was no match for the other.

Relentlessly he felt himself being forced toward the deadly liquid he had prepared for Drummond, and as the irony of the thing struck him, the sweat broke out on his forehead and he cursed aloud. At last he backed into the edge of the bath and his struggles redoubled. But still there was no mercy on the soldier's face, and he felt himself being forced farther and farther over the liquid until he was only held from falling into it by Drummond's grip on his throat.

Then, just before the grip relaxed and he went under, the soldier spoke once:

"Henry Lakington," he said, "the retribution is just."

Drummond sprang back, and the liquid closed over the wretched man's head. But only for a second. With a dreadful cry, Lakington leaped out, and even Drummond felt a momentary qualm of pity. For the criminal's clothes were already burned through to the skin, and his face—or what was left of it—was a shining copper color. Mad with agony he dashed to the door and flung it open. The four men outside, aghast at the spectacle, recoiled and let him through. And the kindly mercy which Lakington had never shown to any one in his life was given to him at the last.

Blindly he groped his way up the stairs, and as Drummond got to the door the end came. Some one must have put in gear the machinery which worked on the fifth step, or perhaps it was automatic. For suddenly a heavy steel weight revolving on an arm whizzed out from the wall and struck Lakington behind the neck. Without a sound he fell forward, and the weight, unchecked, clanged suddenly home. And thus did the invention of which he was proudest break the inventor's own neck. Truly, the retribution was just.

"That only leaves Peterson," remarked the American, coming into the hall that moment, and lighting a cigar.

"That only leaves Peterson," agreed Drummond. "And the girl," he added as an afterthought.

Chapter XII

It was during the next hour or two that the full value of Mr. Jerome K. Green as an acquisition to the party became apparent. Certain other preparations in honor of Peterson's arrival were duly carried out, and then arose the question of the safe in which the all-important ledger was kept.

"There it is," said Drummond, pointing to a heavy steel door flush with the wall, on the opposite side of the room to the big one containing Lakington's ill-gotten treasure. "And it doesn't seem to me that you're going to open that one by pressing any buttons in the wall."

"Then, Captin," drawled the American, "I guess we'll open it otherwise. It's sure plumb easy. I've been getting gay with some of the household effects, and this bar of soap sort of caught my eye."

From his pocket he produced some ordinary yellow soap, and the others glanced at him curiously.

"I'll just give you a little demonstration," he continued, "of how our swell crackamen over the water open safes when the owners have been so tactless as to remove the keys."

Dexterously he proceeded to seal up every crack in the safe door with the soap, leaving a small gap at the top unsealed. Then round that gap he built what was to all intents and purposes a soap dam.

"If any of you boys," he remarked to the intent group around him, "think of taking this up as a means of livelihood, be careful of this stuff." From another pocket he produced an india-rubber bottle. "Don't drop it on the floor if you want to be measured for your coffin. There'll just be a boot and some bits to bury."

The group faded away, and the American laughed.

"Might I ask what it is?" murmured Hugh politely from the neighborhood of the door.

"Sure thing, captain," returned the detective, carefully pouring some of the liquid into the soap dam. "That is what I told you I'd got—gelignite; or, as the boys call it, the oil. It runs right 'round the cracks of the door inside the soap." He added a little more and carefully replaced the stopper in the bottle. "Now a detonator and a bit of fuse, and I guess we'll leave the room."

CONDUCT SERVICES FOR AGED VETERAN

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SAWTELLE, Dec. 19.—Funeral services for William E. Morgan, aged 81 years, veteran of four Army enlistments, were held today in the Soldiers' Home. His first enlistment at Jacksonville, Ill., in the Tenth Regiment of that State, was on Sept. 16, 1861. The second was at Rossville, Ga., May 1, 1864. At St. Louis, he joined the Third Regiment of United State Cavalry and was discharged at Fort Sumner, N. M., Oct. 10, 1868.

Within a month Mr. Morgan had enlisted in the same outfit and continued in service as a private until June 20, 1871, when he was discharged at Camp McDowell. He was never married and had no living relatives.

NOMINATIONS CONFIRMED

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—The nominations of Louis M. Hall to be Collector of Customs at St. Louis and of Alexander Lindsay, Jr., to be an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Hawaii, both of which failed of confirmation at the recent special session of Congress, were confirmed today by the Senate.

FILL FLEET COMPLEMENT

New Sailors Arrive Today From Hampton Roads and Mare Island in Preparation for Canal Run

Seventeen hundred new gobs from the naval training stations at Hampton Roads and Mare Island will arrive here today and be assigned to various warships of the Pacific Fleet.

The addition of the new sailors to the present personnel will bring the fleet complement of men up to normal for the first time in two years. The ranks are being filled in preparation for the fleet's run to Panama Canal, where it will engage in joint battle maneuvers with the Atlantic Fleet.

The transport Henderson, carrying 1500 newly trained sailors from Hampton Roads, will arrive here early today. The Supply Ship Kenawha will bring 200 more sailors from Mare Island later in the day.

FLEET PROVISIONS

Preparations for the run to Panama Canal and the maneuvers are being completed rapidly, it was stated by naval officers yesterday. In addition to bringing the 200 new sailors, the Kenawha also will bring 200,000 pounds of flour which will be used by the fleet, two fifty-foot motorboats for the dreadnaught California and two twenty-six-foot motorboats for the destroyer force.

It also was announced that the Collier Jason will leave the local port on the 24th inst., for Hampton Roads where she will join the Atlantic Fleet, to which she will be attached during the run to the Canal, and also during the maneuvers. The transfer of the collier to the Atlantic force is made necessary by the fact that the ships of that fleet are all coal burners, and therefore need more colliers than does the Pacific Fleet.

The eight R-type submarines of operating division nine of the fleet have been entirely overhauled for the long trip to the Canal, and will return to the local port at daybreak Friday.

Palos Verdes Building Now Can Proceed

Judge Crail yesterday, by sustaining the demurrer of Jay Lawyer to the complaint of W. M. Montgomery, involving an option to lease twenty-five acres of the Palos Verdes tract near San Pedro, and denying the injunction asked for, untied a knot that held up the undertaking planned for that district.

Mr. Montgomery had an option on the acreage, with the privilege to mine for mark or lime rock. He was to pay the defendant so much a ton for the rock and a royalty. He asserts that the option had been extended several times, that he offered to comply with the terms of the lease, had expended $3000 prospecting and testing, and that the defendant had refused to carry out the option and lease.

He asked that the defendant execute a lease to him or as an alternative that he be awarded $15,000.

Recent reports stated that $36,000,000 would be spent in building a city on the Palos Verdes hills. The suit of Mr. Montgomery is said to have tied up the undertaking. Mr. Montgomery was allowed fifteen days in which to amend his complaint.

BUSINESS MEN MEET

Directors of the Western-avenue Business Men's Association met last night to consider plans for their removing of telephone and telegraph poles from Western avenue. A discussion was also held as to the results obtained from the recent Western-avenue merchant's campaign.

At last, a complete and accurate map of Los Angeles Harbor, drawn by Charles H. Owens and printed in color in the Midwinter Number of The Times, out January 1.

New Development Holds Key to Oatman Future

Bank Dividend; Farm Bonds; Profit Sharing

What would first appear to be a bearish argument against Oatman United is the announcement of an assessment of 1 cent a share on the outstanding stock, but according to brokers in touch with the situation, the resumption of the assessment policy places a bullish construction on the market prospects of the stock. The fact that the company has turned toward its stockholders for money, say the Oatman United proponents, is evidence that the stock in the hands of the company has been completely sold, a development which removes the depressing influence that has been overhanging the market for some time.

In order to prosecute development work and open the large body which was uncovered by diamond drilling, the Oatman United Company has resorted to the expedient of selling stock held in the treasury of the company. This stock has been carefully liquidated, but the fact of its existence has been known in the market, and has served as a handy weapon for bearish attacks. The market quotations have been falling steadily since the announcement of the diamond drill discovery, and are now ranging around 10 cents, the low for year. But with the company stock sold, the view is taken in some quarters that the market situation will undergo a revival, provided the development work at the mine is not disappointing.

No definite reports have been received in the market relative to the value of the ore that the Oatman United Company is now sending to the Tom Reed mill. It is

German Mark Fluctuations Are Disturbing

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERLIN, Dec. 19.—The government as well as private industrial and financial circles is expressing surprise at the sudden rise of the mark. It is a fact that general confusion is pretended at least. Herr Havenstein, president of the Reichsbank, emphatically denies that his bank is throwing out the value in New York, while government circles disavow knowledge of the manipulations, although everyone admits the rise is clearly the result of speculation on rumors of loans.

However, as no one here will admit the possibility of America giving a loan to Germany unless there is a radical modification of the French attitude, the improvement is declared absolutely unjustified. This, however, may be partly propaganda to keep before the public the need of a modification of the Versailles Treaty.

As a result of the tone of the press, the mark had a relapse back to 6100 to the dollar. Although the tendency of prices is to drop, corresponding to the improvement of the mark, the fact that meats decreased 15 per cent this morning indicates that some merchants at least have confidence that the improvement is due to a sound economic basis.

Reports from New York intimating that Ambassador Wiefeldt is informing American bankers that Germany is willing to turn over railroads to the industrials here as security for a loan have been rejected as absolutely unfounded, and a reminder is made that when the industrials suggested this some time ago the entire country protested.

WEEKLY LIVE-STOCK REVIEW

[Furnished by Federal-State Live-stock Market Service, 1028 Pacific Finance Building, Los Angeles.]

CATTLE—There was a strong and active tone to the cattle market at last week's close, but part of the advance was lost Monday and Tuesday of this week. Good "Christmas" steers reached $8.65 last Friday. There were 96 horned Herefords from Visalia, Cal., averaging 1216 pounds, in the string. Two loads of 1150-pound Idaho bullocks brought $8.50 Saturday. Other good lots ranged from $7.85 to $8.25, two strings of northern steers going at those prices Monday. Common steers went at $5.75. Practically no Arizona or Mexican steers arrived during the past week.

Beef cows reached $6.25 Monday, these averaging 1090 pounds. Good California heifers also scored that price last week. Most of the beef cows ranged from $5 to $6, with trashy Mexican canners as low as $1.50. Bulls sold from $3 to $4.

Demand is good for feeders at steady prices. Good northern feeders have been selling largely from $6 to $6.75, with others at $5.50 to $6, and Arizona yearlings at $5.

CALVES—There is more life to the calf market and some improvement in prices. Most of the supplies are coming from Arizona and New Mexico and selling from $5 to $6.50. Choice light vealers are quotable up to $7.50 or better.

HOGS—With light supplies, the hog market shows some improvement. Top on light hogs Tuesday was $9.60, with 170-pound averages at $9.50. Killing pigs brought $9.25. Packing sows ranged from $6 to $7.

DAILY TRADE TALK

Los Angeles Important Produce Shipping Point; Oil Operations; Retail Trade Report

BY CHAPIN HALL

Los Angeles is unique among the large city markets of the country in that it depends more strictly upon home-grown fruits and vegetables than upon outside sources. Furthermore, this city serves as a greater shipping than receiving point for carlot shipments of produce, more than 10,000 cars of vegetables having been shipped out over a period of a year, while not over 7000 cars were received.

The Weekly Review of Crops and Markets published by the United States Department of Agriculture has directed its searchlight upon this situation and in the current issue the lead story relates to the Los Angeles supremacy in this regard.

The main reason, it is pointed out, for the large number of cars billed out is that this city is the center of one of the greatest fruit and vegetable producing sections of the country. One-fourth of the country's total shipments of cauliflower, lettuce and mixed vegetable come from this hub.

EXPORT AND IMPORT

More than one-half of the carlot shipments received during the year consisted of potatoes, and in addition more than 700 cars of spuds were brought into the city by truck. Idaho is the principal outside source for our potato supply, with Oregon and Washington ranking next.

An interesting feature in connection with the handling of fruits and vegetables in the Los Angeles market is the selling of produce in the market yard. This begins with huge piles of watermelons and casabas in the summer, followed by squash and other produce later in the season. The melon piles are a feature until almost Christmas. During the rush season it is well worth while to undergo the inconvenience of early rising and visit the great produce clearinghouse before dawn when business moves fast and in great volume.

The trading is done by dealers, many of whom have no stores, and who may not deal in any other commodities during the season. Wine grapes of ordinary quality are sold from trucks during the fall months and cull oranges during the winter in the open yard, this class of trade being transacted mostly by Italians.

TERMINAL FACILITIES

The terminal facilities, including yards and wholesale houses, are said to be the finest in the country. The wholesale terminal group of buildings forms an immense rectangle, three city blocks in length and including frontage on East Seventh street and Central avenue. There is a great open space in the center, while the buildings house all of the wholesale receivers and jobbers.

Back of one group of these buildings are the railroad switches so that the cars can be unloaded directly into the stores. The other group of buildings has stores on the lower floors with entrances both from the street side and from the open market.

MARKET REVIEWS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—In the somewhat irregular movement of today's market the comparative steadiness of stocks and the further downward reaction of foreign exchange attracted the most notice. Neither attitude was unexpected. The so-called bad news which had depressed the stock market the day before consisted mostly of announcements which had been anticipated; some of them, like the official denial of an "extra dividend on steel" being put out to dispose of rumors which nobody had seriously believed. The failure of a Kansas City stock exchange house probably had less actual influence, even on Monday, than Wall Street for the moment imagined. Today that occurrence, which was one of the natural sequels to the early autumn craze over oil speculation, was almost forgotten on the market.

That sterling and the continental exchanges should have gone lower today was equally natural. When the real causes behind a prolonged and spectacular advance—including both purchases for necessary remittances and covering by unlucky bear speculators—have spent their force, the market always goes on rising for a time under the momentum of excited speculation for the rise. At such a stage the movement must be continued by unexpectedly favorable news, or else some reaction is inevitable.

The news was supplied to the market at the end of last week, but unfortunately it was not true. Sterling at 4.61¾ today had lost nearly 8 cents from its high figure of last Wednesday, but it had risen nearly 18 cents in the preceding fortnight. There will now be less talk of an immediate rush of the rate to parity, and perhaps the difficulties surrounding the last stages of such a movement will be better appreciated. The United States paper currency did not reach par again, after the Civil War inflation, until exactly two weeks before the date which the treasury had fixed for resumption of specie payments.

The persistent rise of farm products continued today to be the outstanding movement. Spot cotton went to 26.20 cents a pound, which is still below the early high prices of November, but compares with 24.55 as recently as December 15. Speculative markets always take seriously the kind of talk which has lately been heard of cotton values responding to higher sterling or to rumors of a loan to Germany, but on this occasion, although sterling has halted and the loan stories have turned out to be premature, the cotton market has moved precisely as it did before.

Tomorrow's census ginning estimate may conceivably throw light on the question of the actual harvest, but it will probably not interest the market much unless the output of ginneries for the first two weeks of December, were to fall so far below the 453,000 bales turned out in the preceding fortnight as to suggest that the 9,318,000 bales ginned up to this month will not reach the 10,000,000-bale mark in the final returns, a month from now.

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—Gloomy pictures of the railroad situation as the chief handicap to returning prosperity have been drawn frequently of late. It has been pointed out that earnings have been unsatisfactory. It also has been noted that railway securities have lagged behind the upward trend of the market. But these arguments are susceptible of different explanations, and today's news brought a fair mixture of the conflicting factors.

On the score of earnings, the Interstate Commerce Commission reported that 178 class 1 railroads and fifteen switching and terminal companies had total net operating incomes during October of $85,254,866, a decrease of $20,265,810 from October, 1921. It must be considered, however, that the roads in October had not entirely overcome the effects of the summer strikes.

On the score of prices of railway securities, it is the consensus of financiers that prices have not responded to the improving physical condition and earning power of the railroads chiefly because investors fear Federal legislation that will further entangle the whole transportation field.

But against these pessimistic factors may be set up much constructive news. President Markham states that the Illinois Central is closing the best year in its history, while prospects for 1923 are even better, with principal commodities moving in large volume and the South and West extending purchases. This year the Illinois Central has carried a record amount of freight traffic, improved its equipment, increased its shop forces well above normal and begun work on its $88,000,000 Chicago terminal. Nevertheless, it is estimated to have earned about 15 per cent on its common stock.

The Chicago and Northwestern also is carrying a heavy volume of freight traffic, cars handled during the first sixteen days of December, totaling 84,959 compared with 70,032 in the corresponding period last year. The road has bought much new equipment. The Rock Island's showing is similar, having handled 65,828 cars during the first half of December, compared with 57,747 last year.

While heavy demands for new equipment may keep railroad earnings down, this situation has given decided impetus to other industries. Locomotive and car companies predict operations near capacity throughout next year. For example, the Pullman Company already has sufficient orders to keep its plants busy until next June and its earnings are running high. Likewise, the steel industry faces a busy year. Taken altogether, the railroad situation and its effect on general business may be said to be by no means as gloomy as painted.

IN BANKRUPTCY COURT

Raymond Needham, a musician and auto salesman of Santa Barbara, filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court yesterday, giving his liabilities at $20,846.29, with no assets. Of the total amount of debts, $19,500 is in the shape of accommodation paper.

Maude M. Needham of Ventura, filed a similar petition. Her debts are scheduled at $26,000, of which $19,500 is unsecured.

William J. Michael of Fresno owes $1010, and has assets of $23, according to a petition filed in the United States bankruptcy court yesterday.

Application will be made to list these bonds on the New York Stock Exchange

Property: The company operates a thoroughly modern railway from Elkhorn City, Ky., through the coal fields of Southwestern Virginia across Eastern Tennessee and Western North Carolina to Spartanburg, S. C. Including branches and trackage rights, the total mileage operated is approximately 300 miles. It is a highly important coal carrying road, about 55% of the operating revenue during the past two years being derived from coal. It also forms a most direct and serviceable gateway between the Central West and Southeastern territory for miscellaneous traffic.

Security: This issue of $8,000,000 is secured by (a) First Mortgage or First Lien on 34.68 miles, comprising the Elkhorn extension, constructed at a cost of about $6,000,000, (b) Second Lien on 234.06 miles additional subject to not exceeding $15,000,000 First Mortgage Bonds of which $13,950,000 are now outstanding, (c) General Lien on 7.5 miles, subject to $195,000 outstanding and the lien of the Company's First Mortgage Bonds, making a total of 276.24 miles covered. Provision is made in the first and consolidated mortgage to refund all underlying bonds since the underlying mortgages are now closed.

Junior Investment: The outstanding junior securities represent an actual investment in excess of $30,000,000 or 3¼ times this issue.

Earnings: The gross income available for interest charges for the twelve months ended October 31, 1922, will be about twice interest charges.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Opposing speculative forces struggled for control of today's stock market, which showed alternate periods of weakness and strength with the final price tendency upward. Trading was largely of a professional character, there being little evidence of the January re-investment demand, which usually makes its appearance at this time.

Operators for the advance were encouraged by the resistance that the general market had shown to cut in the Great Northern dividend, the official denials of rumored United States Steel and General Electric stock dividends, the refusal of the Morgan firm to consider an international loan to Germany and the forced liquidation occasioned by yesterday's stock exchange failure, but they were unable to attract much of an outside following in their effort to bid up various shares. Speculators for the decline likewise failed to make much progress, despite their rather heavy offerings of some of the rail, steel and public service issues.

Baldwin was one of the outstanding features, more than 50,000 shares changing hands at prices ranging from 126 1-4 to 131, the closing price of 130 3-4 representing a new gain of 4 3-8 on the day. Higher lead prices were reflected in an advance of nearly five points in National Lead. Fisher Body recovered all but 1 1-4 points of yesterday's 8 1-4 per cent loss, closing at 210.

General Electric, which had created a new peak price at 190, broke seven points on an announcement that no stock or extra cash dividend was contemplated and then rallied feebly, closing at a slight fractional loss. Delaware and Hudson broke more than four points on circulation of unconfirmed reports that a reduction in the dividend was likely, closing at a net loss of 3 1-8. Chesapeake and Ohio closed 1 1-4 higher and Chicago and Northwestern 1 7-8, most of the other changes in that group being of a fractional nature.

Most of the equipments were in good demand. In addition to the marked strength of Baldwin, gains of 1 to 2 points were shown by American Car, American Locomotive, Pullman and Railway Steel Spring. Motors also were buoyant, Studebaker, Pierce Arrow preferred, and Chandler each gaining a point or more. Coppers moved within narrow limits.

Call money held steady at 4 3-4 per cent throughout the session. The time money and commercial paper markets continued quiet, with no change in rates.

Official denial of the German loan rumors had a depressing effect on the foreign exchanges, demand sterling dropping nearly 3 cents to $4.61 5-8. French francs slumped in the early dealings but advanced later to 7.49 cents or slightly above yesterday's final quotations. German marks were back to 1¼ cents a hundred.

TAX EXEMPT IN CALIFORNIA

Application has been made to have the Superintendent of Banks certify these bonds as a legal investment for savings banks in California, and this offering is made subject to such certification.

THE VALLEY BANK, FRESNO, CALIFORNIA, TRUSTEE

Security: These bonds are secured by a First Mortgage on 503 acres of highly productive agricultural and residential sub-division lands in the El Cajon Valley, San Diego County, California. Messrs. Cope, Rand & Means place a valuation thereon, including improvements and water distribution system of $381,750, which valuation is supported substantially by our own independent appraisal and that of the State Banking Department.

The property constitutes a compact unit insuring efficient operation. 450 acres are in the full bearing Muscat grapes. 20 acres are immediately available for planting. 18½ acres comprise a portion of the town site of Bostonia with substantial improvements thereon. The property is located on the main paved highway connecting San Diego and the Imperial Valley. The San Diego and Arizona Railroad, three miles distant, affords direct outlet to all Eastern market points.

Earnings: The gross earnings of this property for the past two years, without irrigation, have exceeded $50,000 annually, with net earnings of approximately $30,000. $25,000 of the proceeds of this issue will be used for installing a steel pipe line water distribution system. This improvement should increase the normal production to a minimum of $75,000 with operating expenses estimated at $27,000. Basing income on the average price of $27.50 per ton (50% of the prevailing price) the net income available for interest and principal retirement is conservatively placed at $40,000, or more than three times the interest requirements of this issue.

Management: The property will be under the personal operation and management of Mr. E. Larson, a resourceful and competent operator, who possesses substantial resources in the San Joaquin Valley outside of the property and is a joint maker, with the corporation, of these bonds.

These bonds are offered for delivery when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to approval of counsel. It is expected Definitive Bonds will be ready for delivery before January 1st.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Trading on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday failed to develop any marked tendencies in price movements. The mines were largely assuming a waiting attitude until the result of the assessment on Oatman United stock was obtained. Oatman United revived somewhat on the announcement, increasing 1 cent to a close at 11 cents, but the other mining stocks failed to respond to such a small advance. Telluride closed at 27, and Adams appeared stronger at 4 cents.

In the petroleum list, Union Oil Associates was up 1 point at 186 and General Petroleum sold 5-8 higher to 28 .5-8. U. S. Royalties declined 2 cents to 50 and Globe gained ½ cent, closing at 25.

Union Sugar was active at 22 and Goodyear Tire and Rubber evinced firmness at 76½. Southern California Edison common sold at 104 and five shares of Merchants' National Bank stock were taken at 197, up 5 from the previous closing bid.

Dull Trading Prevails

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Most of the active bonds exhibited a weak tone in today's dull trading, the bulk of the fresh buying power for these securities being absorbed by today's new offerings.

Foreign bonds were virtually neglected, the only noteworthy changes in that group being a point gain in Anton Jurgen 6s and losses of 1¼ points in Serbian 8s and 1 point in Mexican 5s.

Business in United States government issues also was exceptionally quiet, Liberty 3½s and the first, second and third 4¼s sustaining losses of 2 to 8c on $100, while the fourth 4¼s improved 2c.

Strength of the Erie issues and further weakness of most of the other speculative railroad mortgages were the outstanding developments in the railroad list. Erie convertible 4s, Series A and D, closed a point higher as did Soo 6½s, but losses of 1 to 3¼ points were registered by New Haven debenture 4s and debenture 6s, St. Paul convertible 4½s and 5s, Chicago and Alton 3½s, Chicago, Burlington and Quincy 5s, International and Great Northern adjustment 6s, Denver and Rio Grande consolidated 4s, 'Frisco 5s and Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio 5s.

Marland Oil 8s, with warrants, and Wickwire Spencer Steel 7s each climbed 2 points above yesterday's final quotations; General Electric 5s, 1½, and Sharon Steel 8s and Lorillard Tobacco 7s, 1 each, but Cerro de Pasco 8s, Wilson convertible 6s and Montana Power 5s each yielded about a point.

Total sales, par value, were $12,482,000.

The largest new offering today was the $5,000,000 issue of Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio Railway first and consolidated mortgage, thirty-year, 6 per cent gold bonds, offered at 96½ to yield 6¼ per cent. Public offering also was made of the unsubscribed balance of the new issue of $5,834,000 of the Detroit Edison Company's ten-year 6 per cent convertible gold debenture bonds at 109 and interest to yield 5.75 per cent.

METAL MARKETS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CLEVELAND (O.) Dec. 19.—Daily Metal Trade today says Pittsburg and Chicago sheet mills continue to increase bookings, while prices show tendency to advance. Pig iron prices in East are firm as furnaces have good order books, but heavy buying subsides. Western railroads place further car orders, for which mills get good steel bookings. Steel pipemakers are compelled to make close shipments and can accumulate no stocks. Copper has advanced at New York to 14⅝c. Zinc is easier at 7.05c, but lead is firmer at 6.55c, St. Louis. Tin declines slightly to 38c.

WALL STREET NEWS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Although it had been generally believed that most of the forced liquidation attendant upon the failure of Houston, Fible & Co., yesterday had been completed, there was still quite a bit of stock, mostly low priced oils, to be absorbed today. Before the close it appeared as though this forced selling had run its course, and that most of the ill effects of the failure had been discounted. Discovery of the condition of this firm which, while insolvent, is expected to pay at least 80 per cent within two weeks or so, is generally accredited to the questionnaire issued by the stock exchange. In semiofficial quarters it is stated that in many cases the actual filling out of this questionnaire has given member houses a more accurate knowledge of their exact condition than they had previously possessed, and by thus acting as a corrective measure, the primary function of this move has been performed.

Baldwin reflected the resumption of demand for rolling stock of all kinds by the railroads and opening below 127 advanced steadily into new high ground above 130. Dispatches in the afternoon papers purporting to indicate that the equipment of the railroads has proved to be insufficient to maintain the distribution of coal also served as a bullish argument upon this stock.

Official denial by Judge Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, that his company was considering the declaration of a stock dividend, caused some heaviness in Steel common. It is rather hard to see why anything else should have been expected, as the policy of the Steel Corporation has always been inclined to stretch a point in favor of conservatism. Directors have always preferred to have dividends earned before paid. During 1922 this could hardly be said to apply so very accurately as dividends were paid regularly despite the fact that the full amount on the common was not earned in any quarter. However, conditions bearing upon the steel industry throughout the year were abnormal, coming as they did as current and after-effects of the coal and railway labor strikes. Considering the fact that the Steel Corporation would very probably have earned its full dividend requirements had it not been for these factors and allowing also for the fact that much of the deferred business was cumulative, the policy of making up the difference in dividends from surplus cannot be questioned from any standpoint. As a matter of fact, the outlook for the final quarter is so bright that astute market followers are not only expecting to see full dividend requirements earned, but a substantial margin to go back into surplus to make up in part for the drain earlier in the season. If demand from the automobile, railway equipments and other sources continues as heavy during 1923 as the present outlook indicates, it is entirely possible that extras may be considered after this improvement has been translated into actual business. In any event, it is unreasonable to expect even the consideration of any such extra until at least the second quarter.

Union Pacific has just ordered 10,000 Pacific Fruit Express refrigerator cars from General American Tank Car, the Texas Pacific has applied for permission to issue $5,000,000 in equipment bonds, and other reports from equipment centers indicate a revival of the strong demand which has been more or less steady over the past several months. The large replacement having been followed by most of the roads, including in many cases demand for rails as well as rolling stock, forms an attractive background for the equipment stocks generally. Reports from Chicago indicated that inquiries for nearly 50,000 cars were in the market over the past week, these orders involving a total of about 500,000 tons of steel.

Rumors that General Electric was about to join the stock dividend group and distribute parts of its surplus to stockholders brought in sufficient support to run the issue up to 190 this morning. This rumor reached the company's officials about noon and was promptly denied. In the about-face executed by the market, all of the morning's gain was canceled and a fractional loss substituted. The fact that directors of this company are scheduled to meet Friday, formed the basis for this report.

Jones Brothers Tea again established a new high today, following the published report that the company is negotiating a deal at present which should bring about 700 new stores to be added to the company's chain, which at present consists of 500 stores. It is hardly likely that this issue would prove receptive to dividend rumors, as the known policy of the company has been to keep dividends within reason and to put as much as possible of the surplus back into the business.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Cotton futures closed 9 points higher to 13 points lower. The list was narrowly irregular in featureless dealings, and after an initial bulge of 10 to 16 points reacted under the force of preholiday long selling and dropped before midsession to a level of 10 to 20 points net loss from the preceding finals. Demand was scattered among Liverpool interests, New Orleans houses and brokers with Wall street connections, while selling came from local room traders and commission houses. The afternoon market fluctuated not far from the Monday closing level. Demand seemed to improve somewhat near the close, but business was mostly professional in character. Only October options closed net lower.

Spot cotton was steady, 10 points advance, 26.20 for middling upland.

Southern spot markets were: Galveston 25.95, unchanged; New Orleans 26.00, unchanged; Savannah 26.14, unchanged; Augusta 26.00, 12 points advance; Memphis 26.25, 25 points advance; Houston 25.65, unchanged; Little Rock, 25.75, unchanged.

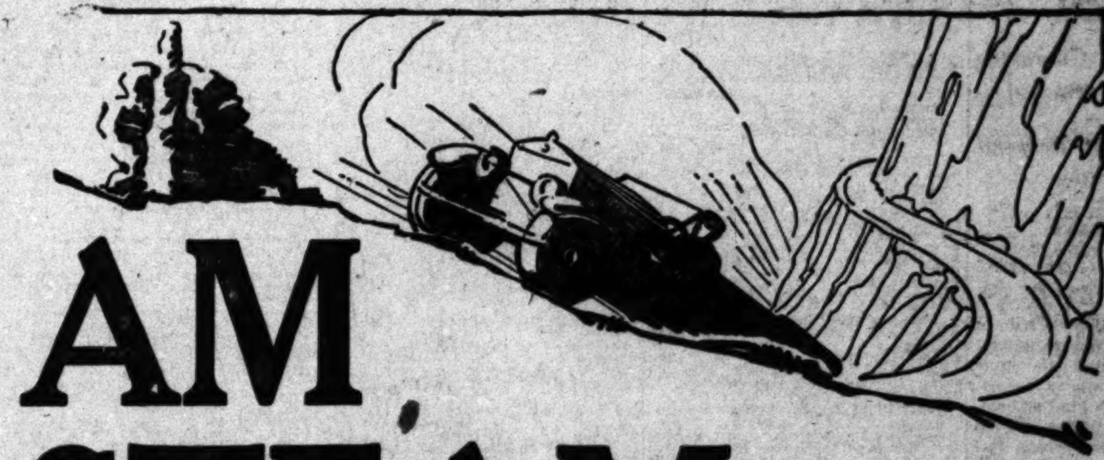
SEE THE DOBLE STEAM CAR SEE THE DOBLE STEAM CAR



I AM STEAM

I Am the World's Mightiest Motive Power
I Annihilate Time and Space

Out in that great Universe of Mind I, STEAM, waited until I was most needed in my application to the simple, practical steam motor car. I waited for the command of the genius of Abner Doble to harness me to his master creation of amazing simplicity and performance and reveal my superb qualities to the world.

Back in the dim, distant centuries I made my appeal to the master mind of Leonardo da Vinci, certainly the most versatile of geniuses that ever lived—poet, philosopher, architect, sculptor, painter, engineer, statesman, warrior. He conceived a military vehicle propelled by my power.

But the first real step toward the attainment of civilization's most crying need came with the invention of the STEAM engine in the eighteenth century, less than 150 years ago. More progress has been made in swift transportation since I drove this first STEAM engine than in the 60 centuries of recorded history before it.

I ask you to pause here to pay tribute to the indomitable perserverance of those hardy pioneers who had the audacity to fly in the face of bitter opposition; who not only had the imagination to conceive stupendous dreams, but the courage to put their capital into what were the beginnings of our present railroad systems, and the brains to make these dreams come true.

I am the Spirit of Progress, and because I am, Ignorance and Superstition passed laws in those early days ruling STEAM propelled vehicles off the road. Road laws were passed providing that a man must walk in front of a car waving a red flag. And yet I progressed and attracted the investment of huge sums of money and made immense profits for the far-sighted, clear-visioned investors.

The first recorded attempt at driving a vehicle by my power seems to have been in 1770 by Cugnot. A single wheel in front served as steering and driving wheel. I drove this weird creation at a speed of 2¼ miles per hour. The original model is preserved in the Conservatory Des Arts et Metiers in Paris.

Steadily and slowly I made my progress through many experiments and developments—through the minds of many men. In 1839 I drove STEAM omnibuses in London built by Hancock. I attained a speed of 10 miles per hour.

But from the beginning, my complete victory over all obstacles was certain because I am powerful, smooth, flexible and dependable beyond comparison with any other motive power.

With a pressure of 200 to 250 pounds I drive mountain-climbing moguls over hard grades, pulling long, heavy trains. I drive the ocean's mightiest greyhounds.

Constantly, year after year, I have made my appeal to the big industrial and manufacturing concerns of the world to harness me to man's greatest servant—the automobile. But they have been bound by the traditions of the ages and have not heard my call.

And now, today, I stand ready to obey the command of Abner Doble and drive his master motor car with a smoothness and ease never before attained in a motor car.

At the behest of this master genius I submit myself to the task of revolutionizing the motor car industry of the world.

In all tests and under all circumstances I make the master creation of Abner Doble's perform as no other motor car has ever done.

I have driven this powerful, smooth, flexible steam motor car over the Grand Avenue Hill—a 27% grade—at 45 miles per hour—starting at the bottom at only 5 miles per hour. This distance is less than a city block.

No power nor influence can hinder or retard the development of this simple, practical steam motor car because the whole world seems eager for it. Engineers have given it every test they can think of and they find that Abner Doble has built a car that requires a new set of standards with which to judge its worthiness.

I will favor this man because he has had the red blood to stay with one idea year after year until he solved the problem of building a motor car so simple in its operation that it would be safe for the merest novice to drive it.

I will heap rich rewards on this man and his associates.

GERMAN LOAN EFFECT HERE

Insistence Upon Guarantee of the Powers

Food Prices First Respond to Possibilities

BY C. B. EVANS

[Copyright, 1922, Public Ledger.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—The following inquiry was sent out to a number of financial people from a highly responsible concern today: "What do you think the effect will be on American stocks, American bonds, and which kind of business in the United States will be affected favorably and which unfavorably, if we loan Germany $500,000,000 a year for three years, part of which is to go to France?"

The inquiry is important first as showing the interest in this subject among people who participate in large affairs, and second as possibly indicating some special information on the part of the inquirer in regard to what is going on, information that has not been published and which derives its authority from its source and the channels through which it flows. The suggested loan for the purpose of giving Europe a new start is probably more talked about among financiers and speculators in this city than any other one subject.

A well known banker expresses the opinion that $500,000,000 per year turned in that direction would not greatly distort our security market and he adds that this money devoted to rehabilitation of Europe would be of immense benefit to all concerned and a stimulation to our business.

The head of a large stock and bond house states that he would not think well of any such loan unless it were part of a general settlement of European questions, including the problem of Turkey. The loan, he declares, would be a disturbing influence.

LOAN WOULD STIMULATE

One reply puts the matter rather comprehensively as follows: "Everything will depend upon the terms of the securities, especially a guarantee by the powers, if that is contemplated, for with such a guarantee doubtless the issue would be bought by the public of the United States to a liberal extent. At the outset American stocks and bonds would be somewhat depressed, inasmuch as this $500,000,000 would be equal to about one-sixth of the total amount that we issue in this country annually through corporations, and by so much the funds available for our own purposes would be shortened. Commerce and manufacture would be stimulated, especially if it were agreed that the funds would be expended in the United States. Presumably however, a large portion of the money would go in other directions. Anyhow, buying of American merchandise would be increased. Broadly speaking, such a loan would have a stimulating effect in the United States, but too much emphasis cannot be placed on the requirement that the bonds shall be backed by all the strength that Europe has left, which appears not to be very great."

Nothing is said in this statement about unfavorable effects on any line of business. If there were such effect, it would naturally operate through an increase in the manufacture of those classes of goods in which Europe is specially expert, such as fine fabrics, but if we cannot stand that kind of competition, protected as we are by high tariffs, we are not so strong as we have commonly professed to be.

FOOD MARKET REPORTS

As to our own specialties, wheat and copper are already anticipating such a loan, both scoring rather good advances. For some time past the idea of helping out Europe by a loan, more particularly by large gifts of food by the United States government, has been an element in price-making on the Chicago Board of Trade.

It seems likely that there will be some action in the near future. J. P. Morgan was not in Europe half a year to be idle, and inevitably he has studied affairs there. Recent movements of his indicate that he may have come to some conclusion. His experience and his name embody greater power than those of any other financier in the world at the moment, and unquestionably the rival house of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. would co-operate in any such undertaking.

Still a large percentage of persons one talks with on this subject, especially those who have unquestioned prestige in their knowledge of financial affairs, would declare that there is little use in putting $1,500,000,000 into the hands of a lot of bankrupt nations unless some steps are taken, or guaranteed, for the cure of the known evils and the uprooting of the causes of those evils. But timid persons should not worry, this country is not going into such an affair blindfolded.

BUSINESS NEWS OF BUSY MARTS

said that the operations have not yet opened the ore body which diamond drilling declared to be so valuable, but it is expected that the cross cut on the 600-foot level will reach the rich part of the discovery soon. So far, only three of the twenty-five drill holes have been opened up by underground operations.

Progress has been hindered by the necessity for the sinking of a 650-foot air hole to the 600-foot level, and after the hole was completed it was discovered that it would have to be enlarged to supply sufficient ventilation.

When the enlargement is effected, the mine owners believe that work can be pushed more rapidly.

The assessment of 1 cent a share is said to be the nineteenth in the history of the Oatman United Company. The previous levies were made in the early days of the Oatman district, and before the discovery of the present ore body.

Other Oatman companies are marking time both marketwise and in development until the results from the Oatman United work is obtained and local mining speculators are centering their surmises upon the future actions of Oatman United stock.

BEAN STOCKS

Storage stocks of lima beans in Southern California on December 1 totaled barely 485,000 bags and baby lima stocks amounted to 45,000 bags, indicating that more than half of the total crop regular limas and two-thirds of the baby limas had been shipped. According to the Lima Bean Bulletin, wholesalers are purchasing for short term requirements only, but will enter the market force after the holidays.

A favorable development for the bean growers in Southern California is the reported shortage of the Pinto bean crop in New Mexico and Colorado. California large and small whites have been moved out freely, leaving a comparatively small remainder to compete with the limas. Market price for limas has held strong throughout the season, with a steady tendency to advance during October when the speculative element was attempting to break quotations.

BANK DIVIDEND

Announcement is made by the Bank of Italy that the stock of the Stockholders Auxiliary Corporation, an affiliation of the Bank of Italy, has been placed on a 12 per cent annual basis. This action puts the stock of both the Bank of Italy and the Stockholders Auxiliary Corporation on the same dividend level.

In his letter to the stockholders, P. C. Hale, vice-president of the Bank of Italy stated that the combined capital and surplus of both organizations, is now $5,500,000 and the number of shareholders 16,000. The average number of shares held by each stockholder is a fraction over nine, indicating a thorough distribution of the bank's capital obligations. Depositors number more than 290,000.

The resources have increased more than $50,000,000 during the past year, the total now standing in excess of $245,000,000.

PROFIT SHARING

An application of the profit-sharing idea has been devised by S. W. Straus & Co., that evidences a strong interest in the welfare of the employees of the organization. Under a "mutualization plan" all employees share directly in the profits of the company. With the addition of welfare policies now in effect, the distribution is said to be about $500,000 annually.

The company will appropriate each year out of its earnings an amount equal to 10 per cent of the sum paid in salaries to all members of the organization earning $4000 a year or more. Ten years' service with the company is necessary for participation in this fund. A pension fund has also been created from the income of which members of the organization may retire on half pay after twenty years' service with the company, upon reaching the age of 60, or in case of total disability.

Anniversary gifts ranging from 2 to 10 per cent of salary will be paid to all employees earning less than $4000 a year. Bonuses are also paid to members of the organization who marry, and $100 is paid to each baby born in the family of an employee. Life, health and accident insurance polices have been taken out for all members of the organization, and a thrift society is maintained through which employees are rewarded for saving money.

FARM BONDS

Carsten & Earles, Inc., are offering today $175,000 El Cajon Vineyards Company 7 per cent mortgage gold bonds, which have been submitted to the State Superintendent of Banks for approval as legal investment for savings banks. The bonds are secured by a first mortgage on 508 acres of developed vineyards and subdivision land in the El Cajon Valley fifteen miles east of San Diego. A portion of the loan will be expended in installing a complete steel pipe irrigation system to all parts of the company's property.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 19.

Cattle—The market on beef steers was about steady, although action on medium-fleshed steers was not brisk. On the late Monday market 400 medium to good Nevada steers, averaging 1151 pounds, brought 7.85. Medium Colorado steers went Tuesday at 7.25 with common fall-enders of Arizona origin at 5.75. There were some good feeders on hand but these had not sold up to a late hour. [illegible] 4.75. A load of Arizona yearling stockers sold at $5.

Calves—There was more action to the calf market and some price improvements. Common to medium Arizona and New Mexico calves averaging 240 to 300 pounds, sold from 4.50 to 6.50.

Hogs—A quick clearance was made on the light supply of hogs at steady prices. Fairly good light hogs brought 9.60, with 300-pounders at 8.50 and 465-pound packing sows at 6.00.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—An easier undertone prevailed in the grain markets the greater part of the day. Financial news was somewhat less bullish and messages from Washington indicated that farm legislation would not get the right of way over other bills. This, with the government report issued after the close Monday, was responsible for general selling of wheat and other grains, but December wheat and corn acted tight and the nearby delivery of wheat rallied sharply after an early break to a new high on the crop and closed ½c higher. Deferred deliveries were unchanged to ⅝c lower, the latter on July.

December corn, which closed at the same figure as the May on Monday, advanced to 1c premiums today on short covering and lack of pressure, and gained ⅛c, while the deferred futures were ¼@⅜c lower, oats was ¼@⅝c lower and rye ⅜c lower.

Many of the local traders took the selling side of wheat early and, with a let-up in the outside buying, May dropped to 1.23⅛. Around 1.24 there was persistent buying by strong commission houses, which ultimately absorbed the surplus in the pit, and local shorts bid the market up toward the last, when they tried to cover.

Germany was a good buyer of Manitoba wheat, with export sales estimated at 800,000 bushels. The easier tone in the July was due almost entirely to the less bullish showing than expected in the government report. Low temperatures without snow protection is increasing apprehension of damage in parts of the West and Southwest. Liverpool closed 1⅛d higher to ⅛d lower, the former on December.

Bulk of the trade in corn and oats was of a local character. Buying was not aggressive, but sufficient to take care of the profit-taking sales and prevent any material decline. Exporters showed more interest in cash corn and bids from the seaboard were on a slightly better basis. Shipping demand remains slow. Receipts of corn 499 cars and of oats 113 cars.

There was no trading in December rye, and the open interest is regarded as well cleaned up. Strength in wheat induced some buying of May by local traders. Selling of Chicago against purchases at Minneapolis had some effect. The two northwestern markets had 105 cars.

SUGAR CANNOT BE TREATY JUGGLED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Sugar shipped to Canada in the raw state and, after being subjected to a refining process, shipped to the United States, is not entitled to the 20 per cent reduction from the regular rates provided for in the Cuban reciprocity treaty of Dec. 11, 1902, promulgated on Dec. 27, 1903, the Board of United States General Appraisers holds in a decision overruling protests of the American Shipping Company, the Central Sugar Company, the Warner Brokerage Company, Waken & McLaughlin, S. Moon & Co., the J. F. Campbell Company and Ernest E. Marks & Co. of Chicago and F. W. Myers & Co. of Detroit. The fact that the sugar entered into the commerce of Canada operated to exclude it from the benefits of the Cuban treaty with this country, the general appraisers find.

Sustaining a protest of the Tai Yo Trading Company of Chicago, the board reduced the duty on Myaka vases imported from Japan from 55 to 40 per cent ad valorem. In a similar decision the duty on semiporcelain eathernware imported by G. W. Sheldon & Co. of Chicago is reduced from 50 to 40 per cent ad valorem. The tariff rate on wooden novelties, such as candy boxes, etc., is reduced from 35 to 10 per cent ad valorem in a decision sustaining a protest of Moramora Brothers, Inc.

VENICE IS TO VOTE ON ANNEXATION

Election Will be Called at Same Time as Poll on New Charter

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, Dec. 19.—The question of whether Venice will be annexed to and become a part of Santa Monica will be decided at a general election to be held simultaneously with the voting on the new Venice charter. That was the decision given out by the Venice Board of Trustees following the first reading of the ordinance which called for the election.

The second reading of the ordinance will be heard at the next meeting of the Trustees. After a lapse of not more than twenty days, according to State law, the matten must then go before the people. This was decided upon for the purpose of saving the expense of two separate elections.

The recent action of the Board of Trustees was the culmination of months of work on the part of the bay cities consolidation organization, which is fostering the annexation proposition. The report, prepared by M. N. Inskeep, handwriting expert, who was employed by both parties to check the names on the petition and to pass on their authenticity, was read by the City Clerk. One thousand three hundred and seventy-seven names on the petition were valid, according to the expert.

terminal buildings although not so large, also presents a scene of busy activity, cinematic in its unfolding. It opens at midnight, and the growers, mostly Japanese, sell their produce to jobbers, retailers and consumers. The bulk of the goods is bought by jobbers located at this market and at the wholesale terminal. Since the growers' market opens at midnight, the jobbers are able to make purchases of home-grown fruits and vegetables before the wholesale terminal opens at 4 a.m., and thereby a desirable distribution of business over the early hours of each day is secured.

RETAIL TRADE STORY

Additional proof, were any needed, of the stable condition of the retail trade in Los Angeles was forthcoming yesterday when a summary of the reports from six representative department stores in this city, covering their business for the month of November, was made public by John Perrin, chairman of the board and Federal Reserve agent. While these figures do not include the holiday trade they are significant and forecast the further large increase which December is sure to show:

Percentage increase of net sales during November, 1922, compared with net sales during same period last year	18.4
Percentage increase of net sales during November, 1922, compared with net sales during October, 1922	.7

NEW COMMISSIONER?

Who is to be the new Corporation Commissioner? Rumor is busy along the business Rialto, especially since it was intimated in this department that Superintendent of Banks Jonathan S. Dodge was not to be disturbed in his administration, at least, for the present. Mr. Daugherty's resignation will probably go in to the new Governor along with those of the other Stephens appointees. His successor will probably be named from the southern part of the State. It may be a well-known Los Angeles attorney, who is said to have the inside track.

Edwin M. Daugherty's administration has been generally satisfactory to Los Angeles business interests, where it is agreed that he has handled a difficult portfolio capably. The growth of fly-by-night oil companies has been an important problem during his occupancy of the commissionership, and his methods used in curbing these pernicious activities have been ordinarily successful and satisfactory.

LET THERE BE LIGHT

If predictions which are made in the electrical industry come true it will not be long before the "bright lights of the city" will fade in comparison to the brilliant illumination of the country, and the city dweller will have to go out of town to see the real "white way."

Within the next six years, it is said, $300,000,000,000 will be spent by electric light and power companies in extending the "electrification of America."

The rapidity with which the central power stations are expanding is indicated by the fact that last year the light and power companies spent $750,000,000 in new development. And in the next six years they will spend a total of $4,000,000,000 to extend their electrical service to the homes and factories in America.

"It is known that for every dollar the central power stations spend in development, other people who make use of this service expend in buying motors, home appliances, etc., an average of $80."

OIL PRODUCTION

The total production of crude oil in California for November amounted to 14,035,537 barrels, an average of 467,851 barrels per day. This in an increase of 34,966 barrels per day over October production.

Stocks increased during the month 2,184,392 barrels. The total stocks at the end of the month were 59,754,724 barrels.

SAN DIEGO INVADED

The Bank of Italy is about to invade San Diego with a branch bank, according to an announcement made yesterday in San Francisco. The branch is the former Merchants' National Bank of San Diego, one of the oldest banking institutions in Southern California. The present official personnel will be retained.

Kiddies Will be Guests of Fleet Sailors

More than 150 children of Los Angeles, including 133 boys from the McKinley Home, will be the guests on Christmas Eve of the officers and crew of the U.S.S. Arizona, flagship of Battleship Division No. 7, at Los Angeles Harbor, according to an announcement made yesterday by Chaplain O. F. Huske of the Arizona.

"Most of the crew of 1400 will be free Sunday afternoon and the boys have decided to spend their time and money in giving the children a good time," said Chaplain Huske. "We have chartered Pacific Electric cars to bring the children to the harbor and at noon they will be taken out in small boats to the big ship."

On the Arizona the happy little guests will be given a "regular" dinner which will include turkey, "cramberries," hot biscuits, cake, pie and all the delightful fixin's dear to the appetites of all humans, including children.

Following the banquet the children will gather round a big Christmas tree to enjoy an entertainment furnished exclusively by the talented members of the crew and to receive the gifts purchased for them by the boys in blue. The ship's orchestra will furnish the music.

Low Railroad Fares of Last Summer Make Sure Geat Visitor List

Heavy tourist traffic to Southern California next summer is assured by the announcement yesterday that the reduced excursion fares of last summer will be reinstated for the 1923 season, it was stated by officials of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific systems.

East-bound as well as west-bound traffic will benefit by the low rates. The sales dates will be from May 15 to September 15, with October 31, as final return limit. The tickets will allow different routes coming and going, with liberal stopover privileges in both directions.

Definite fares have not been determined, but will approximate the following: New York City, $147.40; Buffalo, $120.82; Washington, $141.56; Boston, $158.32; St. Paul, $87.50; Chicago, $86; St. Louis, $81.50; Omaha, $72; Kansas City, $72; Denver, $64 and Salt Lake City, $48.82.

T. C. Peck, general passenger agent of the Union Pacific, stated that last year his railroad sold more than 10,500 summer tourist tickets to California destinations from eastern points, and predicted that the figure would be greater for next summer.

"Great credit should be given to the All Year Club of California," declared Mr. Peck, "for the splendid publicity given Southern California as a summer playground. Our agents everywhere report increased interest in summer tickets as a result of the club's campaign, which the Union Pacific plans to augment with a series of display advertisements."

Extra equipment and facilities will be added to handle the volume of tourist traffic, it was stated.

RINDGE ROW IS RENEWED IN COURTS

Land Interests Reopen Dispute Over Value of Condemned Property

The renewal of a fight that had its inception sixteen years ago was indicated yesterday when a petition was filed in the Second District Court of Appeals for a writ of review in the case of the Malibu Land Company, also known as the Malibu and Port Los Angeles Railway Company and as the Malibu and Southern Railway Company.

The companies are composed of owners of the Rindge ranch property. Mrs. May K. Rindge is president.

GLADYS COOPER DIVORCED

LONDON Dec. 19.—Gladys Cooper, England's most beautiful footlight queen, received a decree of divorce from Capt. Herbert Buckmaster, a polo player, as a birthday present yesterday—her thirty-third anniversary. They were married in 1908.

Statutory desertion and misconduct were alleged and the suit was undefended. Mrs. Cooper was awarded the custody of her two children.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 19.—The purchase of two Lake type steamers from the Shipping Board was announced today by the Moore Shipbuilding Company. They are the Lake Francis and the Lake Cayuga, both of 3000 deadweight tons, having a length of 262 feet, beam of 43.5 and depth of 21 feet. They have a normal carrying capacity of 1,500,000 feet of lumber and will be operated in the lumber trade as steam engine vessels.

The Union Oil Company of California today announced the purchase of two tankers, both built at the Alameda plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Company. The vessels are the Utacarbon and Cathawood and are now being cleaned and painted on the east coast. They are expected to sail for San Francisco within eight days. The tankers were bought from the Shipping Board after more than a hundred eastern-built vessels had been inspected.

Preparatory to going into the freight and passenger trade between coast ports and the east coast of South America, the steamer President Hays has been placed on the dry dock at the Moore yard for overhauling.

SEATTLE, Dec. 19.—The Admiral-Oriental liner President McKinley, arriving here tonight from Japan, China and the Philippines, carried 5000 tons of cargo, including $5,000,000 worth of silk and 300 passengers in all classes. Among the passengers was A. E. Disney, representative of the International Mercantile Marine at Chicago, formerly stationed here.

The President Madison of the Admiral-Oriental Line is to leave for Japan, China and the Philippines Thursday morning with 480 passengers and more than 3000 bags of mail. All her cargo space is filled.

About fifty first-class passengers are booked for the steamship Lurline of the Matson Line, scheduled to leave here Saturday for Honolulu.

Most of the passengers are tourists who plan to spend the holidays in the Hawaiian Islands. The Lurline arrived here today and began to discharge 1200 tons of molasses in bulk. She also brought 5000 cases of pineapples for this port.

The freighter Wabash of the Nawsco Line, due here tomorrow night, is to tranship 300 tons of freight for Portland, as she will not visit the Columbia River this voyage. After loading part cargo here she is to go to Gray's Harbor for 2,500,000 feet of lumber.

Frederick Hansen, former first mate aboard the barkentine Rolph, is to be tried in Federal Court here this week on charges made by members of the crew that he beat them with a knotted rope and otherwise misused them.

PORTLAND, Dec. 19.—The steamer Katuna of the Ellermans Wilson Line is being lined here for barley loading at San Francisco. Capt. J. H. Roberts is doing the work. The fact that lumber is cheaper here and experienced liners are available is the reason for lining here instead of at San Francisco. The Katuna, represented by the local office of Norton, Lilly & Co., loaded wheat, prunes and miscellaneous cargo here for European ports.

The steamer Texan of the American-Hawaiian fleet got away from Portland today for European ports with wheat, flour, canned goods and general freight.

The steamer Highland Heather has been chartered to carry apples and other cargo from Portland and other Pacific Coast ports to Europe in the joint Holland-America and Royal Mail Steam Packet Line service. The vessel, which is equipped with refrigerator space, will take out 100,000 boxes of fruit.

The Robert Luckenbach of the Luckenbach Steamship Company's fleet left here today for Seattle to complete discharging. The vessel brought a large amount of general freight from North Atlantic ports. The Harry Luckenbach is expected in Thursday from New York and Boston with mixed cargo. The Lena Luckenbach will arrive Wednesday from Gulf ports with miscellaneous freight.

TACOMA, Dec. 19.—The Jeptha, which arrived today from South America with several thousand tons of ore to discharge at the smelter, will load general freight on the Sound for Peru and Chile.

The Victoria from Alaska, also a smelter arrival, has over 1000 tons of ore to unload, and the Chilliwack, due tomorrow, will have about 600 tons.

The Mandasan Maru arrived at the Balfour dock this morning from the Orient and after loading 700 tons of wheat will shift to the port pier tomorrow to load about 150,000 feet of lumber and shift down Sound to finish her oriental cargo.

The Northland of the Nelson Line was an arrival today and will load at the Baker and Albers docks for California.

The Pequot will sail tomorrow morning for Melbourne after loading lumber from here and other coast ports.

VICTORIA (B. C.) Dec. 19.—The Admiral-Oriental liner President McKinley, which docked here this afternoon from the Orient, had been reported to make quarantine at 9 o'clock tonight, but speeded up and anchored this morning at Williamhead.

HOLLY KNOLL
There is nothing we could say that would really describe its beauty.

It is indeed rare to be able to obtain such desirable homesites within five miles from the center of the business district, five blocks north of Hollywood Boulevard and four blocks east of Vermont Avenue.

Not only is the location all that could be desired at HOLLY KNOLL, but the view is superb. You cannot find elsewhere an unobstructed view of the mountains, sea and such a panorama of the city as HOLLY KNOLL presents. It must be remembered that Hollywood property never depreciates in value. The prices on HOLLY KNOLL are extremely reasonable for this class of property. A beautiful homesite can be purchased for

HOW TO REACH HOLLY KNOLL

By Auto—Drive on Vermont Avenue to Franklin Avenue, then east 4 blocks to HOLLY KNOLL; or call our downtown office, we will be glad to drive you out. You will not be importuned to buy. No obligations whatever.

SUNSET KNOLL
You may travel that great THOROUGHFARE, Sunset Boulevard, from one end to the other and in its entire length of over six miles you will find no other district where building activities are so great as at SUNSET KNOLL.
WHY IS THIS?
Because SUNSET KNOLL is close in and offers exceptional opportunities for investment in income property.
BECAUSE—SUNSET KNOLL was placed on the market solely as a development and investment proposition and not as a speculation.
BECAUSE—Our prices are right and we install and pay for all improvements.
BECAUSE—We build for you and help you finance your building if you want us to.
BECAUSE—We give you a square deal, the worth of your money in every purchase and a chance to get good returns on your investment.
Come and see us the first thing tomorrow morning.

NEEDLES CASE SET FOR JURY

Santa Fe Strike Trial is Nearing End

Testimony is Concluded by Both Sides

Court Will Deliver Charge to Talesman Today

The case brought by the government against the strikers on the Santa Fe Railway charged with the abandonment of westbound trains at Needles will go to the jury in Judge Bledsoe's court this morning, when the charge is to be delivered.

Yesterday was devoted to the argument to the jury. Hiram C. Todd, Special Assistant Attorney-General, opened for the government. He was followed by Hugh L. Dickson, who appeared for two of the defendants, R. H. Clements and John A. Stecklein. Judd Rush, in behalf of the other six defendants had his innings and Mr. Todd closed the argument.

The issues of the case were clearly defined. It was admitted that the men had a right to go on a strike and to induce others lawfully to join them. The only contention was whether they combined illegally to interfere and stop the transportation of the mails and interstate traffic in passengers.

ADMIT STOPPING

It was admitted that the defendants abandoned their trains on August 10, at Needles, westbound over the Santa Fe lines, but it was argued in behalf of the defendants that the stoppage of the trains resulted from their walkout, and not as the result of a conspiracy to stop such trains. In a word that they were within their rights to quit their employment, and that they did nothing else.

On the part of the government it was contended that the abandonment of the trains was not only the result of a conspiracy at Needles, but that it was in evidence all along the Arizona division of the Santa Fe, and as far north as Bakersfield. Dozens of telegrams were placed in evidence to substantiate this contention. It was asserted by the prosecution that the real reason for the strike was to assist the shopcrafts that went out July 1, and had already lost their fight on August 10, instead of the asserted inefficient condition of the engines and rolling stock on the Santa Fe, given as the sole reason for the walk-out.

RATED "OUTLAW"

It was asserted by Mr. Todd that the strikers inaugurated the Needles walk-out in the fear that the cut in wages that had caused the shopcrafts strike would next hit the other workers on the road; and to make the strike national in character.

The presence of the guards, placed on the property of the Santa Fe in order to protect the property of the company from the shopcraft strikers, was a sore spot with the strikers allied with the Big Four, and was the cause of much of the friction between the railroad and the strikers.

Submits Names of Policemen for Promotion

Chief of Police Oaks yesterday submitted to the Board of Police Commissioners for approval the appointment of Lieut. George O. Daudel of Central station as a captain, and of Detective Sergt. Raymond H. Schofield as a lieutenant.

The selections were made from lists from the Civil Service Commissioners, which forwarded the names of Lieuts. Daudel, O. L. Poor and William L. Hagenbaugh as those eligible for a captaincy, and of Sergts. Schofield, Raymond H. Hagenbaugh and Arthur Connelly as those eligible for a lieutenancy. Action by the commission on the appointments was postponed for one week.

While new policemen are being sworn in daily, Chief Oaks reported to the commission that a number of the new men are not proving satisfactory as policemen, and twenty new men dropped out yesterday from the department, six being removed. There were a number of resignations of men who did not find a policeman's life an easy one. Among the removals was one young officer who spent his time in motion-picture shows when he should have been walking his beat.

WOMAN BREAKS DOWN AT BAD CHECK TRIAL

The case of Ruth Pettibone, charged with violating her parole and passing worthless checks, was continued by Judge Reeve yesterday until Friday morning after the woman had broken down in court and declared that she had been unable to retain an attorney to defend her.

The woman was placed on parole about two years ago after being convicted of passing a worthless check. One of the provisions in the parole was that she should leave the State. She is said to have gone to Arizona and to have recently returned here.

It is charged that upon her return she again passed a fictitious check. Recently she was taken to police court where she was sentenced to twenty days in jail on charges of speeding and reckless driving.

STORE-APARTMENT BUILDING PLANNED

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Dec. 19. — Approximately $300,000 will be expended in the construction of a three-story store and apartment building to be erected at the southeast corner of Pine avenue and Sixth street in the downtown section of the city, it was announced this morning. E. C. Schlutzmeyer and W. D. Lovell are to be the owners. Plans for the structure, which is to be finished in terra cotta, are now under way in the office of W. Horace Austin, local architect, it was said. The site was formerly occupied by a public school.

JOHN CRYER TO DOUBLE FOR SANTA

A page photograph of Santa Claus busy in his toy shop in the realm of the flying reindeer, will grace the front page, rotogravure section of The Times next Sunday.

Local color is added to the picture, for the kindly face looking out from the surrounding wealth of whitened whiskers and proverbial cap of red and ermine belongs to no other than John Cryer, father of Mayor Cryer.

The task of finding a suitable model to make up for the role of "Santa" was a difficult one. Visits were made to numerous cinema employment places, and finally the parks, frequent haunts of elderly gentlemen in quest of sunshine and quiet, were searched for the Santa Claus type. Several hours were spent sizing up prospects and the right one was finally located.

The proposition of playing "Santa" at the offices of the Wheeler, Sheridan Corporation, while forty or more pictures were taken of him sounded like a bunko game at first, but persistency won out and the prospect consented.

Union Pacific Chieftain Pays City Brief Visit

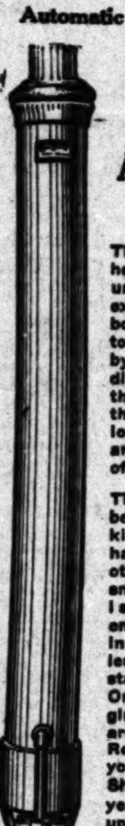
A visitor to Los Angeles yesterday was Judge R. S. Lovett, chairman of the board of directors of the Union Pacific Railroad, who stopped over here for a conference with W. H. Comstock, general manager of the road.

Judge Lovett then departed at 2:30 p.m. for Santa Barbara, where he has leased a house for the winter. It has been his custom for many years past to spend this season in a Riverside hotel, but this year he decided in favor of a home of his own.

WORKERS BANQUETED

The annual banquet of the 635 employees of the Crescent Creamery Company will be conducted the first week in January, probably the 4th or 5th.

Bonuses will be distributed to those in service three years and more; those of less than three years receive turkeys. S. A. W. Carver, president of the company, will preside at the dinner.



EVER READY
Automatic Water Heater
Efficiency and Appearance

The average water heater is usually an unsightly affair—an extra room or cupboard must be built to cover same, thereby entailing an additional expense—or the heater is put in the basement, with long hot water lines and consequent loss of efficiency.

The Ever Ready can be installed in the kitchen or porch and harmonizes with the other fixtures, it is small and neat, finished in ivory enamel only 6 inches in diameter, uses ⅓ less gas, easy to install.

On comparison, engineers and builders are buying Ever Readys. Let us tell you why.

HERE'S A CHANCE TO MAKE THIS A REAL CHRISTMAS

"Times" to Raise Fund for Work of Worthy Charities Throughout Year; Will You Help?

In the spirit of Him whose birthday the world celebrates next Monday The Times invites the generous and warm-hearted people of Southern California to join with it in raising a substantial fund to be turned over to the charity organizations of Los Angeles which are toiling mightily with inadequate means to relieve the unfortunate in our midst.

The Times will give $5000 to start this fund.

It is not a Christmas fund except in that it appeals to the Christmas spirit. It will not be devoted to one-day relief for the poor, but will be administered in such a way as to give the maximum amount of aid through the months to come. It is started in the belief that there are great numbers of prosperous people here who will gladly give, especially at this season, if they are assured that their generosity will be 100 per cent effective in real and practical aid to the unfortunate. It will be used to augment the resources of the many worthy charitable organizations whose sole work and business it is to alleviate distress throughout the year. There are many of them—orphanages, homes for crippled children, organizations such as the Salvation Army and many others. They are doing all they can with the means at their disposal and they will be able to accomplish much more if they are aided and strengthened by a fund raised at this Christmas season.

It is an opportunity for all who would participate in the real spirit of Christmas. It is an opportunity to permit the poor and needy to share with more fortunate citizens in the fruit of Yuletide giving, not only at this season but when they perhaps will need it more. Business houses, in making up their lists of Christmas remembrances to employees and others, individuals who welcome an opportunity to give through such a channel and all who would make a special effort to make Los Angeles better and brighter are invited to join in the movement.

ANY SUM, HOWEVER SMALL, WELCOME

The time is short. It is desired to deliver the checks during Christmas week. If you can give any sum, however small, it will be welcome. Make checks payable to The Times Charities Fund. Address donations to The Times Charities Fund, The Times, Los Angeles.

The money will be apportioned to the various charities by a distinterested committee of prominent citizens. It will be given without regard to sect or denomination.

The Times will receive the money, acknowledge it by publication, do everything it can to make the sum as large as possible and turn it over to the committee to do with as it sees fit. Every cent will go to feed and clothe and otherwise aid the hungry and ragged and needy of this great and wealthy city.

There are two sides to the picture.

This is the period of Southern California's greatest achievement and prosperity, yet with the tremendous growth has come a proportionate increase of distress and suffering.

In reaching a high pinnacle of general success the Southland yet contains acute suffering. Some of its inhabitants are hungry and lack clothes. Little children sob through the night racked with pain and hunger and not understanding why they suffer.

A thin wail of distress sounds as a discordant note amidst the triumphant peans of a community that has outstripped the rest of the world in civic advancement in the past twelve months.

Nowhere is the call for help more clearly heard than from the worthy and needy ones of Los Angeles and vicinity. No people on earth are more able nor more willing to help alleviate distress than the prosperous citizenry of the Southland.

Urged by prominent charity workers who know and appreciate the situation The Times undertakes to assist in establishing speedily and effectively an adequate, efficient medium between the men and women who wish to give and those who suffer and are in want.

Everybody who has the spirit of giving and is able to do so is asked to join in a movement to create a fund to be used in the most effective manner possible to alleviate suffering in Los Angeles and vicinity. This fund will be administered by a committee of ten or more.

WHO WILL COMPOSE COMMITTEE

The committee will meet some time next week, between Christmas and New Year's Day, and apportion the fund among the various charitable organizations. The committee will be composed of representative members of such organizations as the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, Los Angeles Church Federation, the Shriners, Knights of Columbus, Elks, Social Service Commission, a Jewish organization, Rotary Club and Advertising Club, together with a representative of The Times.

The Times starts the fund with the hope that warm-hearted citizens will yield to the impulse of giving so natural at this season and direct their gifts in this channel rather than by confining their giving to costly presents to relatives and friends.

This fund presents both an opportunity and a privilege. Money given in this way will be directly applied through the regular, well-organized charity organizations of Los Angeles and will be apportioned by an eminent, well-informed and unbiased committee. It will be the aim of the committee to see that not a dollar—not a penny—of the money is wasted or misdirected.

Let the creation of this fund be an act of love by the citizens of Los Angeles. Let it be an outpouring of the true Christmas spirit that will react throughout the year and which will make for the givers a most happy Christmas.

EBERLE TO REMAIN AS FLEET HEAD

Reports of Retirement Are Vigorously Denied by the Chief of Staff

Reports published yesterday that Admiral E. W. Eberle would retire from command of the Pacific Fleet on April 12, 1923, and would be succeeded by Rear-Admiral Robert A. Coontz, chief of naval operations in Washington, were vigorously denied last night by Capt. W. H. Standley, chief of staff of the Pacific Fleet.

Capt. Standley declared that no official word from Washington regarding the rumored change in fleet commanders has been received.

"Absolutely no information regarding the transfer of Rear Admiral Coontz to head the Pacific Fleet has been received be stated.

As far as is known at present, Capt. Standley stated, Admiral Eberle will remain commander of the fleet until July, when his term of sea duty expires. It is likely that he will continue as commander of the fleet until next October, he said.

Admiral Eberle will command the fleet during its battle maneuvers off Panama Canal. He will return with the fleet to the local harbor on April 12, next. It was reported yesterday that he would be replaced by Rear-Admiral Coontz as commander of the fleet immediately upon his return here from the battle maneuvers and would go on shore duty. He has been commander of the fleet since July, 1920.

ASK GLASSELL WIDENING

Piru Robbery Confessed by Captives; Suspects Said to be Burglars, Bootleggers and Smugglers

A huge round-up yesterday in which raids were made by Federal and county officers and private detectives resulted in the capture of six asserted members of a gang believed responsible for bank robberies, burglaries, street-car hold-ups, bootlegging and smuggling and in the recovery of what is declared to be part of the loot obtained from the Fillmore State Bank at Piru.

All day and night the officers worked on the case, raiding six places and arresting six people for asserted complicity in the bank robbery. Approximately $6000 and 200 blank postal orders, which have been identified as loot from Piru, were recovered with evidence of several street-car hold-ups. Three men have confessed, according to the officers.

Detectives assert the band's activities include burglary, hold-ups, bootlegging, and the smuggling of Chinese, liquor and narcotics from Mexico. The arrest of an aviator said to be connected with the crowd may clear up the escape from the County Jail of Clara Phillips, it having been reported that he transported her in an airplane to Mexico.

Those under arrest and held for investigation include Jenks Harris, aged 28, believed to be the leader; Mrs. Lucy Loggins, aged 23, mother of two small children; Henry C. Loggins, aged 35, the woman's husband; Virgil B. Moore, aged 26, president of the Pacific Autoplane Company; Harold Gillete, aged 22, a film actor, and George F. Pruitt, aged 35.

SMUGGLES CHINESE?

Virgil Bert Moore, president of the Pacific Autoplane Company, and an inventor of note, was arrested late yesterday at the old Goodyear aviation field at South Park avenue and Eighty-second street by Deputy Sheriff Dewar and Detective Fitzgerald. Signed confessions by two other prisoners name Moore as a member of the organization. They declared he had received $500 for his share of the bank's loss.

Federal agents are understood to possess information that Moore has been bringing in numbers of Chinese from Mexicali, and with the assistance of the others has hidden them in Hollywood until, assured the road was clear, they rushed by automobile to San Francisco.

Moore is supposed to be in communication with "Bandit Betty," the girl hold-up who terrorized motorists and street-car men.

The information which led to the arrests of the asserted gang members was received by Harold H. Dolley, Federal prohibition agent, while investigating asserted bootlegging activities of Pruitt and his comrades. The trail took Dolley's agents to Loggins's home at 225 Larrabee street, Sherman. At the same time Deputy Sheriffs Sweesy and Aller—positively identified Harris as the leader of the robbers' band. Dolley turned over to the county officers the information his agents had obtained, and accompanied the raiders.

In addition, Deputy Sheriffs Dewar and Stensland were called in on the case, and Detectives George

BANDIT SUSPECTS QUIZZED

Auto Loaded Down With Firearms Leads to Arrest of Pair as Probable Bank Raiders

Investigation into the past activities of Gordon W. Patterson, 24 years old, and Bioca Carmini, 35 years old, held as suspects in two sensational bank robberies here Monday was being pressed by police last night. Evidence against the two men is rapidly piling up, detectives stated yesterday, and today D. R. Brundage, cashier at the Western State Bank who was forced by a bandit Monday to honor a worthless check for $1000 at the point of a gun, will be called upon to identify the suspects.

The two men were arrested by Long Beach police yesterday morning in a small car, which is registered in Patterson's name. In the car were found rifles, shotguns, revolvers and other weapons. In the car also was found a large silken handkerchief pinned into the form of a sling resembling that worn by the bandit who held up Mr. Brundage.

BROUGHT FROM BEACH

The men were brought to Los Angeles from Long Beach by Detectives Mailheau and Littlejohn and State Narcotic Inspector Earl. The car in which they were arrested was found to contain a 30-30 rifle, a shotgun, a .45 automatic pistol, a 30-20 revolver, a .32 single-action revolver and a .41-caliber derringer. Long Beach officers were led to arrest the men when they caught sight of the rifle and shotgun in the car.

A black bag, such as is used in banks for carrying money, was also found in the car.

Deputy sheriffs at Long Beach quizzed the men for several hours this morning. Patterson told the officers that he and his companion were returning from a hunting trip and that the rifle, shotgun and revolver were used by them while hunting.

Carmini, however, told the officers that he had never been hunting in his life. Several other discrepancies in their stories were also revealed by the officers after the grilling.

According to the officers the two men have been unable to give a satisfactory account of their actions and the authorities are convinced that they are connected with the hold-ups at the Western State Bank and the Walnut Park Bank. The suspects are being held on suspicion of grand larceny.

Patterson, according to the local police, is a drug addict and has been under arrest several times before.

POET'S SON SUES WIFE; SHE'S HERE

Hardin W. Masters Says He Was Deserted; Father Wrote "Spoon River"

Skillfully hidden in a prosaic bill for divorce filed in Chicago yesterday and based on her asserted desertion, is the tale of the twelve weeks' romance of Hardin W. Masters, son of Edgar Lee Masters, famous poet, attorney and author of "The Spoon River Anthology," and Mrs. Thelma Kenyon Masters, now living in Los Angeles.

Rumors of Mrs. Masters's separation from her husband have been mingled recently with reports that she would sue young Masters, a bond salesman, for separate maintenance, although she continues to insist that "Hardin is a sweet boy and I know he loves me."

The suit filed yesterday is the latest of a series of domestic turbulences in the family of the elder Masters, who, after having been sued for separate maintenance twice by Mrs. Helen Jenkin Masters, became reconciled with his wife, when their three children pleaded for harmony.

Only on Monday young Masters's aunt, Mrs. Madeline Masters Gron, was granted a divorce from Neils Gron, Danish diplomat in Portland, Me., after the introduction of sensational testimony.

CLEAN-UP OF HARBOR REDS IS PROMISED

"Wobbly Squad" Named to Combat Radicals Coming to Local Port

To facilitate the clean-up of Wobblies and other Reds at Los Angeles Harbor, Capt. C. R. Plummer of the harbor police division named Sergt. E. E. Baldwin and Patrolman Charles Wykoff as a special Wobbly squad yesterday. Baldwin, he said, has been in the harbor division ten years and knows the waterfront and the I.W.W. hangouts thoroughly. Patrolman Wykoff also is well equipped for this work, the captain said.

The Wobbly squad will co-operate with the Department of Justice and the District Attorney's office in the campaign against undesirable elements at the harbor. They had conferences with Dep. Dist.-Atty. Clark and Department of Justice officials yesterday.

Creation of the squad is due, Capt. Plummer said, to complaints by shipping and industrial influences of the influx of an unusual number of radicals from the north in the past few weeks.

Seven of the "wobbly" prisoners taken at Los Angeles Harbor Monday night were lodged in the County Jail yesterday by Detective John Dymond. They are charged with criminal syndicalism.

The eight "Wobblies" who staged a demonstration a few nights ago and were sent to the dungeon, were still there yesterday.

NOTE PLOT SUSPECT IS OUT ON BAIL

Photographer Indicted as Counterfeiter Freed on Bonds of $10,000

After his bail had been increased from $5000 to $10,000, Oscar A. Simon, photographer indicated with "Count" John Drascovits Orloff, Ivan Gladanovic and Nicola Popovic on a charge of conspiring to counterfeit Bank of England notes, was released yesterday when friends came to his rescue and put up the additional sum.

The sureties are Mrs. Nellie Colton and H. C. Colton, 655 Grand avenue, and Grace M. Bergey, [illegible] Ruby street, Pasadena. Federal officers declare it the second time in ten years that the counterfeiter has been released on bonds.

Simon, who formerly maintained a studio on North Broadway, was arraigned yesterday before U. S. Commissioner Long. The bail was increased on request of George W. Hazen, Treasury Department agent, who declared that Simon was the leader of the conspiracy.

"Simon was the photographer and made possible the manufacture of the bogus notes," said Hazen, who declares that the accused man occupied rooms with Popovic on North Spring street before removing to 1354 North Broadway, where he conducted the studio since February. Simon asserts that Popovic rented quarters of him for purposes unknown to him.

Hazen also says that a local firm made the numbering machine used in the manufacture of the spurious notes.

TO IMPROVE WEST SECOND

The improvement of West Second street, between Glendale Boulevard and First street, was ordered yesterday by the City Council, in pursuance of its policy of paving streets leading to the Second-street tunnel.

OIL MAN VICTIM OF BANDIT TRIO

Highwaymen Take $1913 Cash in Hold-up

Fusillade of Shots Prevents Aid From Station

Work Well Planned; Escape Made in Auto

Three daring bandits late yesterday held up and robbed Don A. Baird, collector for the Shell Oil Company, of $1913.09 in cash, checks and coupons, fired a fusillade of shots at several employees of the company who attempted to come to the victim's aid, and then escaped in an automobile which had been parked near the scene of the robbery.

The hold-up was staged within 100 feet of the main entrance to the Shell Company's yard offices at 1188 Alhambra Road, and was witnessed by a number of employees. The money represented the receipts at the company's yard office for the day.

The bandits apparently were familiar with Mr. Baird's actions. Each afternoon he takes the receipts of the company from the yard office to a bank. Yesterday he followed this procedure. He carried the money in a bag, which he had placed in the car near him.

After he had driven about fifty feet from the entrance, two men suddenly leaped upon the running board of his car. They both covered him with their revolvers. From the rear of the machine, where he had hidden, a third bandit made his appearance. The last bandit grabbed Baird about the neck and the car lurched wildly into the fence surrounding the company's yards.

Attracted by the noise of the collision, a number of the company's employees rushed out and saw the bandits struggling with their victim. Several of them attempted to rush to his aid but the three bandits opened fire, driving the would-be rescuers back to the yards.

Detective Sergeant Verey and Detectives Kuckendall, Berry and MacKay have been assigned to investigate the hold-up. Mr. Baird stated that the bandits obtained $1350 in cash and the remainder was in checks and company coupons.

NEWS TO ME, SAYS WANDA ON DIVORCE

Miss Hawley, Screen Star, Refuses to Commit About Husband's Rumored Suit

"It's all news to me; I have nothing further to say."

This was the only statement that could be obtained last night from Wanda Hawley, blond screen beauty who has been starred in many features, when she was asked concerning reports received from the east that she and her husband had separated and that Burton Hawley, the husband, was about to file a divorce action in Buffalo, N. Y.

Miss Hawley now resides at the Sycamore apartments in Hollywood. She refused to come to the telephone, but transmitted the message after inquiring who it was wanted.

Mr. Hawley, formerly in the real estate and later in an electrical appliance business here, was in the Navy during the World War. Their marriage was considered to mark the culmination of one of the picturesque romances of the film world.

LOVE BIRDS COO AGAIN

Stern Parent Defied by Young Bride Who Risks Her Fortune to Return to Husband

Mrs. Olga Crane Lynch, aged 18, went to her husband, T. J. Lynch, yesterday, thought it may cost her $250,000 and though her father declared he would cast her off.

This was the conclusion of efforts made by the District Attorney's office to iron out the troubles of the young couple, following a charge made by Lynch, who is 21 years old, that his father-in-law, Frederick Grover of 4415 Cameron avenue had threatened his life and was keeping his wife from him by force. Mrs. Lynch, it was said by her mother, had $250,000 left her on condition that she marry within her own faith. She is a Protestant and her husband a Catholic.

Lynch, a former student at the University of Southern California and present Standard Oil Company employee, and the young heiress eloped to Santa Ana September 1, and were married. Mrs. Lynch returned home and for a time kept the ceremony secret, but later admitted it to her parents, who promptly forbade her seeing her husband, it appeared yesterday from the investigation.

The young husband got a smuggled note telling him of this state of affairs and appealed to the police and District Attorney for aid. After Lynch had talked with Capt. Hunter of the Bureau of Investigation, Detective George Contreras brought Mr. and Mrs. Grover to the office of Dep. Dist.-Atty. McClelland.

There the father stoutly insisted yesterday that his daughter was in San Francisco.

"She has decided to live away from her husband for six months to see if she really loves him," said Mr. Grover. "I understood that Lynch had acquiesced in this arrangement."

Further questioning by Mr. McClelland, however, brought an admission from the father that the girl was in Los Angeles, and the truth of this admission was presently evidenced when Detective Contreras walked in with the girl. Her first act on entering the room was to give her husband a big hug and a kiss.

"I am of age. I love my husband and I'm going to live with him," she declared. Then she told of her parents' opposition to the marriage and said that she had left home to join her husband.

As the girl outlined her story and gave her declaration of independence, her father grew more and more angry.

"As sure as God is my judge I'll never have anything more to do with her," he burst out.

"My trunk is packed, I have a ticket to New York, and if there's a train out tonight I'm going and never come back here."

Mrs. Lynch simply clung tighter to her husband, but made no response. They went away together.

The husband's brother, Michael Lynch, was quoted as saying the match was made without the consent of either set of parents and in the face of their opposition. The Lynches live at 1154 West Tenth street.

STAR'S .. FURNITURE .. UNDER .. GAVEL

Night Auction Result of Actor's Marital Troubles

IF FURNITURE could talk, there might be quite a story told at 8 p.m. today when the house and furnishings of Anita Gibson Finigan at 2203 West Tenth street, are disposed of at public auction.

It was in this house, according to a cross-complaint filed last October by Ray Finigan, known on the screen as Ray Hanford, in answer to his wife's divorce proceedings, that asserted "gay parties" were held at which the feminine guests attired themselves in decollete from his wife's wardrobe and paraded before the men present.

The hearing of the charges has been postponed until next spring but meanwhile Mrs. Finigan is said to have received the house on Tenth street as a result of a settlement between the two parties. It is valued, with the furnishings, at $100,000. The furnishings alone are said to have cost more than $25,000, many of them having been imported from foreign countries.

Because of the possibilities offered by the house for brilliant lighting display, the unique plan for a night auction was conceived by the E. O. McCormick Company, which has charge of the proceedings. This is said to be the first night auction of real estate property ever held in Los Angeles.

HAYS VISITS REID SICK ROOM

should be known," he declared. "If the rumors circulated are lies, a public vindication is due the city and the motion-picture industry, and the ministerial body should assist."

Billy and Betty, Wallace Reid's two children, were taken to the sanatorium to see him yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Alice Davenport, the film star's mother-in-law.

Too weak to raise his head, Reid waved his hand and smiled as the children came into the room.

"Where's Dot, mother?" he asked Mrs. Davenport, referring to his wife, who had stayed away to avoid exciting him unnecessarily. "Why isn't she at my party?"

Mrs. Davenport explained that it was nearing Christmas, and that "Dot" had much shopping to do. The children stayed but a few minutes, and shortly after they had left, Mrs. Reid arrived. She intends to bring a tiny Christmas tree to "Wally" on Sunday night, having spent yesterday morning decorating it.

Reid has very little strength. But his mind is clear, his eyes are bright and he is able to speak slowly.

At the meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners yesterday Commissioner De la Monte suggested to Chief Oaks that he send in to the board a similar request for a secret service appropriation to enforce the Wright prohibition enforcement law, as it will be necessary to employ investigators not known to the bootleggers and other handlers of contraband liquor in order to get evidence leading to their conviction.

Chief Oaks said that while, under the $10,000 appropriation for work against the narcotic dealers, many violations of the Wright Act undoubtedly would be uncovered, at least $10,000 additional would be required for liquor law enforcement activities under the new State law.

TRAFFIC INCREASES

That the dope traffic in Los Angeles has been increasing during the fall months, indicating a well-managed central organization with unusual facilities for getting the "stuff," was admitted yesterday at headquarters of the police narcotic squad.

Nine peddlers and fifty-eight addicts were arrested between the 1st and 19th insts., with prospects that the number will reach 100 or more by the end o the month. There were ninety-seven arrests in November, which set a record for the city.

Police records show that peddlers get sentences averaging a year each, while addicts are sentenced to from three months to 180 days each.

SEEK "ONE MAN"

"This dope does not come in promiscuously," said an officer of the squad. "We believe there is one man at the head of a 'dope ring,' and we are making every effort to reach him. Some of the peddlers get their supplies from burglars who specialize on drug stores, but the burglaries do not account for the amount of dope there is in circulation.

"Besides taking sixty-seven prisoners we have seized $8000 to $10,000 worth of narcotics, principally cocaine and morphine."

Police statistics show, it was said, that 90 per cent of the drug addicts arrested also are criminals, usually burglars or sneak thieves, and that 80 per cent became criminals after acquiring the drug habit.

MORE ADDICTS MEN

These addicts are unable to work, it was said, and they resort to thievery to get money with which to purchase their drug supplies. They seem to lack the nerve for robbery and the bolder forms of crime. The majority of addicts are men, though a number of women addicts have been arrested.

One man arrested as an addict recently, it was said, is likely to lose one of his arms as a result of repeated injections of alum, which was sold to him as morphine by a peddler.

The experiment has been tried of sending some of the addicts to Patton asylum for treatment, but of forty sent there thirty-nine have escaped and disappeared.

The police narcotic squad consists of Detective Sergts. Hamilton, Hawtrey, Mailheau and Littlejohn, co-operating with Inspector Earl of the State Board of Pharmacy.

SMALL CLIENT LIST

That William Williams, facing trial on drug-peddling charges as a result of the narcotic squad's raid on his apartment on West Eleventh street, New York, last week, was selling his wares to not more than a half dozen persons in any one locality, was the assertion yesterday of Dr. Carleton Simon, special deputy police commissioner in New York.

"Williams had the unusual faculty," said Dr. Simon, "of making agents of all his clients, who do not number more than a half dozen here.

"Instead of selling directly to a large number of drug users, Williams sold to those few persons and they in turn peddled the stuff, from all indications, to other users."

That Williams may have shipped cocaine and morphine directly to Wallace Reid in Los Angeles is indicated by a memorandum found among his effects, and made public yesterday in New York. The notation, which is written on the back of a piece cut from a theatrical photograph, reads:

"October 8, express W. R., Los Angeles, 2 card cases, 8 coats and 6 muffs."

"Coats" is code for cocaine and "muffs" for morphine, Dr. Simon believes, but what "card cases" refers to is problematical.

Deputy Simon's operatives are searching for an unidentified woman believed to have been a go-between for Williams and a large number of stage persons in New York addicted to drugs. This woman is described as a tall, handsome blonde, on intimate terms with many of the stage stars on Broadway.

WOMEN INVITED TO NEWSBOYS' DINNER

Women whose maternal instinct extends to unfortunate children are invited by Fred H. Solomon to participate as patronesses at the Christmas dinner he is giving on Monday to 2000 newsboys of the city, at the Penny Dance De Luxe in Grand avenue between Ninth and Tenth streets.

Women willing to be present should send their names to Miss Glenna Syfert, secretary of the Penny Dance De Luxe, as soon as possible. They are requested to be on hand at 10 a.m. Christmas Day.

SEIZE BANDITS, BANK MONEY

HOUSE ENTERED

Pruitt was sighted at the corner of Santa Monica Boulevard and Vermont avenue by the officers, and trailed to the Loggins home. Entrance was forced by Dolley and Fitzgerald while the house was surrounded. A possible fight was averted when Pruitt recognized Mr. Dolley, and misinterpreted his mission.

Both Loggins and Pruitt denied implication in the hold-up. A search of the house revealed a trunk, a veritable treasure chest. In the trunk was found loot from the Piru bank. Stacks of travelers' checks were heaped a foot deep, the corners of the trunk were weighted down by gold and silver, done up in bags. A large amount of stamps, and blank postal orders, worth hundreds of thousands if cleverly forged and floated, were hidden there. The checks were valued at $3900. The coin was estimated at several hundred dollars. Two old-fashioned revolvers that Jenks used in camera work, but which the officers say he employe don occasion in "real life" drama, also were found.

Taken to the office of the Burns agency, and subjected to a grilling Loggins and Pruitt admitted they had entered the Piru branch of the Fillmore State Bank the 11th inst., taking $5000 in coin and currency with the stamps and checks kidnaping President C. F. Spenced and his 6-year-old daughter Mary Ella, and driving them to Los Angeles.

The confession stated the four men, Harris, Loggins, Pruitt and Gillette, divided the money at the Goodyear aviation field, giving Moore about $500 and receiving $1325 each in cash as their share. The men also stated they expected to meet there late Tuesday to go to Mexicali for Chinese. Pruitt turned over $345, al lthat was left of his share.

LEADER CONFESSES

While the prisoners were taken to jail in a suburban town to guard against leaks, an automobile load of officers located Harris in the Sequoia Hotel, 619 South Olive street. He at first offered resistance, but when Dewar went through the door like a truck load of sand, he interposed no objection and discussed his situation freely. A care-free Oklahoma plainsman, he admitted he conceived the idea of the robbery while on "location" at Piru. He spent twenty-five days there with Herbert Rawlinson, filming "Confidence." In the picture he played the part of a hardy mountain marshal, protecting pay rolls with a ready pistol.

"Dad always told me if I did something to do a big job," he told his captors, "and I thought I saw my chance at Piru. Now don't bother me, 'cause I'm hiring out to the government."

He said he had sent $700 to his father in Blanchard, Okla., to lift a mortgage from his home.

From his cell in the Santa Monica Jail last night, Harris issued a statement in which he declared that he had never broken the law prior to the bank robbery, and that he robbed the bank to lift the mortgage on his parents' home in Oklahoma. His statement named Gillette, Loggins and Truitt as his confederates.

Gillette drove the car, Harris declared. He said he first became acquainted with Gillette at the Universal studio, where the latter used his car to take the film folk "on location."

Loggins was a boyhood chum, Harris stated, and asserted their original idea was to smuggle Chinese across the Mexican border at $500 a head. The erstwhile film actor expressed his willingness to accept punishment for his crime, and announced his intention of "going straight" after he served his prison sentence.

Harold Gillette was arrested at his apartment at 111 South Beaudry. He declined to talk. Officers took $80 from him. He accompanied officers to a near-by garage, where his expensive car, said to have been used at Piru, was taken into custody.

WOMAN IS SOUGHT

Belief was expressed that a woman, who recently left for the East, can be identified as "Bandit Betty," a familiar figure in midnight hold-ups. A warrant for her arrest was asked yesterday. She is asserted to have been a member of the gang. Mrs. Loggins and her two children were taken to a downtown hotel by Mrs. Belle Dewolfe, a deputy sheriff, to be kept in custody until her connection with the band, is thoroughly investigated.

Federal prohibition agents set out late yesterday to raid a still hidden high in the mountains, where an ex-convict turned out moonshine peddled by the bootlegging section of the organization. The place is advantageously located upon a peak, where the operator of the still can see for miles, and flee when he observes an attacking party.

BISHOP CANNON TO SPEAK

Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, who recently returned from Constantinople, will be the chief speaker at a meeting to be conducted at Trinity Methodist Church this evening. Bishop Cannon will speak on "Conditions in the Near East." The public is invited.

Special interest attached to the soprano solos of Margaret De Mers, artist pupil of Mabelle Everett, sing to the accompaniment of Marjorie Hick-Hall. Miss De Mers is possessed of a soprano voice of rare quality, clearly intoned, flexible in all registers and rich in charm. The truth of this found expression last night in "By the Waters of Minnetonka," by Lieurance, "My Mother Bids Me Bind My Hair," by Haydn, "Night Wind," by Farley, "Under the Greenwood Tree," by Bucci-Pecci, and "Lullaby," by Brahms.

Three exquisite violin solos born of the superb artistry of Allan McDaniel, who was ably accompanied by Mrs. Allan McDaniel, gave radio listeners something long to remember. Godard's "Berceuse," from "Jocelyn," "Souvenir de Lubeck, by Gustav Riecken, and "Mazurka," by Mlynarski, formed the group which Mr. McDaniel interpreted last night. His technique was faultless; his sense of artistic values refreshing.

Old and Young Will Share in Christmas Joy

Christmas cheer will be apportioned indiscriminately to children and grown-ups by the Echo Mothers' Club at a Christmas festival to be given at Echo Park Friday evening. The festival will start with an outdoor program at 7:30 p.m. which will consist of community singing led by A. Rae Condit.

In addition there will be a vocal solo by Miss Marcella Newcomb, a cornet solo by E. R. Stewart, singing of Christmas carols by the St. Athanasius choir, a violin solo by Miss Margaret Zorkes and a whistling solo by members of the Mothers' Club. Miss Gladys Richardson will act as accompanist for the various singers and musicians.

Distribution of Christmas gifts to the children from a large Community Christmas tree and an indoor party for children in the clubhouse will follow the program.

AMBASSADOR HARVEY SILENT ON ORDERS

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, Dec. 19.—Ambassador Harvey has declined to clear up the confusion over his homecoming occasioned by the publication here yesterday of what purported to be the facts as to why he was asked to go to Washington.

The official announcement from the American Embassy here, which one member of the Embassy staff said came as a surprise, read that Mr. Harvey was "summoned." The Ambassador said last night he stood on that word alone without clarifying whether he was summoned at his own request.

WIFE'S ILLNESS WINS REDUCTION OF BAIL

The illness of his wife got H. C. Staggs released on his own recognizance yesterday when he was arraigned with Frank Thompson and C. E. Funnell before Judge Shenk, charged with violation of the "blue sky" law. All three pleaded not guilty and their trial was set for January 11.

Judge Shenk reduced Stagg's bail from $10,000 to $1000 and let him go for five days to look after his wife. It is asserted the three men sold shares of the National Consolidated Petroleum Company in violation of the conditions of the permit given by the Corporation Commissioner.

FAIR AND WARMER

It was up to the weather man to get us out of the drenches by Christmas.

POLAND'S TRAGEDY

Popular government has an uphill prospect when a new regime is not even given the benefit of one week's trial. Better things were expected in Poland. But we are thankful it was not Paderewski.

HAD A KICK IN IT

Congressman Keller has joined that vast but slightly ignoble army composed of men who bite off more than they can chew. The gallows he had prepared for the Attorney-General turned out to be a petard for his own hoisting.

A WEE NIPPLE

There seems to be something of a scandal over the circumstances that Scotch whisky was served in nursing bottles at a banquet in Boston at which over 1000 guests were present. Being brought up on the bottle means a rocky rearing in Boston.

OUR PET MURDERESS

We seem to have a new hostess in murderers' row at the County Jail, but the arrival is merely the heroine of a rather sordid barnyard triangle and does not strongly appeal to the sob sisters. She can hardly hope to succeed to the throne of Clara, Madalynne or Louise.

PAVING THE WAY

Wonder of wonders! The city of Anaheim is building a junior high school without issuing a special invoice of bonds. This is a remarkable feat in these days of long-distance finance. The temptation to throw our financial burdens upon the future is usually irresistible. A high school without a bond issue is as rare as a white horse.

PICTURES IN JAPAN

Over 25,000 pounds of American films went from Los Angeles to Japan the other day in a single shipment. Possibly the circumstances that there were some Arbuckle pictures may have added to the weight of the shipment. But Tokio is still chummy enough with California to like our films, even if they give the little brown men the worst of it now and then.

THE GOLD DIGGERS

Gold discoveries in Labrador mean nothing to us. We would rather own a vacant lot in Hollywood than a gold mine off Hudson Bay. Why is it they persist in chasing gold in such forbidding sections as Labrador and the Klondike? There is more fun in picking figs in Southern California than there is in hunting gold in the shadow of Greenland's icy mountains—and just as much money.

TAKING A BATH

There's a man in the Long Beach jail who has not had a bath in ten years. What's the matter with the ocean down there? It was supposed to be exclusively for bathing purposes. In this particular case the judge promised to cut the penalty in half if the defendant would take a bath. Why this sissified treatment? Why not order the prisoner dropped off the pier in seven fathoms of brine and have it over with? Do they have to give criminals a bonus with a bath?

HARBOR HAPPENINGS

San Francisco is justifiably proud of the commerce of her port, which in October aggregated the impressive total of 918,600 tons. By the way, the shipping at the Los Angeles Harbor for the same month was computed at 1,204,000 tons. The port of Los Angeles is comparatively new in world shipping. What will the business be when we get into full stride? Our harbor improvement program should be based upon the possibility of this becoming the leading commercial port of the world—and at an early date, at that.

INFANT HAZARDS

According to the actuaries and experts the business of being a baby is the most hazardous undertaking in America. The infant mortality of the nation is terrifying. After the perils of childhood are passed hope beams brightly, but the death rate among youngsters is still frightfully high in spite of the progress in medical science and of the special attention given to the young. A preacher has fourteen chances for life against one for a first-year infant. Sometimes it would seem that the rough-and-tumble methods under which the pioneers reared their young were best, after all. Bringing up babies in hothouses or glass cases is not an assurance of health and safety.

LOOKING BACKWARD

The tomb of Tutenkhamun has been opened in connection with the work of delvers at Luxor, in ancient Egypt. Tutenkhamun was a King who ruled in Egypt some 3300 years ago, but his corpse was found to be in excellent condition for one who had been dead for so long. It looked as if the pall-bearers had just left the place. The explorers even found the birthmark on his body—the sinister remembrance of the fact that his father was kicked to death by his horse before he was born. They had some mighty good embalmers in old Egypt. They could fix up the dead ones so that not even the flight of centuries could spoil them. When this Tutenkhamun was opened up he looked as if he was all set for the next waltz.

DE VALERA PASSES

Out of the smoke and confusion of an Ireland blackened by flame and stained with blood comes the report that Eamonn De Valera has been captured by Free State troops while returning from mass and will shortly be forced to face a firing squad.

De Valera, fanatic, dreamer, patriot, traitor—perhaps a madman—how many crimes, how much violence has been committed in that name!

Where he has passed the trail is marked in blood and smoking embers. He dreamed the dream of an Irish republic, taking its place among the free nations of the earth; of a restoration of the Gaelic language and customs.

For him the end justified the means. An amputation was necessary in order that Ireland should be separated from England; and, even under the knife of the most skillful surgeon, an amputation is attended by an effusion of blood.

When England was hardest pressed in the dark years of the World War he called the friends of Irish freedom to arms, adopting the slogan, "England's extremity is Ireland's opportunity."

England was forced to fight foreign foes on four fronts, and an Irish rebellion at home. The flame of the insurrection was subdued, but the embers smoldered, through the war and after.

Friends of England, most all of her allies, resented this attempt of the Irish to win their political liberty at a time when the liberties of all self-governing people were menaced. They held that "the road to Irish freedom is the road to France." At the Peace Conference the wrongs of Ireland received scant consideration; for it was held that she did not come before the Allied tribunal with clean hands.

De Valera remained, however, the hero, almost the saint, of the ardent friends of the Irish republic. But he was a dreamer, not a leader of men; a Robespierre rather than a Cromwell or a Washington.

Collins, Griffith and other resolute Irishmen continued the guerrilla warfare against British occupation until the British government, exhausted and wearied of the whole Irish controversy, entered into an agreement with the de facto Irish government, which took the form of the constitution of the Irish Free State.

Most of those who had borne the brunt of the fighting accepted this compromise. In a general election it was ratified by a majority of the Irish people. But De Valera continued to dream. He was crusading for a phrase, the Irish republic.

Ireland became a house divided against itself. Griffith died suddenly, perhaps poisoned. Collins was shot down from ambush. De Valera set up another phantom government in opposition to that of the Free State. And the burning and slaying continue unabated.

Now De Valera's turn has come. He has been condemned by the Dail Eireann that he helped to constitute; and he is about to be publicly executed as a traitor to Ireland. It is the French Revolution over again, played by a different cast on a smaller scale. The last act is now due, the advent of Napoleon. But who is the Irish Bonaparte?

CALIFORNIA FOR LONG LIFE

According to Dr. Walter M. Dickie, secretary of the State Board of Health, the average of life in California has definitely lengthened in the past decade. The most remarkable feature in Dr. Dickie's report is the smaller number of Californians who die under the age of 10 and the greater number that live beyond the scriptural limit.

Beyond a doubt the decrease in child mortality in California is due to the immense amount of work done in this State for the preservation of infant life, to campaigns of education and the regulations of the health authorities. Favorable climatic conditions, low humidity, the vogue of the out-of-doors, general high social and hygienic standards and an abundance of ripe fruit and fresh vegetables on hand all the year 'round are some of the chief contributory agencies to Californian longevity.

Results obtained from the study of large groups form the only reliable measure by which to gauge the general climatic effects of a special locality on the health of its inhabitants. Isolated cases of centenarians and their alleged reasons for their exceptional longevity represent only a wide variety of inconsistencies. Thus comparing longevity in the United States with other countries we get definite results showing the average length of life in Australia exceeds that of our country as a whole. To this we couple the fact that the average of life in California exceeds the average for the United States.

The climates of California and Australia are more alike than the climates of any other two countries. Therefore, we may fairly conclude that the chief factor in the unusual longevity found among the inhabitants of California is the unusual climatic conditions under which they live.

AMERICAN KIDS

You can't beat American kids. They may not be as well trained as some children, as respectful to their parents or anybody else or obedient to the old-fashioned law that "children should be seen and not heard." But when it comes to enterprise and resourcefulness they are "there." And maybe, after all, that is what grows to make the spirit of America.

Up in Seattle, for instance, the coasting is good just now. The boys with sleds and "bobs" have appropriated to their own uses all the best streets for coasting. Where the hills are long the coasters' tracks pass half a dozen intersecting streets, and in the first day or two of the coasting season there were several collisions between sleds and motor cars crossing the track on these streets.

No doubt in some countries the police immediately would have put an end to coasting. But the Seattle kids beat them to it. They foresaw trouble and provided against it. They organized their own volunteer traffic squad and now kids with red lanterns stand at all the crossings and either make the motorists turn back or wait till the track is clear.

And the motorists grin and like it. Who wouldn't?

Nothing can beat kids with a spirit like that. It is easy to foresee a bright future for them. Doubtless, when their coasting days are over, most of them will come to Los Angeles and grow up to be great and famous citizens.

ARISTOCRACY OF CHARACTER

Following closely in the footsteps of President Hopkins of Dartmouth, who recently declared that what American colleges need is "an aristocracy of brains," Dr. George Barton Cutten, president of Colgate University, derides what he terms "the delusion of democracy" and calls general suffrage "the greatest and most popular failure."

Dr. Cutten has gone Dr. Hopkins one better by declaring: "Manhood suffrage was our greatest and most popular failure until we doubled it by granting universal adult suffrage. It was the height of folly to permit persons mentally subnormal to vote merely because they were males, but it was just as foolish to deny the privilege to highly intelligent persons merely because they were females. We have not improved things in the least by extending suffrage to twice as many persons of the same mentality."

Dr. Cutten, who has the doctor's degree in philosophy, laws and divinity, finds many individuals in agreement with him; he says, in his belief, that we should restrict the ballot by mental tests and raise the quality of government. There are others who characterize his remarks as those of a man who is talking through his hat.

When Dr. Hopkins talked about "an aristocracy of brains" a great hue and cry went up throughout the country by supersensitive persons who saw in the phrase something synonymous with "barons" and "feudal castles" and "enslaved minorities."

But whatever its connotation, as applied to social and economic theories, the term was easily understandable to those who think. And those who think quite agreed with Dr. Hopkins that altogether too many men are going to college with no other purpose than to slide through four years of fun on the old man's bank roll.

Probably this same group will agree with Dr. Cutten that our "delusion of democracy" is very real for the reason that the democracy we boast is much overdone.

But the distinguished gentlemen who plead for scholastic and political aristocracies have somehow curiously overlooked the fact that, while America's aristocracy of brains is building great things for America, there is a greater aristocracy, the aristocracy of character, without which we cannot hope for enduring progress.

ASTUTE LION HUNTING

Hunting lions has always been viewed by stay-at-homes as a hazardous avocation, fraught with possibilities of frightful consequences. Thrilling, adventurous, but extremely difficult and nerve-racking. But now comes a Mr. Graham of Chicago with the cheering information that killing old Leo is the simplest pastime in the world. Mere child's play. Every year he hies himself to Mexico to track the denizens of the forests to their lairs. The mountain lion is not so formidable as his African cousin, but he is of a peevish nature, especially when cornered or sore beset.

Since California offers a goodly supply of lions for the hunter, as well as a liberal bounty on each one killed, here is an opportunity for the astute hunter who wishes to combine business with pleasure. All that is necessary is to follow Mr. Graham's simple system and you can easily acquire an ample supply of pocket money as well as a possible reputation as Ananias's successor.

The prime requisite is to first find your lion. Having located your quarry, you chase him into a cave. It is understood that the sagacious hunter will have had the foresight to choose a countryside abounding in caves, as well as tall timber to take to in case the system fails. You then place a lighted candle on the end of a ten-foot pole and blithely crawl in after the victim. This constitutes the original part of the scheme. The further the animal retreats the more vehemently you wave the candle in his face, singeing his whiskers and otherwise reducing him to a state of abject terror. When he ceases to emit his blood-curdling growls you know that you have him hypnotized and you flip out of the cave, with his leonine majesty following after. The facetious might inquire as to what you do when he catches up with you. But herein lies the cleverness of the whole idea. He is still in a state of coma, and before he recovers his senses and his appetite you shoot him between the eyes.

It is a neat and engaging plan, but it is a safe prediction that mountain lions will continue to devastate the California park sanctuaries of their deer without their numbers being greatly decimated by hunters armed with candles and hypnotic intentions.

TWO MINUTES OF OPTIMISM

BY HERMAN J. STICH

The Animal Trainer Discourses.

It's this way, the animal trainer was saying: There's a heap of resemblance, to my mind, between wolves and men. No, I don't mean what you think I mean. Every pack of wolves, like every group of men, has its leader. Occasionally a young wolf, feeling that he ought to be leader of the pack, will dash out and rush ahead of the leader. In the wolf kingdom this is a challenge. The old wolf becomes enraged at the ambitious young upstart, snaps at him, gives him a gash or two and sends him back into the pack for his pains. Maybe the youngster tries it again, and again he receives his souvenirs and is sent back trailing.

For the average young wolf, averred the animal trainer, a brace or two of "service stripes" suffice to make him decide to stay in the ranks, and there he stays for life, one of the led. But every once in a while there will crop out an animal who, though he has absorbed a couple of good beatings, can't content himself with loafing behind with the pack, who stubbornly continues to edge forward, creeps up closer and closer till, finally, pulling himself together, he again challenges the leader. The young wolf may fail a dozen times; but if he keeps on trying, challenging the old wolf time and again, it is only a matter of time before he becomes the leader of the pack.

Of course, conceded the animal trainer, natural ability counts for much; but fundamentally it is because of this undownable desire to be up front that the young wolf becomes leader of his pack and that leaders among us humans become pre-eminent. The woods are full of wolves and men who try hard for a time, but quit after one or two reverses. It's the animal who is a glutton for punishment and who, to be up front, will cheerfully come back for "more," that ultimately leads the running.

RIPPLING RHYMES

NOT WORTH WHILE

It's vain to get excited if wrongs should go unrighted, it's vain to weep and moan and tear your beard to tatters, for nothing really matters and nothing's worth a groan. If gnashing teeth and ranting and frenzied gallivanting would cure a single ill I'd say, "Why, then, get busy and whoop until you're dizzy, it's sinful to be still." When troubles gather round me, attempting to confound me, I do not shed a sigh; I know that by tomorrow my little bunch of sorrow will shrivel up and die. For troubles perish early unless we're sore and surly and make of them our pets; the wise man winks at trouble and blows a soap-suds bubble and slumbers and forgets. Oh, why get mad as hatters when nothing really matters, when nothing's here to stay? The gusty wind now rising with energy surprising will blow our griefs away. Here nothing is a fixture, and life's a queer old mixture of sigh and sneeze and smile; the years are onward sweeping and anything like weeping is never worth our while. The sighing man's a rabbit and weeping is a habit that should disgrace a loon; and still the briny splatters, though nothing really matters, we go away so soon.

WALT MASON.

Now for the Tournament of Roses. Is everybody set?

The steel-head trout season is open and they are catching the limits—at the sporting goods stores.

It was a long time between drinks at the meeting yesterday of the Governors and President Harding.

The official majority of Friend W. Richardson for Governor was 228,915 votes. By the way, what was the name of his competitor?

Another colored man has been burned to death in Florida. Another reason why the Democrats in Congress choked the Dyer anti-lynching bill to death.

A local clergyman preached on the subject: "What Is Hell"? Personally, we are of the opinion that to be "broke" this yuletide season comes mighty near it.

Down in the Imperial Valley they don't care so much who makes the laws of the country so long as they have the contract to furnish all the lettuce the East needs.

See Col. Bill Wrigley of the Chicago Cubs has turned over several players and $15,000 to Bill Wrigley of the Angels for a Coast pitcher. Ain't baseball a wonderful game?

The participation of the United States in the question of German reparation will no doubt go no further than to insist that, whatever Germany is to pay, that it be in real money.

The Wright law becomes effective on December 21. If the enactment is unconstitutional why did the wets of California spend so much money to defeat it in the last election?

The open season for Presidents has opened in Poland. The assassination of the new Executive of that country recalled the murder of McKinley in the autumn of 1901. The acts were almost exactly alike.

Ohio is perking up. A Columbus girl, Miss Lucille Atcherson, is the first woman ever appointed to the diplomatic service, and Florence E. Allen of Cleveland has just taken the oath as an Associate Justice of the State Supreme Court, the first woman in the world to be so honored. And all this, in addition to being the mother of Presidents.

THIS IS THE DAY

South Carolina was the first State to secede from the Union on the question of State rights in the year 1860. Thus South Carolina was the first of the Confederate States that combined in civil war against the authority of the United States.

EUROPEAN CLOSE-UP

BY S. FRED HOGUE

Lloyd George Seeks Revenge.
Polish Government Sans Poles.

Since he is no longer the head of the British government Lloyd George is falling in public esteem almost as rapidly as he rose. Some of the things he is saying were much better left unsaid. His enemies are saying serenely, "I told you so," and his friends feel deeply the humiliation that he has helped to bring upon him.

Since he has passed into the opposition he has begun a one-man crusade against France. It is not apparent that any good can come from this attack, whose only purpose serves to embarrass the Bonar Law government at a time when any rift between the Allies will redound to the advantage of their enemies.

In a recent article contributed to the press he said:

He also asserts with apparent gratification that the disclosures which he has made since his government fell were responsible for the breakdown of the recent conference of premiers at London.

If this be true, he has played the part neither of a good Briton nor a good sport. He has proved the contention of his enemies that he is a dangerous man to be placed in a position of great responsibilities.

It does not come with good grace from the former Premier to talk about "impossible terms." If those terms are impossible it is because Lloyd George was unequal to the task imposed upon him at a very critical period in his country's history. For, if they are impossible now, they were impossible when he advocated them and helped to write them four years ago.

In the English elections four years ago Lloyd George asserted in a score of public addresses that Germany could pay and should pay; that she would not be permitted to escape the responsibility for her crimes. Now he asserts the terms of that treaty were impossible of fulfillment and intimates that he never believed they could be carried out.

It is but natural that his enemies should accuse him of having resorted to charlatanism in order to carry a British election. When the Allied conference was in session in 1919 the French made an open demand that Germany be driven from the left bank of the Rhine. Their commissioners asserted that the Rhine was the natural frontier between the two countries, the only one that could be defended without keeping under arms a military force of several hundred thousand men.

The French commissioners proposed that the territory on the left bank should be made into an independent state, a second Belgium. They surrendered on this point only when the British and American commissioners gave their assent to the three-power agreement, which neither the British nor the American governments ratified.

Since Germany has defaulted on reparation payments an influential group in France has been advocating the military occupation of this territory until Germany pays. This proposal will be considered, among others, when the Allied premiers meet in Paris in January.

Lloyd George is adding neither to his personal popularity nor aiding in the restoration of permanent peace in Europe by trying to embitter the relations between the English and French at this time.

He played a very important part during the closing years of the World War, and played it well. When the Allied fortunes were at the lowest ebb he never faltered; and for this he will be held in grateful memory by all free peoples. As a war Premier he was without an equal; and it is with profound regret that millions of his admirers see him following a course now that they cannot approve.

KILLING SANTA CLAUS

BY ALMA WHITAKER

Both Russia and the United States are attacking the old gentleman in their own way.

Horrible cable reports from Russia declare that the Bolshevik government disapproves of Santa Claus and proposes to execute him forthwith. He is, they say, an arch-impostor, a shameful deception imposed upon the young and innocent mind—a bunko artist in whom it is a crime to foster any faith. He must go, Russia will have none of him.

In the United States, on the other hand, we are killing him by superexploitation. We have commercialized him, multiplied him recklessly, cheapened him, debased him, so that every iota of glamour and mystery has been taken from him. Every department store, every hotel, every club, every charity organization has a Santa Claus of its own. He can be seen at every street corner—and not giving but selling, not a benefactor but a salesman, not blessing but cadging.

In Russia they forbid the children to believe in Santa Claus. In America we make it impossible.

Charlotte Perkins Stetson Gilman has written an article in which she both disapproves of the gentleman and deplores his commercialization. She, like the Russians, considers Santa Claus and the Santa Claus idea all wrong and utterly deplorable. Yet she waxes indignant at his commercial exploitation. But surely nothing could effect the unhallowed demise of Santa Claus so effectually as this system of [illegible] debasing him. [illegible] a child who could [illegible] Claus after [illegible] replicas of him, [illegible] be the original [illegible] block on Broadway?

There are more ways [illegible] of killing a cat. [illegible] ways than one of [illegible] lic idol. In Russia [illegible] Santa Claus will [illegible] oppression. In America [illegible] killing him with [illegible] slushy sentimentality [illegible] his funeral is [illegible] near future. [illegible] will die with [illegible] military honors [illegible] America he will [illegible] and degradation [illegible] mourned.

Perhaps the old [illegible] outlived his day. [illegible] kindly, benevolent [illegible] meant well and [illegible] gladness in his time [illegible] rather better [illegible] ignominy [illegible] the victim of [illegible] ficiency, [illegible] materialism, [illegible] salesmanship.

But some of us [illegible] eration, will pay [illegible] of a parting [illegible] he was one of [illegible] sions. [illegible] out we loved [illegible] jolly, old [illegible] old sinner [illegible] nating [illegible] matter."

NEW PHILLIPS CASE CLEW

Long Beach Disclosure Leads to Belief Fugitive May Be in Florida; Jail Matrons Changed

The assertion of a Long Beach husband that his wife, an acquaintance of Clara Phillips, was undoubtedly the woman detained in Wyoming under the name of Craig in the early days of the chase for the escaped murderess formed the basis of a new clew to the fugitive's whereabouts which was turned over to deputy sheriffs yesterday by Long Beach police.

The wife, Peggy Buxton, and a sailor said to be C. B. Spivey, formerly of the U.S.S. Texas, who is reported to have fallen heir to a large sum of money, are being sought in the belief that their path will lead to Mrs. Phillips's hiding place.

As pieced together by Long Beach police the theory is that Mrs. Phillips and another sailor were in the party in Wyoming, and that officers failed to discover the other two members of the party.

Buxton declared that he has not seen his wife since the day following the escape of Mrs. Phillips. He asserted according to Long Beach police, that he and his wife and sailors frequently were on pleasure parties together preceding the arrest of Mrs. Phillips.

WIFE WAS THERE

When he read of the detention of a woman giving the name of Craig of Wyoming he suspected that his wife had visited her father and her daughter, whom he declared reside at Casper. Because the name Craig is that of family friends in Long Beach the husband wired his wife's father in Wyoming and from the parent received a reply which stated that Mrs. Buxton had visited in Casper.

Upon this information police are working in the belief that Mrs. Buxton and Spivey, accompanied by Mrs. Phillips and a former sailor, are headed for Florida, where Spivey, it is said, has property.

Appointment of a new matron for the women's quarters in the County Jail was announced last night by Sheriff Traeger. Mrs. Jean G. Bedell will be the new official and will assume her duties today. Four eight-hour shifts will be inaugurated, two matrons to be on duty from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. It will be the duty of one of the day matrons to attend all conferences between prisoners and visitors.

PLAN OTHER CHANGES

The appointment of Mrs. Bedell is in line with the new policy announced by the Sheriff, following the escape of Clara Phillips from the jail. Other changes will be made following submission of the report of the investigation conducted by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Clark, Undersheriff Biscailuz and Special Investigator Hunter of the District Attorney's office. This investigation was brought about by the escape of Mrs. Phillips and had as its purpose the fixing of responsibility for her get-away. The full report with recommendations will be submitted to the Sheriff tomorrow.

Several thousand additional circulars carrying notice of the county's reward for the capture of Mrs. Phillips were forwarded to the Auto Club for distribution yesterday.

STREET WORK IS ASKED

Property owners yesterday petitioned the City Council for the improvement of Hoover street from Fountain avenue to Santa Monica Boulevard, in the Hollywood district.

PLAY'S FATE IN BALANCE

Heirs of Author-Producer to Decide Future of America's Oberammergau

The fate of the Pilgrimage Play will be determined in a few weeks, Frederick C. Valentine, attorney for the heirs of Mrs. Christine Stevenson's estate, announced yesterday. Col. S. P. Wetherill, Jr., of Philadelphia, Mrs. Stevenson's brother, will be in Los Angeles early next month and soon after the family will decide definitely whether America's Oberammergau shall continue and in what form.

It is known that the family wishes to perpetuate Mrs. Stevenson's institution, but the matter must be decided by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Price Wetherill of Philadelphia, whose son's visit here is for the purpose of arranging the property matters and the matter of the play. Mr. and Mrs. Wetherill are the legal heirs.

VENTURE PRIVATE

The Pilgrimage Play was the private venture of Mrs. Stevenson, who wrote it and produced it in El Camino Canyon on property she owned. It has been produced for three years, last summer's season of ten weeks being the most successful. Just before last summer's production Mrs. Stevenson visited Palestine and returned with costumes and data which improved the production.

The Pilgrimage Play has become known generally in the East, and its noncommercial character rapidly was making it a national institution. While the European Christ Play depicts only a part of the Saviour's life, the California production enacts it all, thus increasing the educational value. Mrs. Stevenson in the part of the Christ used only His words as recorded in the New Testament, and great care was taken to avoid any denominational differences so that the play would become the common property of all Christians.

Mr. Valentine explains that the Pilgrimage Play is legally a noncommercial institution, having been financed by Mrs. Stevenson's private funds and under the Pilgrimage Play Association, whose articles provide that any profit from the production shall go into a general fund for its maintenance or be used in other ways for educational work relative to the life of Christ.

It is considered important that the future life of the play be continued in this noncommercial fashion, and it is the expectation that the heirs will see fit to do so, such already being their desire. Mr. Valentine wishes the status made known as a matter of fairness to the actors, who number some 200, and to the public since the perpetuation of the play is a matter of general interest.

MAY TAX HOLDERS OF ROSE TOURNEY SEATS

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Dec. 19.—A legal documentary tax may have to be paid on certificates for permanent seats at the Tournament of Roses Stadium, according to a report received by the Tournament of Roses committee from their attorney. The report states that there is no precedent for the certificates, but they are of the nature of a real estate freehold, and as such are taxable.

An immediate ruling will be sought from the district head of the Internal Revenue Department. To date 2350 permanent tickets have been sold.

Willing to Back Venture With Guarantee

Southland Soil Well Suited, Representative Avers

Convinced that a number of districts in Southern California are adapted to the production of the luscious Kadota fig, which is now winning such favor in canned and preserved form throughout the country, the Beckwith Company of Reedley, one of the leading canning concerns of the San Joaquin Valley, is now endeavoring to interest land owners of the Southland in the growing of this crop. L. C. Beckwith, vice-president of the company, who is registered at the Clark Hotel, announced yesterday, after conferences with the Agricultural Department of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, and with growers from different sections, that if the plan meets with success enough to warrant the investment, branch canning plants for the exclusive handling of Kadotas will be established by his firm in Los Angeles, Redlands, Riverside, San Fernando, or other Southern California points, as well as in Tulare county, where the Kadota industry is already getting a firm foothold.

There has long been a belief that the Kadota, while thriving in small, isolated plantings in this section, was not adapted to commercial orchard purposes outside the San Joaquin Valley, but this, Mr. Beckwith says, is an error. The best Kadotas, he points out, are now being produced in the heavy soils along the eastern side of the San Joaquin Valley, although there is good reason for believing that the trees will respond well to other good soil conditions.

Mr. Beckwith believes that much of the San Fernando Valley, as well as considerable areas around Redlands and Riverside, would be well suited to Kadota culture, and declares that in his opinion these districts have been "passing up a good bet" in not trying this fig on lands that are still unused, or which are yielding but small returns from other crops. His company, he says, is willing to back its belief along this line by entering into long-term contracts to buy the fruit from plantings made in blocks large enough to justify the outlay for canning and preserving facilities.

Mr. Beckwith gives the present bearing Kadota acreage from which his firm is drawing at around 300 acres, mostly in Tulare and Merced counties. A thousand acres additional will come into bearing in the next few years, he says, while he estimates the new plantings for the coming spring at 2000 acres. The Beckwith Company is planning the erection of a branch plant at Planada in about a year.

HIGH SCHOOLS ARE NEEDED

Problem of New Buildings to House Increased Attendance Makes Critical Situation

The problem of new buildings to house the increased attendance at all high schools in California is one of the most critical situations facing State educators, according to preliminary reports of the investigation committee appointed by the State High School Teachers' Association last spring, to make a survey of secondary education conditions in California.

The meeting of the investigation committee, composed of fifteen educators from Northern and Southern California was held in the rooms of the Los Angeles City Board of Education Saturday. Prof. Charles E. Rugh of the University of California, presided as chairman.

From the preliminary report it is estimated an expenditure of $40,000,000 will be necessary to meet building requirements in the next two years. Statistics taken from the committee's report show that out of a total State school population of 750,000 there are 228,000 attending California high schools, an increase of twice the high school population since 1916.

Another acute situation is obtaining adequately trained teachers. Part-time and vocational education have been the causes of the increased high school attendance all of which has developed since 1917.

The final report of the investigation committee will be published at the next meeting at Berkeley early in February. The findings of the committee, with recommendations for improvement are to be published in small volumes and distributed to all high school principals in California.

It is expected the most lasting effect of the school survey will be the teaching of high school principals and boards to survey their own institutions and judge their progress by the standards set forth in the findings of the investigation committee.

TEACHERS TOLD SCHOOL NEEDS

Mawkish Sentimentality is Condemned

Firm Grip on Fundamentals Declared Need

Lack of Higher Education Charged on Floor

That the years following the World War have been marked with a mawkish sentimentality that is detrimental to the best interests of the nation and that the educators of the country must pave the way for a better solution of world problems, were declarations made yesterday by Dr. E. B. Bryan, president of Ohio University. He spoke before members of the teachers' institute at the Philharmonic Auditorium.

Dr. Bryan told his audience of elementary and kindergarten teachers that the task of reconstruction was unfinished in the world, and must be abetted by the wholehearted co-operation of the educators of the country.

"We must take a little firmer grip on the few fundamentals," Dr. Bryan said, "that are absolutely essential to the self-government of a free people." Dr. Bryan also delivered an address of the same tenor at the Trinity Auditorium yesterday, where the high school teachers of the city assembled.

CLASSICS PRAISED

At this meeting Dr. M. E. Haggerty, dean of the University of Minnesota, dwelt on the literary education of the junior high school students of today, giving a prospectus of what they should read.

"Specialization is admirable in its place and necessary to advancement of today," Dr. Haggerty stated, "but the classic education of the past must not be neglected. Good books and the right reading mold an environment that is indispensable in the development of true character. A love for literature must be inculcated in the student in the beginning, or he will lose much of its force in later years."

A charge by Dr. L. D. Coffman, president of the University of Minnesota, who delivered two addresses at the opening sessions Monday, that higher education was lacking among the teachers of the country to an alarming degree, excited only mild interest among the thousands of teachers who flocked to the various meetings throughout the city yesterday. Dr. Coffman asserted that over 300,000 of the 700,000 teachers in the country have never advanced beyond the seventh grade in school, and that 500,000 of these 700,000 teachers have never mone more than two years beyond the eighth grade.

CHARGE DENIED

"Grossly exaggerated and without an iota of foundation," was the way one prominent educator weighed the declaration yesterday at the Trinity Auditorium.

The sectional meetings yesterday throughout the city, devoted to various phases of specialization work in the public schools and topics of interest to only a few, were well attended and provided a wide variety of entertainment and advanced theory. At the Morosco Theater, Dr. W. W. Theisen, assistant superintendent of schools at Milwaukee, delivered an address on "The Opportunity for Research in Secondary Education." Dr. Haggerty also spoke on "A Program in Educational Measurement." Dean Rockwell Hunt of the University of Southern California; E. R. Snyder, commissioner of vocational education, State Board of Education; Edwin A. Lee, University of California, and others were also speakers on the different programs.

The final sessions of the city teachers' institute will be conducted today, while this evening the twenty-ninth annual session of the California Teachers' Association, southern section, will open its three-day conference at the Bible Institute Auditorium. Sessions will also be held tomorrow and Friday at the Philharmonic and Trinity auditoriums.

TWO TALKS TODAY

Two talks this morning will mark the conclusion of both the high school and elementary teachers' sessions. Dr. Reuben Post Halleck and Dr. Andrew W. Edson, associate superintendent, New York City, will address the teachers at both the Trinity and Philharmonic auditoriums at alternating periods. Dr. Halleck will have as his two subjects "The Child's Lexicon" and "The Teacher's Four Vocabularies," while Dr. Edson will speak on "Things Worth While in Education" and "If I Were Again a Class Teacher."

At the high school sessions yesterday H. B. Glover, Polytechnic High School, and James Sterling, San Fernando High School, were elected as members of the Southern Council of the California Teachers' Association. Two or three times during the year this council, composed of representatives in different fields of work, assemble for discussion of school administration and new policies.

General sessions of the county teachers' institute will not begin until tomorrow morning. At the Philharmonic Auditorium Dr. Hollis Dann, State Supervisor of Music, Pennsylvania; Dr. E. H. Lindley, chancellor of Kansas University, and Dr. Frank M. McMurry of the teachers' college at Columbia University, are included on the program. At the Trinity Auditorium Dr. Haggerty, Dr. Bryan and Will C. Wood, Superintendent of Public Instruction, California, will be the speakers. Business meetings will also be held at the latter place in conjunction with the regular session.

ANDY KERR SPEAKS AT LUNCHEON

Card Coach to Speak to Stanford Alumni Today at University Club

Andy Kerr

Andy Kerr, football coach of Stanford University, will address the Stanford Society at a luncheon meeting which will be held today at 12:15 o'clock at the University Club. The Cardinal grid mentor came to Los Angeles to explain fully the details of the Stanford-Pittsburg post-season football game, which will be held in the big stadium at Palo Alto December 30.

Aside from telling the Cardinal alumni about the sectional football struggle, Kerr will analyze Stanford's past season and will also give a few high lights on Stanford's chances on the gridiron next season.

Kerr has previously made addresses in Los Angeles and local alumni know he always delivers a good and interesting talk, so are looking forward to the Stanford coach's address of today.

Ralph Reynolds, president of the local Stanford society, and Jim Mackel, secretary, have arranged all the necessary details for today's luncheon, and a big time is expected to result. Reynolds will be chairman of the luncheon.

If Penn State Can't Stop This Outfit, Heaven Help 'Em

This is the wrecking crew that has accomplished the downfall of one team after another on the Coast. The only thing harder to stop than Bullet Baker is Bullet Baker preceeded by Hobo Kincaid, the human snowplow. Kincaid is without any question the backbone of the U.S.C. offense and his marvelously effective interference has been very largely responsible for the terrific punch of the U.S.C. backfield.

TEAMS HEADED WEST

MOUNTAINEERS MADLY CHEERED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MORGANTOWN (W. Va.) Dec. 19.—Townspeople and students turned out this forenoon to bid the West Virginia University football squad farewell as the Mountaineers departed over the Pennsylvania Railroad for San Diego, Cal., where they are to meet the Gonzaga University eleven on Christmas Day. The university's famous cadet band played the popular Mountaineer fight song, while hundreds of students cheered and sought out players in the crowd to extend their best wishes for success. It was easy to see the crowd expects the undefeated eleven to defeat the far westerners in the postseason classic of the Coast. "Bo" McMillan, freshman halfback, caused a mild sensation when he appeared at the station wearing a straw hat. He claimed that the California climate was not going to catch him unawares and that he intended to wear his straw throughout the trip.

Dr. S. W. Spears, head coach, assembled his men on the field at 3 o'clock and put them through a brisk signal drill for thirty minutes. They were attired in new uniforms, with the exception of shoes and headgears and wore immaculate sweater jerseys.

NAVY IN GRID BATTLE FOR CHRISTMAS GIFT

SEATTLE, Dec. 19.—For the benefit of a Christmas fund, a football game between the team of the battleship New York, champions of the Pacific Fleet and an aggregation of local stars is being arranged. The contest is to be on Denby field, University of Washington.

NITTANY LIONS BOARD RATTLER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

STATE COLLEGE (Pa.) Dec. 19.—Twenty-two Penn State football players, headed by Coaches Bezdek and Martin, left here late this afternoon on the first lap of their journey to Pasadena, where they will tackle the University of Southern California team on New Year's Day in the feature event of the annual Tournament of Roses.

Three weeks of intensive practice in the snow and ice has hardened the Nittany Lions for their long trip and a week of final practice in sunny California is expected to put them in their best shape of the year.

Ends, Artell, Anderson, Frank and McCoy; tackles, McMahon, Johnson, Logue and Bair; guards, Bedenk, Prevost, Flock and Elwood; centers, Hamilton and Capt. Bentz; quarterbacks, Palm and Lafferty; backs, Wilson, Patton, Wentz, Gregory, Hufford and Feaster. Student Manager Parson also is making the trip, while Graduate Manager Neil Fleming will join the party at Chicago tomorrow.

The special Penn State car will be attached to the California limited out of Chicago tomorrow night and the only layover for the gridders between there and Pasadena will be on Saturday, when the day will be given over to a tour of the Grand Canyon.

Pasadena will be reached shortly after noon on Sunday and the squad will go to the Hotel Raymond for the stay on the Coast. Coach Bezdek has announced practice for every day next week on California soil.

TROJANS ROMP OVER ROOKIES

Yesterday afternoon at Bovard Field, the Southern California football team romped all over the second-string men in a tough scrimmage. Baker seemed unable to be stopped by the rookies, and tore through their line at will. "Hobo" Kincaid was a living whirlwind, ripping great holes in the scrub line, enabling Baker and Galloway to slide through without the least bit of trouble.

SALVADORE AND LONG IN A DRAW

BY ED O'MALLEY

Phil Salvadore drew with Ray Long last night at Jack Doyle's boxing pavilion in one of the most gripping bouts ever pulled off at the popular arena. Phil owed his even break to a very clever bit of ring generalship. Soon after the third round opened, and as he was coming into close quarters, Ray socked him with a short right to the jaw and down went Salvadore.

Instead of taking the count Phil sloshed to his feet and reeled for a moment or two like a drunken man. Ray rushed after him with wild fury for the settling blow, but Phil's noodle in some hazy way was still functioning and he had sense enough to duck into a clinch. Ray shook him off but Phil lurched forward again into a clinch.

It was along here that Long lost his golden opportunity and every moment that he lost was a life saver for Salvadore, who weathered the round in a sort of half-dazed way, while the crowd shouted itself hoarse with glee. In the fourth round Phil went into it a beaten man, but he pulled himself together and carrying the fight to Ray with the fury of a maddened bull outfought the Oklahoma man every foot of the journey, piling up an advantage in the final session that countervailed the knockdown. It was a great battle and the crowd voiced its approval of the decision in a wild burst of applause.

Joe Fisher's awkward portside style of fighting in the semi-windup was a puzzle to Lackey Morrow, who was on the short end of the scrap all the way. Fisher one-twoed his man often, and early in the tilt drew dago red from the mouth. In the fourth session Fisher gave his man an awful lacing, having it all his own way. Verdict to Fisher.

The other bouts were as follows: Young Papke-Johnny Weber, draw; Frankie Dolan outpointed Frankie Novie; Jack Martin, a 10-year-old maiden, finally drew a bracket by trimming Jack Moore; Benny Marks beat Art Springer and Billy Velardi knocked out Tom Harding in the first round.

LOTT FLANNERY DIES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Lott Flannery, a sculptor, best known for his statue of Lincoln, which recently was placed before the Courthouse here, died today at the age of 86. The Lincoln statue is the only one made by a sculptor who knew him personally.

STEEL SHAFTS BARRED

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Asserting its refusal to permit use of steel-shafted golf clubs in national championships had been misconstrued, the executive committee of the United States Golf Association issued a statement today explaining its attitude and announcing that official tests of the new-style shafts would be authorized.

"A number of people seem to have misconstrued the action taken by the executive committee of the United States Golf Association with regard to the steel shaft," a statement said. "We were asked to approve its use; we felt that it was a distinct departure from the accepted form and make of golf clubs, and that no one at that time knew enough about its possibilities to be sure that its use was for the best interests of the game.

"We, accordingly refused to permit its use in the national championships. Our feelings are still the same. The executive committee itself will try out the shafts and request that a number of the leading amateurs do the same and report their findings to the committee. They also will request that all other players who use the shaft and who desire to, should submit their views to the committee."

MOVIE OF SIKI FIGHT TANGLES "FIXED" CHARGE

PARIS, Dec. 19.—The inquiry committee of the French boxing federation which is examining the whole question of Siki's disqualification subsequent to accusations regarding the Carpentier fight, yesterday closely examined the film of the fight which several times was screened for its benefit.

Conclusions drawn are not yet known but meanwhile a Paris sporting paper points out a coincidence which certainly appears difficult to explain. During the fourth round—in which Siki alleges he was to lie down, but did not—Carpentier's manager, Descamps, is shown by the film to rush from his own to Siki's corner, excitedly gesticulating. He there held a conversation with Siki's manager, Hellers.

PANTHERS PLAN GRID SCHEDULE

Nine Hard Scraps Arranged for Blue and Gold

Two Former Pittsburg Stars Coach Opponents

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PITTSBURG, Dec. 19.—Glenn Warner's last year as football coach at the University of Pittsburg is likely to be the hardest of his career, according to the schedule for 1923 made public tonight by Graduate Manager of Athletics Karl E. Davis. Out of the nine games arranged there isn't a set-up of any kind, every one of the opposing teams having distinct class, two of them coached by former players on the Blue and Gold team. Six of the teams observe the one-year residence rule and another the one-year migratory residence rule.

All the games are scheduled for Saturday except the last on Thanksgiving Day, and are as follows: September 29, Bucknell, at the new stadium opening, Lewisburg; October 6, Lafayette, at Pittsburg; October 13, West Virginia at Pittsburg; October 20, Syracuse, at the Yankee baseball park in New York; October 27, Carnegie Tech, at Forbes Field, Pittsburg; November 3, University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia; November 10, Grove City College, at Pittsburg; November 17, W. and J., at Pittsburg; November 29 (Thanksgiving Day) Penn State at Pittsburg.

Lafayette is coached by Dr. Jock Sutherland, who will succeed Warner at Pitt in 1924, while Grove City is coached by "Chalky" Williamson, both these coaches having starred on the Blue and Gold team in previous years.

Prep Grid Squads Getting Ready

ELEVENS MEET IN TITLE GAME

Two Teams to Struggle for State Championship

Capt. Giraud May Not be in Shape for Scrap

Northern Champs Leave for South on Thursday

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 19.—Coach "Goldie" Griffith's man-eating Oil Drillers began practicing today for their State championship grid game with Berkeley High which will take place at the Fair Grounds here next Saturday. A crowd of from 12,000 to 15,000 is expected to witness the struggle for the prep grid title of California, providing the weather is good.

It is not certain yet whether Capt. Giraud, Bakersfield's hard hitting fullback, will be able to start against the northerners because of his injuired ankle received last Saturday in the game against San Diego. Giraud, however, says he will be ready to play against Berkeley. Giraud is the best line plunger on the Drillers' squad and his services would do the locals a lot of good.

IN GOOD CONDITION

All of the other Bakersfield men are in wonderful condition, although Caldwell, who does the passing and punting, has a badly bruised big toe on his punting foot and a broken little finger on his right hand. Caldwell was suffering from these injuries in the game against San Diego, but he managed to punt for an average of over forty yards and completed four out of the six attempted passes, so he should be able to do his stuff just as well against Berkeley.

Lewis, the Drillers' star halfback, is expected to show the Berkeley clan some high-class open field running, while "Red" May and Fletcher, the two high-powered Bakersfield tackles, should break up the Berkeley offense without much trouble.

Coach Griffith has had his men woring out a defense for the Berkeley plays, which the "scrubs" are using, so the locals will be well prepared when the game is played.

BERKELEY, Dec. 19.—The Berkeley High grid squad, title winner of Northern California, is all set for its game for the State title with Bakersfield in the latter city next Saturday. Berkeley has been practicing since a week ago Saturday, when the team defeated San Mateo High, 3 to 0, after a game played in a driving rain.

The local players will have had two weeks without a game when they go up against the Drillers, so should be on edge for the game.

Ned Green, guard, and Bob Green, center, the latter being captain of the eleven, are the star linemen for Berkeley and are being counted upon by locals to stop the Bakersfield drive. Murphy and Mills, local backfield men, are expected to carry the brunt of the Berkeley attac.

The eleven will leave for Bakersfild Thursday night and arrive there Friday morning when a short practice will be held. Twenty-five men will make the trip.

Trojans Are Banqueted by Ad Club Men

More than 300 persons attended the luncheon yesterday at the Alexandria, which was given by the Advertising Club of Los Angeles in honor of the football team of the University of Southern California which is to play the Penn State eleven New Year's Day in the Tournament of Roses Stadium at Pasadena.

Coach "Gloomy Gus" Henderson stated in a short address which he made that he and the team had strong hopes for a victory, but at the same time he said that the Trojans would have to play a much better game than they have played at any time during the season.

All of the members of the squad were introduced by Gus and Leo Calland was prevailed to speak for a few short seconds. Capt. Calland expressed his opinion about the result of the game by stating that he thought that the U.S.C. men would fight to the last ditch. President von KleinSmid praised the team highly in a speech which closed the meeting.

TOM THORP WILL UMPIRE IN WEST

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Tom Thorp, football coach at New York University, will officiate as umpire at all three of the East-West intersectional gridiron games on the Pacific Coast during the holidays.

The three contests are between West Virginia and Gonzaga University at San Diego, Christmas Day; Pittsburg and Stanford at Palo Alto December 30, and Penn State and Southern California at Pasadena New Year's Day.

TRIPLE A's WILL OPEN UP SUNDAY

Several Snappy Games Are Scheduled for the Week-End

At last it looks like the Triple A division would get under way once more. Next Sunday, the tenth round of the schedule will be played off in and around Los Angeles. All of the teams are rarin' to go, as the pennant is by no means cinched by any one club. In fact, all but a couple of the teams still have a chance to cop the flag.

Next Sunday a feature game will be played at El Segundo, when the Ventura Elks will tackle the Shell Oil nine. A few weeks ago the Elks spilled the dope and licked the Oilers, but Sunday the score will be different, so say the oil men.

The league leaders, Sawtelle, to date have not been stopped, and from what they say they can't be stopped. However, they stand a good chance of taking a back seat when they meet the fast Santa Fe Reds at the new Sawtelle diamond.

With Guy Cooper in the box for the Standard Oil of Huntington Beach, it looks like a long, hard winter for the El Segundos. These two teams always furnish a good game of ball, and a large crowd is expected to attend the game at El Segundo.

Two of the best teams in Southern California will meet at Trona Field at the harbor. The Rose Room Dancers and the San Pedro Merchants are the two fighting teams, that will tangle. Another good game will be the Hammond Lumber Company versus the Huntington Beach Merchants at the beach town. The Cox-Haas vs. Standard Murphy will also be a corker, as these two teams are bitter rivals.

SPEED KING OF WATER ARRIVES

Mr. Wood last night. "We fellows who have been winning the races for the past few years can't expect to keep winning forever and it wouldn't surprise me a bit to see an international motorboat champion from these parts one of these days."

Mr. Wood is spending his sojourn in Southern California at the home of his father-in-law, Mr. Fellows, in Glendale and is accompanied by his wife and son, Gar Wood, Jr., who proudly claims ownership of the new boat, Miss Detroit VI. After competing in the local winter racing Mr. Wood makes a wild transcontinental dash to Florida where he defends a trophy won last year for a cruiser race from Miami to Havana. He then returns to Detroit to take part in the $25,000 cash free for all race in the spring, after which he rather expects to have to defend the Harmsworth Trophy against British and French competitors.

LIONS WILL REST UP IN SAN DIEGO

Penn Staters Will Visit Southern City for Big Football Contest

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 19.—An invitation has been sent Hugo Bezdek and the Nittany Lions of Penn State to be the guests of the San Diego and Recreational Association for the Christmas Day game to be played here between West Virginia and Gonzaga University. This invitation came after an expressed desire on the part of the famous old Penn State coach to see the Mountaineers in action here. Bezdek, with his many years' experience in the Northwest, is well acquainted with the caliber of football teams that Gonzaga University produces, and is confident that a hard-fought battle will result.

The Penn State team would come straight through Los Angeles Christmas Eve to San Diego, where facilities have been arranged for a workout for the Nittany Lions if they so desire.

Definite arrangements have at last been made in regard to the officials who will act in the Christmas classic. Walter Eckersall, referee; Tom Thorp, umpire; Boles Rosenthal, field judge, and E. H. Van Surdam, head linesman, make up the quartet which has been approved by the coaches of both teams. Rosenthal acted last year in the Centre-Arizona game here, while Van Surdam is a Southwestern official and former coach of Marietta College in Ohio, which has several victories over West Virginia. These officials represent the East, Middle West, West and Southwest, being as neutral a combination as any team could desire.

Gonzaga arrives in Los Angeles Thursday for their first Southern California workout and then comes straight for a final secret practice before the battle. West Virginia is flying west from Chicago at the same time that Gonzaga is training at Bovard Field and Coach Spears wired today that all his men were fit for the game. The officials here have announced that 5000 seats will be put on sale the day of the game.

PITCHER McQUILLAN SUES FOR DAMAGES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Hugh McQuillan, twirler for the Giants in the last world series, sustained injuries in an automobile accident, October 26, which may permanently cripple his pitching arm, it became known today when he sued Miss Mildred Taylor, in Queen's county Supreme Court, for $250,000 damages.

Be good to your face
Barbasol
no soap—no brush—no rub-in
Just spread it on and shave it off

There are still a few men left who never will believe it's possible to get through the morning shave without all the old-time apparatus—messy shaving brush, stinging soap and lather well rubbed in.

But those men belong to the same tribe who laughed at Fulton, gibed at the telephone and knew the automobile never would be practical.

The wide-awake citizen, the man who believes in progress, the man who is always looking for a better way to do the old jobs—he's the man who swears by Barbasol.

A tube of Barbasol and a razor, that's all the shaving equipment any man needs in this day and age.

Wash the sleep out of your eyes, spread a little Barbasol on your face while the skin is still wet—no, don't rub it in—go ahead and shave.

That's all there is to it.

Barbasol fills up the tiny spaces between the beard stubble and supports the hairs so that they stand up bravely and meet the razor.

The trusty blade whisks the beard away so smoothly and painlessly you hardly believe your mirror; none of the old tugging or pulling; and man, O man, how soft and smooth your face is!

It costs you only 10 cents to try Barbasol for a week's shaving. Just fill in the attached coupon and enclose ten cents in coin or stamps and the one week's free trial tube will be sent you by return mail.

Don't be a reactionary. Be modern, get acquainted with Barbasol. You'll be friends for life. All druggists, 35c and 65c.

The Barbasol Company

MERCURIES AND UNITEDS CLASH

Fast Elevens to Hook Up in Feature Struggle

Pasadena Squad Out to Trim Samson Battlers

Sons of St. George Mix With Overseas Outfit

With clear weather in the offing and field conditions even now right, thousands of thrice disappointed soccer fans are assured of Christmas cheer in a big triple-header at Washington Park Sunday. In an effort to recompense in some measure for the three weeks' layoff, the league officials have arranged an excellent bill as a Christmas offering.

L.A.A.C. and L. A. United will undoubtedly hold the center of the stage. The meeting of no other two teams can create the interest that is always aroused by the announcement that these old-time rivals will battle for points.

Neither eleven has been idle in the past three weeks; stiff workouts have been the rule, so that the teams will take the field in excellent condition.

So evenly matched are the teams that it would seem a toss-up on the winner. Both are well balanced with the best soccer material in the league. Collectively they are not only clever dribblers, but they are brainy players who can make openings and exploit them to the limit.

The league-leading Samson outfit will play Pasadena at 1 p.m. Last Sunday the Millionaires defeated the Overseas, 6 to 2, and they are hopeful that they can take the measure of the tiremen. Overseas and Sons open the day with their game at noon.

BRICK ELDRED MAY WEAR ANGEL SUIT

The Rialto was set astir yesterday afternoon by the report that the Angels were to get "Brick" Eldred, heavy-hitting center fielder of the Seattle team, in a trade that is to be made in a few days. Eldred would be a big acquisition to the Angels' line-up of 1923. He is one of the best hitters on the Coast, a cracking good fielder and fairly fast. He is a tough man to handle, but many fans are of the belief that a man of Killefer's ability as a manager will be able to keep Brick in his place. With Twombly in right, Maisel in left and Eldred in center field, the Seraphs would have a cracking good outfield—an outfield that that would be hard to match on the Coast.

Fielding averages in football are too low. Meaning the forward pass is muffed entirely too often. And the pity of it is that a very considerable percentage of these muffs are avoidable.

It is true that the receiver of forward passes essays to catch them under peculiarly trying conditions, unknown to the fielder in baseball. One sees just such muffs on the diamond or in the outfield when two or three or four players happen to gather under the same fly ball. On the football field nearly every pass is surrounded by a large number of eager athletes.

That uncertainty of execution which comes with great excitement cannot be entirely eliminated from the football field, although it possibly can be reduced by instilling the power of mental detachment in the receiver of passes. A rather close study of this phase of football and of fielding in baseball reveals something of an analogy. Many of the misplays on the baseball field result from trying to make a play faster than is humanly possible. How often have you seen a fielder try to throw the ball before he had it securely in his hands? The result is a most ludicrous error.

And this same element, overeagerness, will be found responsible for the failure to complete many forward passes. True, there are few plays in the world more difficult to make, and few can throw the floating pass which is easier to handle, but the fact remains that many of the muffs result from the receiver trying to get in motion and run before he has securely caught the ball. The average pass, even if the receiver is downed in his tracks, nets a substantial gain. There seems to me hardly a doubt the forward pass can be made more effective and reliable if the one thought—catch that ball first—is drilled deep into the receiver.

Am I wrong regarding this feature of the pass, as Mr. M. N. Klasgye of Long Beach seems convinced I am on another point. Writing to this paper, he discusses some of my recent efforts with ruthless candor, as follows:

"In a recent edition of your sport columns Harry Williams informs us that there has been no real test of Northern and Southern California football strength. His reason was that many of the best players on the U. C. team are from the south. Of course they are and we are proud of it! I call your attention to the fact that our State university is not a northern institution, its official title is the University of the State of California, it is supported by all the people of the State and attended by students from all parts of the State. Just because it happens to be located farther up the coast does not make it less ours.

"If you think for one moment that Southern Californians who attend California are not loyal to the south you are far from correct—it merely shows your ignorance. Loyalty is measured by proof of its sincerity and any Southern California who sojourns up north for four years has ample chance to prove his loyalty and he does!

"It seems to a Southern Californian who graduated from U. C. that southern newspapers are neither fair nor consistent when they heap indignities and mud all over California's team until she wins the championship and then try to claim all the glory because many of the stars are from the south. We think you could afford to root for us all the time. I remind you again that a true Californian knows neither north nor south, it is California to him and that of the spirit of our great State university."

My turn at bat. There has been no such test of strength. It was mentioned as a theoretical sporting proposition. Mr. Klasgye says to a true California there is no north or south, yet refers to himself as a Southern Californian. Agreed that the University of California is a State institution and belongs to all the people of the State. That point has been emphasized in this column repeatedly, and was one of the arguments used in trying to induce the Bears to play at Pasadena. Southern newspapers do not "heap indignities and mud all over California's team until she wins the championship, and then try to claim all the glory because many of the stars are from the south." We simply feel that pride which he insists that we feel. Never was a support more unanimous than that accorded the Bears in this section, some of which unfortunately has been alienated, but not by any act of the players themselves. Never has the ability of loyalty of California's gridiron athletes been questioned. We willingly confess to ignorance, but not to deliberate unfairness.

That was certainly a refreshing and straight-forward letter written by Dr. David E. Barrows, president of the University of California, to Clinton E. Miller, president of the California Alumni Association of Southern California. The one regrettable feature is that it could not have been issued a month sooner, and a maze of misunderstandings avoided.

"I am truly interested in seeing a football game at the Pasadena stadium every New Year's Day," he writes. "It is the one place in the State to hold such a contest, and I think no other game should be held elsewhere that would rival it. But in my opinion it is asking altogether too much of a team to play this game more than one year in succession."

He points out that the extra siege of training interferes with the players keeping up in their scholastic work. Just such an absolutely satisfactory statement as you would expect to come from Dr. Barrows, virile educator, strong leader and fine citizen. How unfortunate that those in charge of football could not have defined California's attitude with equal clarity. Among many things which make us proud of the University of California, two stand out prominently even in the immensity of their surroundings—Dr. Barrows and the football team.

KERR SHUFFLES CARDS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Dec. 19.—Normand Cleveland may replace "Skipper" Murray Cuddeback at the fullback position in the Stanford starting line-up against the Panthers of the University of Pittsburg at the Stanford Stadium, December 30. Though the latter player has started every game for the Cardinals this season, the steady development of Cleveland has placed him practically on a par with Cuddeback, and the relative abilities of the two contenders is a much mooted question among the supporters of "Farm" football.

Coach Andy Kerr intimated in mid-season that Cleveland might be included in the regular beginning line-up without a moment's notice, but to date Cuddeback has always gone on the field first. A very stiff and much enlarged knee may have been the chief reason for Kerr's not acting on his intention. Following the big game, Cleveland went to the hospital, and for a time it looked as if he were out of consideration for the December 30 game, but he seems to have effected a good recovery. His showing in the contest with California argues well in his favor, particularly on the offensive, and this notwithstanding he was in no condition to do his best work. On one occasion he did an almost unheard-of feat in running a kick-off back against the Bears to the 34-yard line, where he was stopped only by a tackler from behind who managed to grasp his jersey and tear it from his back.

Kerr is not yet sure that Wilcox will be able to go against the Panthers, and if this regular is absent, it is all the more probable that Cleveland will start to do the kicking. His booting from placement has been almost on a par with that of Cuddeback and his punting is better. Cleveland appeared a bit uncertain in getting punts off against U.S.C. after Wilcox was taken from that game, but he should go better now. His best kicks get distance practically equal to that of Wilcox, though he is not as accurate in placing them.

DeGroot, like Wilcox, is still an uncertainty, though fans will not believe that this player would ever let a Stanford team start while he himself remained on the bench. If he does start the stadium crowd is due for a nice match between the Cardinal captain and Bowser, Pittsburg's candidate for center among the All-American celebrities. Smoky City authorities place Bowser on a par with Peck and Stein of the same university. Peck was Walter Camp's choice for center in 1915 and 1916 and Stein in 1920. Both these gentlemen, it is said, gained great reputations while working between guards of extremely high caliber, while Bowser seems just as effective at center between two very average line performers.

DeGroot is the class of the Pacific Coast at the position and the choice of a number of coaches, at least, for the All-American honor. If he is really in shape the contest should be extremely interesting.

ARRANGE SPECIAL TRAIN

Angelenos to be Accommodated in Trip to San Diego for Grid Game and Tijuana Races

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 19.—Turf enthusiasts and football fans of Los Angeles will probably have a chance to come to San Diego to witness the big grid game and the Tijuana races on a special train.

President J. W. Coffroth of the Jockey Club today co-operated with officials handling the Gonzaga-West Virgina contest in asking the Santa Fe Railroad to run an excursion from the metropolis to the scene of action. On Christmas Day, at least, San Diego will be the world's sports capitol, for the football game and the Tijuana races are twin events that are of prime interest and importance.

If the special is run, the present plan is to have it leave Los Angeles at 8:30 Sunday morning, and remain over in San Diego until Monday night at 7 o'clock. The idea is generally pleasing to the fans, for those who are unable to leave on Sunday can take either one of the two trains Monday morning, and have the privilege of returning on the special the same night.

Los Angeles is expected to pour at least 20,000 sports devotees into San Diego for the football-racing carnival. Many of these will travel on trains, but the majority will make the trex in their own automobiles and on the motor bus lines. If dry weather prevails the detour at Capistrano will not be even noticed, for it has been worked over and is in good shape. Present indications from the weather man are that it will continue this way for a few days—or at least until New Year's, when the new highway will be opened to traffic.

Goffroth's holiday racing program includes big handicaps on both Christmas and New Year's, with classy cards for the other days' The Mexican authorities are allowing the "lid" to be lifted a little in honor of the visit of Kris Kringle and Father Time, and it is expected, as the rural weeklies might say, that "a good time will be had by all present."

TIJUANA RESULTS

First race, five and one-half furlongs—Harry Rudder, 109 (D. Hurn,) won; Veravilla, 107 (Martin,) second; Miss Dunbar, 104 (Lee,) third. Time, 1:12 2-5.

Second race, five and one-half furlongs—Horace Lerch, 112 (Rae,) won; Cicely Kay, 109 (Wilson,) second; Phyllis K., 104 (Peinold,) third. Time, 1:12.

Third race, one mile—Benecia, 110 (R. R. Carter,) won; Caveman, 110 (D. Hurn,) second; Norfords Last, 105 (Molter,) third. Time, 1:49 2-5.

Fourth race, five and one-half furlongs—Harder, 111 (D. Hurn,) won; Redman, 114 (Wilson,) second; July Fly, 111 (Atwell,) third. Time, 1:12 4-5.

Fifth race, six furlongs—Dr. Johnson, 112 (Claver,) won; Little Florence, 100 (Martin,) second; Cocacola, 104 (Steven,) third. Time, 1:17 1-5.

Sixth race, mile and seventy yards—Regresso, 110 (Martinez,) won; Wise Judge, 108 (Martin,) second; Argumbo, 108 (Peinold,) third. Time, 1:52.

Seventh race, mile and a sixteenth—Vic, 114 (Ralls,) won; Yermak, 110 (Stevens,) second; Trosida, 110 (Wilson,) third. Time, 1:54 2-5.

SAN FRANCISCO TEAMS SET DATES FOR TILTS

The dates for the intercity soccer series to be played at San Francisco were announced by Secretary A. S. Cowie last night, and call for four games to be played in the Bay City, with teams from Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland and Sacramento competing.

Oakland and Sacramento meet December 30. Los Angeles plays San Francisco December 31 and Oakland January 1, while San Francisco tackles Sacramento in the second of a twin bill on New Year's Day.

The Commissioners, acting as the selection committee for Southern California, have practically completed their choice of players, who will represent the South in the series for the championship of the State, and will release the names some time today.

ROTARY CLUB TO HOLD ANNUAL GOLF TOURNEY

More than seventy-five Rotarians are expected to tee off tomorrow afternoon at Griffith Park in the seventh annual golf tournament of the Los Angeles Rotary Clubs.

A number of powerful players are expected to take part, and as there are a whole flock of silver cups and trophies of other kinds, it is believed by the promoters of the affair that there will be a lot of close competition.

FOOTBALL ELEVENS TO WATCH CONTEST

Arrangements were completed yesterday by which the entire football squads of West Virginia, Pittsburg, Gonzaga and the Utah Aggies will be the guests of the tournament of Roses Association at the New Year's Day U.S.C.-Penn State game at Pasadena. A special block of seats will be reserved for the Smoky City experts and the Mountaineers on the Penn State side of the field so that the Bezdek aggregation may receive the noisiest possible support from their fellow-citizens.

[illegible] ROADS TO VENICE

[illegible] of Beach City Greatly Interested in [illegible] Highway Projects Already Approved

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

[illegible] Dec. 19.—One of the most important of three new boulevards, each of which has been approved for construction, [illegible] to be the Tenth-street project. This highway [illegible] one in Venice, one between Venice and Ocean [illegible] other in Ocean Park by way of Central avenue.

[illegible] approved in the re[illegible] Los Angeles Traffic [illegible] is virtually the same [illegible] by the West [illegible] Improvement Association [illegible] been actively backing [illegible] for some time.

[illegible] this plan Tenth [illegible] straightened and [illegible] make it a boulevard [illegible] Heights, according to a plan being considered by County Supervisors, another boulevard would be run straight to connect with Rose avenue. This would make the greatest boulevard system of any on the road from Los Angeles to the sea.

The second of these new roads is Exposition Boulevard. This route would be the shortest of any between Los Angeles and Venice and according to local traffic authorities would bring thousands of visitors from the southern part of Los Angeles to Venice who now go to one of the southern beaches of the Crescent Bay. At the present time the roads through Inglewood, to Hermosa, Redondo and Manhattan are crowded.

The third road would tie together the beach district with Inglewood and the southern part of Los Angeles. Plans call for the extension of this boulevard through Inglewood and down to the Baldwin hills. This is expected to serve both as a pleasure boulevard and an industrial trunk line with the construction of a harbor at Del Rey.

How many inhabitants will Los Angeles have within a lifetime? John D. Fredericks, president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, makes an interesting prediction in the Midwinter Number of The Times, out January 1.

Wife Justified in Murder is Jury's Verdict

Justifiable homicide was the verdict of a Coroner's jury at the Los Angeles Harbor in the case of Mrs. Lillian Brosse, who Sunday night shot and fatally wounded her husband while they were sitting in their automobile.

Several witnesses testified for Mrs. Brosse at the inquest. They stated that her husband had constantly abused and mistreated her, his brutal treatment extending over a period of more than two and a half years. Mrs. Brosse is held here on a charge of murder, but it is believed now that she will be released.

Woman Accused in Shooting Has Case Continued

Justice Forbes yesterday continued the case of Lillian Moores, charged with assault with intent to murder, to the 29th inst. The woman is accused of shooting and injuring Walter Buelow, who, she says, deceived her, while he was riding in an automobile with his wife at Long Beach recently. Buelow recovered.

Miss Moores stated at the time of the shooting that Buelow had posed to her as a single man and had won her love.

PHONE SERVICE HEARING ENDS

City Attorney in Demand for Rate Slash

Subscribers Attack Company Before Commission

Officials Attribute Woes to City's Growth

The telephone rate hearing before the State Railroad Commission closed yesterday with an argument by City Attorney Stevens, who declared the city was entitled to a reduction of rates because of inadequate service.

"The company got an increase last winter so as to make its service adequate," argued Mr. Stevens. "It has not done so and customers are entitled to a reduction. The rates are too high for the quality of service rendered."

He contended the reduced rates should be effective till July, at least, when the company might, if it could show good service, ask to have the raise restored.

WITNESSES HEARD

Three witnesses called by the commission preceded the argument. They were J. H. Corcoran, general traffic manager, who declared the service was "commendably high grade, considering conditions;" Leo Keller, a consulting engineer, who said he had got nine calls on which he considered the service worthless out of a total of 100; Miss Blaze, chief operator at the Pico exchange, one of the most congested offices, who declared the service was "creditable."

Mr. Keller was formerly connected with the Home Telephone Company, nucleus of the present company. He assigned the failures of service to the upsetting of the system by the improvements under way.

DIFFICULTIES EXPLAINED

Further explanation of the difficult conditions, the inevitable outgrowth of the city's unprecedented increase in population within the past decade, under which the local telephone service has been maintained and expanded, were given yesterday by N. R. Powley, commercial superintendent for the system.

The history of the company's activities since 1911, as recited by Mr. Powley, furnished not only a comprehensive outline of the growth of Los Angeles during the same period, but projected a vision of development the realization of which is expected within the next twenty years.

In 1911, Mr. Powley stated, the telephone company made an estimate of future service demands extending to the close of the present year. This estimate has worked out with exactitude until less than three months ago. In October last an unexpected upward swing of the curve of estimate had to be made, to include the sudden influx of people into the city. To figure with closeness, the probable number of orders for telephones during 1923—the estimated figures are 46,000—the company, according to the witness, has recently conducted a survey approximating a census count.

MILLION IN FIVE YEARS

The number of houses in each block has been checked and the number of families estimated. The present average of one phone for every four persons is expected to be amended before 1924 to one for every three, or a total increase to 315,000 telephones within a period of twelve months. In five years Mr. Powley believes Los Angeles will record a population in excess of a million souls, and the number of phones in use will total $335,000.

The manipulation of this "invisible traffic," as the operation of the telephone system was termed by the superintendent, requires as skillful handling, in his opinion, as does the relieving of street and sidewalk congestion. It should also, in his belief, be treated by the public with the same tolerance.

Dr. H. G. Brainerd, for the physicians and surgeons, and Frank L. Ray, attorney for the lawyers' group, were witnesses during the morning session in the matter of a protest against excessive rates charged and poor service given by the telephone company to users of an intercommunicating trunk line system installed in various office buildings of the downtown section.

The rate for a specified group of such users in one building, Mr. Ray affirmed, had been increased from $35 monthly in January last to $62 in July. In August the rate was dropped to $55, and has remained stationary since. He considered the service given poor, fixing the efficiency rate for first calls completed at 70 per cent.

IMPERIAL FARMERS TO VISIT

Valley Agriculturalists to See How "Other Half" Does It

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

EL CENTRO, Dec. 19.—Thursday will see a winding procession of cars by the score carrying farmers of the Imperial Valley through the south half of the valley on a "farmers' excursion" staged under the auspices of the agricultural extension service of the University of California.

The excursion staged last year was considered highly profitable in that it gave all farmers of the valley a chance to get in intimate touch with one another and to discuss the various phases of the problems in various places in the valley as they came in contact with them. It was carried out with the attendance of about 200 farmers.

It is estimated that as many as 300 farmers will take the trip this time and every city in the south half of the valley will be visited and the surrounding farm problems and issues will be studied with interest as making up a part of the whole of the problems that are being worked out by the valley as a unit.

The results of the planting of the same crops on slightly different soils in various parts of the valley, shipping, irrigation and many other problems will present themselves for consideration by the visiting farmers, many of whom will no doubt gather useful ideas from a study of the "way John does it."

CLUBHOUSE AT STUDIOS PROPOSED

Building to House Hundred Film Girl Workers Backed by Industry

Backed by the entire motion-picture industry through the pledge of Will H. Hays and other prominent cinema representatives, tentative plans for a Hollywood Studio Club building that will house at least 100 girls and stand as one of the most beautiful structures in all Hollywood, are well on the way to completion.

Plans for the proposed new building, which will take the place of the present structure on Carlos avenue near Vista Del Mar have been drawn by Julia Morgan, architect for the Y.W.C.A. Building at the Panama Pacific Exposition, and for the Y.W.C.A. buildings at Asilomar and in Pasadena.

The building, which it is proposed to build on the beautiful grounds owned by the Y.W.C.A. on Carlos avenue, is to cost in the neighborhood of $150,000, it was announced today.

A conference has been called for shortly after the holidays, at which time the campaign to raise funds will be decided upon and construction will be started as soon as the necessary funds are secured.

MEDICAL MACHINE BEGETS COURT FIGHT

PHYSICIAN ASKS INJUNCTION TO RESTRAIN BUILDING BY RIVALS

The Oscilloclast, a machine for the treatment of disease without the use of drugs, is the bone of contention in a suit started yesterday by Dr. Albert Abrams, San Francisco scientist.

Dr. Abrams asserts that F. W. Shrade and P. Livingston Barnes have copied his machine, and asks that they be restrained from further manufacture. He also requests an accounting and $25,000 as damages. His machine is leased to physicians after they have taken a course under his instruction.

The defendants declare that their machine is an improvement over Dr. Abram's. Both machines were in court yesterday, and after experts had submitted their testimony, Judge Parker ordered the attorneys to submit their case on briefs. H. H. Harrison and H. Cottesfeld represent Dr. Abrams, and the defendants are represented by R. I. Blakeslee and J. C. Brown.

MACHINE-MADE KISS READY FOR WIVES

HUBBIES CAN SEND POSTCARDS WITH "CANNED" GREETINGS

All New Yorkers are said to be strongly marked by a disinclination to do any work, but the one particular job for which they draw a pay envelope on Saturday or a check on the first of the month. They turn all other jobs over to the expert.

But it does seem this specialization is being carried pretty far when one fellow has to pay another fellow to help him wish his own wife a merry Christmas.

We have come to it. Of the fact there can hardly be any question, since one of the best sellers among this year's Christmas cards is the "To My Wife" series.

Tender sentiments beginning or ending in some such phrase are offered in great variety among the cards that cover thousands of counters. Safe and sane ready-to-send greetings to other relatives have become common enough. We expect to see them. But an illustrated and engraved cardboard greeting to a wife seems somehow a little bit different.

They are charming bits of design, excellent examples of engraving and printing. They set forth easy informal love-flavored formulas guaranteed to please the most exacting kitchenette queen. Most of them are suitably illustrated by fireside and easy chairs, braided rugs and sleeping pussy cats, cottages and country roads. Radiators, dumbwaiters and fire escapes do not appear.—[New York Sun.

MORE PARKS ASKED

A petition asking that the City Planning Commission take steps to outline an enlarged park system and recommend a method for financing it, was received by the City Council yesterday from the Dayton Heights' Civic Center. The petition set forth the need for more parks and boulevards, and requested that action be taken in the near future.

JAIL DAMAGE CASE POSTPONED BY COURT

NAGEL'S MUSIC THRILLS EBELL

Varied Numbers Please Sensitive Audience

Composer is Heard but Once on Program

Selections Range From Mirth to Pathos

BY MYRA NYE

The lilting sweetness of spring, the joy of love, the damp fragrance of violets, the restless brooding of night, and the calm of death swept in waves over the audience at Monday's program at Ebell Club, when Dr. Frank Nagel presented his own compositions before the club.

His songs for the soprano voice, had an especially rippling joyous quality which Vivian Strong-Hart was able to interpret to the greatest degree. Her voice, which has an unusual vibrant tone was at its best in the little waltz song, "What is Love," in "Paradise," and in "Crimson Rose." The jaunty song, "Lilac Tree," about a loving, but jealous damsel was quite clever.

All of the glory of Bryant's "Thanatopsis" with its great philosophy was given the club members when Conrad Nagel gave the poem with a musical setting by Dr. Nagel. His voice, which is peculiarly resonant, interpreted beauty of the poem to the fullest.

HEAR DR. NAGEL

Only once during the program did Dr. Nagel allow the audience the pleasure of listening to him in his compositions, although he accompanied the assisting artists. He closed the program with the prelude, "Night," and "A Summer Night's Dream."

Singing the baritone songs of Dr. Nagel, was Frederick Vance Evans, who was especially fine in the song, "Morning-Nnoon-Night." Night."

On the 21th inst., the Junior Auxiliary of Ebell will give a Christmas dance in the Ebell auditorium. The dance is to be in the nature of a benefit for Rest Cottage and promises to be quite a success. Miss Viola Hagi, a pupil of Kosloff, will dance during the evening for the guests.

The Wednesday luncheons of the club, which have been discontinued during December, will commence January 4.

Hollywood Woman's Club

In the holiday spirit the last meeting of the year for the Woman's Club of Hollywood will be today in the clubhouse on Hollywood Boulevard, when it is anticipated the auditorium, beautifully decorated with Christmas greens, will be crowded to hear Christmas carols sung by Mr. and Mrs. Winter Hall.

Ruth Ann Pierson will give a Christmas reading and Mrs. Frederick R. Rice will sing.

In the afternoon Grace Wood Jess, the charm of whose work is individual, will give a program of song dramas in miniature, interpreting the rare old songs of the people.

Wednesday Morning Club

Jelly and jams in quantities will be the gift of the Wednesday Morning Club to one of the well-known charities of the city, and the members also will observe the Christmas season by giving a party to the children of the neighborhood the Wednesday after Christmas. Today Grace Baugh Bowman will read Barrie's "Quality Street," and Miss Annette Hughes will sing, accompanied by Miss Vida Smith.

Women Voters

The community property bill was recently sponsored by Mrs. Herbert A. Cable at a meeting of the League of Women Voters, when she said, "California women have no testamentary powers over community property. The measure which the League of Women Voters and other organizations will present to the Legislature this year is designed to give greater justice and protection to the wife, the child and the family."

At this meeting of the league, which was presided over by Mrs. Arthur Heineman, Miss Josephine Stevenson explained the proposed bill on "Equalisation of the Age of Majority." Mrs. Seward Simons urged a demand upon the Legislature asking that California participate in Federal aid under the Sheppard-Towner bill for "Welfare and Hygiene of Maternity and Infants," and Mrs. W. D. Crocker outlined the three bills which will be introduced to regulate fees, contracts and definitions of temporary and permanent employment of private employment bureaus.

Three puppet plays, adapted from folk and fairy stories, charmed an invited audience of persons prominent in club and art circles Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Hodel, 6512 Walnut Hill avenue. The doll folk, under the direction of Mr. Alexander Zelenko, formerly of the University of Moscow, Russia, went through their parts as if they enjoyed their drolleries, and with the artistic and characteristic heads and costumes, and elaborate scenery, all suited to the background of each act, brought forth much enthusiastic applause.

In a preliminary talk, Mrs. Clara V. Winlow, author of children's books, briefly sketched the history of puppets, and emphasized their educational value.

The Petrushka puppets (Petrushka is Russian for Punch) as they call themselves, promise something new to those interested in children's entertainment.

HAS .. MESSAGE .. FOR .. PUBLIC

Writer Warns America of Red Propaganda

Mary Antin

MARY ANTIN, a Russian Jewess and an apostle of Americanism, best known for her book, "The Promised Land," has come into public notice again after a seclusion of six years, with another message to America.

Miss Antin's message, a warning delivered at a recent session of the Hollywood Woman's Club, is:

"I speak not as a Jew; I speak not as a Russian. I speak as an American, and I tremble for America when I think of the propaganda of hate and misgovernment that is allowed to make its insidious way through the land."

RAILROAD PROMOTES PASSENGER AGENT

Garnett King, formerly general passenger agent of the El Paso and Southwestern System, at El Paso, has been appointed assistant traffic manager with headquarters at San Francisco, effective Jan. 1, 1923, according to information received here yesterday by L. H. Trimble, local general agent of the system.

ASK NEW CANYON ROAD

The opening of a road through Sepulveda Canyon, which is city territory in the Santa Monica-Westgate district, was petitioned for yesterday by property owners in a communication filed at the City Hall.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

"My dear Dr. Peters: I've never had to put my shoes through the stretching process, but if people are one-half as uncomfortable stretching their shoes as I've been stretching my stomach, oh me! I'm gaining, however, though slowly. . . . M. C."

The important part is that you are being rewarded for your discomfort, isn't it? Keep on, you will find that sooner or later you can accommodate more food without distress.

I am glad you love the Adorable Sockums and that you think he is a fine little professor. His responsibilities are great and he realizes it and he loves to be patted.

Write us again how you get along.

Mrs. F. B.—If, after going on a milk diet and balancing your diet afterward and living hygienically in all ways, you still suffer from acid stomach and indigestion, I advise you to go to a stomach specialist and put yourself under his treatment. He will give you a complete examination, probably analyze the stomach contents and take an X-ray, etc., before treating you.

R. R.—You can understand that it would be impossible for me to make a diagnosis of the cause of your pains. Usually in chronic pains of such sort as you have, we find that there is some focus of infection in the body. Carious teeth, chronically inflamed tonsils or ears, etc. Have you had a thorough examination?

You say you have lost thirty pounds in three months and you feel splendid except for these chronic pains. Very often pains of many descriptions will disappear on reducing. Are you getting enough protein, vitamins and essential salts in your diet? Remember it is not sufficient to know about calories alone. You must know other important things relating to diet also. Have you our list of foods with their protein content? If you have not you had better send for it. You should have from 250 to 350 C's a day.

We have an article for your constipation also.

Mrs. T.—Take your child to a children's specialist if possible and have an examination to determine the cause of the inflammation. Watch her bowel movements and see if you can see any worms. Pin worms are tiny bits of thread-like worms about one-quarter of an inch long. I shall have a paper on worms shortly.

Children sometimes have habits that cause the condition you speak of. In fact it is not at all unusual. Patience, sympathy and kindness, and a realization that children must not be unduly frightened, should be used in correcting these habits.

Indican in the urine is normal in small amounts. I have examined thousands of urines when I was doing laboratory work and very seldom did I find one in which it was not present. It is only when it is present in large amounts that it is of significance. Then it means that there is intestinal putrefaction or absorption of pus from some locality.

SOCIETY

At the Anderson Home

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Anderson in West Eleventh street will be the scene of radiant hospitality and festivity over the holiday season. On Sunday afternoon their youngest daughter, Miss Virginia, is to be hostess at a high tea given in compliment to Miss Amelia Hogan, whose engagement to George Hull has been announced. Twenty of the debutante set are to be guests.

Capt. and Mrs. Lee Schlesinger (Laura Anderson) are driving down from San Francisco to spend a month or two at the Anderson home and will arrive on December 31 when Mr. and Mrs. Anderson are to receive about 150 friends at a New Year's tea in their honor. Receiving with them at that time will be the Anderson's daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kuerton Sheahan (Eleanor Anderson) whose wedding was an important social event of last spring.

Miss Keith to Entertain

Miss Katherine Keith, the debutante daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Jack Keith, has sent about forty cards for a Christmas Eve party at her parent's home in Wilshire Boulevard. Dominating the scene will be a glittering Christmas tree with favor gifts for each of the guests and there are to be tables for bridge and mah jongg. Later in the evening there will be dancing and a buffet supper served at midnight.

Miss Keith is planning a number of parties to be given after the first of the year for her coming houseguest, Miss Dorothy Higbie of Chicago, who is expected to arrive in time for the New Year's parties that have been arranged. Miss Higbie is noted as a young golfer of championship distinction. She has been visiting in Nova Scotia since Miss Keith recently visited her at her home in Chicago.

To Make Debut

One of the smartest affairs to be given this week for the younger set is the ball which Dr. and Mrs. Isaac Hampshur Jones are giving at the California Club on Thursday evening to introduce Miss Helen Stewart Doane. There will be a cotillion from 10 until 12 o'clock, which will be danced only by the debutantes and their escorts. A number of other guests have been invited for the general dancing and the supper party at midnight. During the evening there will be tables for bridge and mah jongg.

Receiving with Dr. and Mrs. Jones will be Dr. and Mrs. Philip Schuyler Doane, Mr. and Mrs. Russell McDonell Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. William Algernon Brackenridge, Dr. and Mrs. Walter Jarvis Barlow, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Prungel King, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clarkes, Mr. and Mrs. A. Nesbit Kemp, Mr. and Mrs. W. West Randall, Dr. and Mrs. Eugene R. Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. James Reed.

Cards for Bridge Tea

Miss Katherine McCann has sent cards for a bridge tea next Tuesday afternoon in the Orange Tree Room of the Ambassador. Forty young society girls will be guests.

Miss Bilickie's Luncheon

A luncheon party was given yesterday at the California Club by Miss Nancy Bilickie for her houseguest, Mrs. William Sinton (Christine Lincoln), and Miss Florence McGarry.

A Christmas holly wreath and an arrangement of red roses centered the table. Places were set for thirty-five. Among the guests were Misses Marian and Margaret Brackenridge, Miss Ann Ayer, Miss Betty Hixon, Miss Mae Wild, Mrs. George Whiting, Miss Genevieve Murray, Miss Rowena Schneider, Miss Margarita Schneider, the Misses Dorothy, Mary and Margaret Gray, Miss Catherine Barlow of New York, Miss Elizabeth Taylor, Miss Elizabeth Drummond, Miss Hortense McLaughlin and Miss Caroline King.

At the Maryland

Mrs. Louise George entertained at a dinner Saturday evening at the Hotel Maryland in Pasadena. A centerpiece of California holly and tall red Christmas candles decorated the large round table. Covers were arranged for Mrs. Edwin Francis Holmes, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Edgerton, Mrs. Katherine T. Von Blon, Mary W. T. Dickinson, Mrs. Louise Dorr, Orrin A. White, Watts Brown, Harold Brown, all of Pasadena, Mrs. Alice Clark Brown of San Francisco and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carr of Los Angeles.

Fashion's Forecast

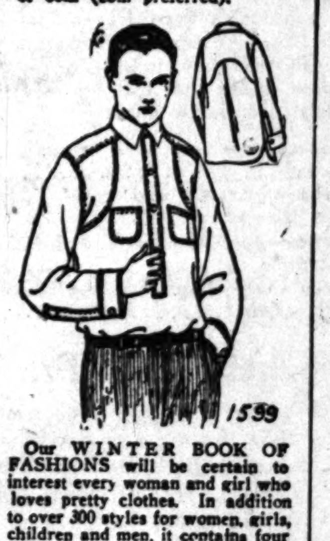
By Annabel Worthington

A SHIRT THAT WILL STAND WEAR.

For hard wear, a man's shirt must be made of a durable material and with the parts that wear out first, re-enforced. This shirt which was designed with the workman especially in mind, is made with applied front and back yokes and one-piece full-length sleeves.

Flannel, kahki tan, chambray and cheviot shirtings are excellent materials to use. If you made this shirt of engineer chambray at 25c per yard it would cost about 90c.

The pattern cuts in sizes 14½, 15, 15½, 16, 16½, 17, 17½, 18, 18½ and 19 inches neck measure. Size 15½ requires 3¼ yards 36-inch material. Price 15c, stamps or coin (coin preferred).



Our WINTER BOOK OF FASHIONS will be certain to interest every woman and girl who loves pretty clothes. In addition to over 300 styles for women, girls, children and men, it contains four pages of embroidery designs, three pages of styles worn by Photoplay Stars, a course in dressmaking and valuable articles telling the stout woman how to dress so as to take off thirty pounds in appearance, how the very slim woman can appear heavier, and what colors are most suitable for the blonde, the brunette, etc. The price is 10c per copy. Address your order to FASHION DEPT.

All orders will be handled by the branch office in Chicago and in order to eliminate the delay in forwarding we have arranged to have order sent direct to the Chicago office. Unless otherwise specified all patterns are 15 cents each. No patterns are kept in the Los Angeles office of The Times. MAN CRUSHED IN CRASH

A. Berthaume of Superior, Wis., was probably mortally hurt yesterday in an unusual accident at Third and Hill streets. A heavy truck backed into a cast-iron lamp post on the corner, breaking it off. It struck Berthaume's left leg as it fell. He received a compound fracture of the leg, necessitating its amputation, and head injuries.

Police Surgeon Dorn, who treated Mr. Eerthaume at the Emergency Hospital, said the patient's age, which is 66, made it probable he would not survive the shock. The injured man, who owns a large grocery in Superior, was visiting his brother-in-law, F. Gautheir, who was walking with him when he was hurt.

break the criminal syndicalism laws of California, which are unusually effective, and also to break the anti-picketing ordinance of Los Angeles, one of the strongest in the country. Incidentally, they seek to clog the jails and the courts of justice and to break down the administration of justice generally.

"We are arresting from forty to fifty a day," said Capt. Hilf. "But if we would make arrests as usual we would have 1000 men under arrest and would have no place to keep them. So we are making what arrests we can provide for. The men are unusually insolent."

DEMAND JURY TRIALS

The speaker explained that most of the "Wobblies" demand jury trials, causing long delays because of the congestion of the court calendars and thus increasing the congestion in the jails. The special committee on congestion in the civil calendars made a preliminary report. It shows litigation in the civil calendars has increased in 1921 over 1920 by 42 per cent and in the criminal courts by 38 per cent. The criminal cases in the Federal courts, largely because of Volstead Act violations, increased last year by 900 per cent over the year before, but it is pointed out operation of the Wright law will decrease the Federal court congestion but increase the number of cases in the criminal courts.

The committee also has gathered data which show Los Angeles county is below the average county in the State in the number of judges in proportion to the volume of cases.

Judge Willis, presiding judge of the Superior Courts, corroborated these statements, and Justice of the Peace Baird told of the congestion confronting justices of the peace in this county.

Jug by Jug Our Liquor Grows More Vitriolic

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Patrolman Donohue, custodian of one of the police department storehouse for seized liquor, today found one specimen in a five-gallon can which had eaten its way through the container and was trickling out on the floor.

Deciding its was too potent for human consumption, he called James Puzio, an assistant, and together they lifted the can and started to pour its contents into the gutter.

As they tilted it up ,the "liquor" exploded and set fire to Puzio's clothing. He was burned so badly that he had to go to a hospital for treatment. The patrolman's hands were severely burned.

FUGITIVE AID CASE BEFORE JUDGE SHENK

Tom Garwood and his sister Mrs. L. A. Stanage were given till tomorrow to plead to the charges of harboring Herbert Wilson and his companions after their escape from the County Jail, and to charges of being accessories after the fact to murder and robbery, when their case was called in Judge Shenk's court yesterday. Garwood was in court but Mrs. Stanage did not appear.

Boy Gets Best of Explosion, But Loses Eye

Because Donald Mayo, aged 9, tried to light a dynamite cap yesterday and succeeded, he will spend Christmas in a hospital cot instead of with his toys.

Donald, who lives at 1938 Argyle street, and several other Hollywood boys found some fuses and caps in the hills and brought them home to play with. The fuses burned beautifully, the boys found, and were fine things to chase little girls with. They left the caps to the last.

When Donald lighted his, the resulting explosion tore off his thumb and two fingers, and cost him his left eye besides filling his face full of gravel.

Where is the nation's food bin of tomorrow? It is in the Southwest and its wonderful possibilities are told in the Midwinter Number of The Times, out January 1.

THE GUL-BRAN-SEN WITH MELODY INDICATOR

The ONE Gift That Will Mean Most to the Family

It enables the performer, at a glance, to determine which of the two little Gul-BRAN-sen accompaniment levers to use in accenting melody and harmony notes.

To play the Gul-BRAN-sen with the expression of a master musician does not require any technical knowledge of music.

AN INVITATION

During this week we will give special demonstrations of the Gul-BRAN-sen, to which we invite the most critical musicians as well as those who have no technical knowledge of music.

A well-known singer has been engaged to render vocal solos, showing how the accompaniment ONLY may be played on any roll, entirely eliminating the melody notes.

BE SURE TO VISIT OUR STUDIO THIS WEEK—THERE'S A MUSICAL TREAT IN STORE FOR YOU. OPEN EVENINGS UNTIL NINE.

SERVICE ON SCREEN

"SHOOTING OF DAN MEGREW" WITH WILLARD MACK

By Grace Kingsley

Quincy Adams Sawyer's papa, Arthur Sawyer, is a busy man these days. He is just completing "Your Friend and Mine," with Willard Mack and Enid Bennett in the leading roles, but already is planning his next production.

This production will be a film version of Robert Service's poem, "The Shooting of Dan Megrew," and will have as it principal players Barbara LaMarr, Willard Mack and Lon Chaney.

And speaking of busy people, Mack is another one. He is to take his play, "Red Bulldogs," now playing at the Mason, out on the road for two months, and will then return to appear in the Service picture. After that he will take the drama to New York.

Bull Montana and Cupid

Is the cave-mannish Bull Montana really going to become a tame Benedict? He is, according to his own statement made yesterday, while his eye brightened with light o' love.

"I've got an awful sweet mamma!" was the way Bull expressed his sentiments, "and I think I'm going to be married."

"What is the name of your fiancee?" was asked.

"His first name is Bessie," explained Bull; but the limitations of his native tongue when it comes to expression of gender must be blamed for the sex of the personal possessive which Bull used.

"What is her last name?" we asked.

"I don't know," said Bull.

"Don't know your fiancee's name?" we asked, aghast.

"No, no—I mean, I not know for sure I am going to be married," explained Bull. "I tell you in time," he added generously.

And so Miss Bessie she must remain to us when we think of Bull's romance up to such time as he shall really know his marital fate.

Hope Hampton with Famous

Louella Parsons, dramatic editor of the New York Telegraph, lets the world know Hope Hampton's plans. It seems that Miss Hampton has signed for only one picture with Fox. This will be an all-star picture and the name is not announced, but will be a big feature.

Then Miss Hampton will play the leading role in "Lawful Larceny" for Famous Players-Lasky, with George Fitzmaurice as director. An all-star cast will appear in this picture also. "Lawful Larceny" is by Samuel Shipman and was one of the big stage hits in New York during the last season.

Fitzgerald Likes Viola

When F. Scott Fitzgerald likes a thing he lets you know it. He liked Viola Dana so much in his story, "The Off-Shore Pirate," when Metro put it on the screen, that he sat right down and wrote another story for Miss Dana. It is called "Recklessness," and Miss Dana received and read it only yesterday. She is very enthusiastic over the story and if Metro doesn't buy it for her she is going to be pretty mad. She says the leading role suits her to a T, whatever that is.

Goldwyn Changes Title

If it excites you to know it the title of "Passions of the Sea" has been changed to "Lost and Found." The picture was made in Tahiti under the direction of R. A. Walsh. The cast includes House Peters, Paulinie Starke, Antonio Moreno, Mary Jane Irving and Rosemary Theby. Carey Wilson is the author.

Louise Fazenda a Nurse

Louise Fazenda is adding to her burdens these days by nursing an injured canine actor. Pal is the name of a dog which had a part in "The Pest of the Storm Country," and injured her leg in a scene. Louise was sure she wouldn't get the proper amount of attention from the prop boy, so she took the little animal home and is keeping an eye on its health.

Larry Semon as Santa Claus

Larry Semon says the Christmas that stands out most vividly in his mind was the one he celebrated at the age of 6.

Larry's father, Zero the Great, and his vaudeville troupe were touring the South, business was good and Semon, Sr., had prospered. Christmas found the company in a good-sized town, and an hour before the show Larry's father took him to a large toy shop, telling him he could have anything he wanted.

"After a blissful time inspecting this fairyland of playthings," grinned Larry, "I chose a 25-cent jumping jack in a bright red box and marched triumphantly home with it, much to my father's amusement. And I never had a toy that gave me the fun that jumping jack did."

Larry, as you know, is going to assume the role of Santa Claus at the big Christmas party Sid Grauman is to give the orphans and homeless tots on Saturday morning, December 23, at his million-dollar theater.

"CHINESE FLAPPERS" IS STUNNING SHOW

Where has George Clark been keeping himself as a soloist all these moons? Yesterday this comedy favorite of the Hi Jinks musical comedy company at the Burbank Theater stopped the show when he came out and did a number with the aid of several of the beautious canaries of the chorus. George went over 100 per cent. The new production "Chinese Flappers" is gorgeous in costuming and setting and abounds in comedy entertainment.

Lee (Bud) Harrison provides many minutes of solid laughter. Dolly Daye and Ben Dix present a duet love song underneath mellow Chinese moonlight, and Mae McCrea adds to the musical charm with a popular number. Kenneth Kemper and George Clark brighten proceedings with individual numbers.

Staged by Walter Van, who plays a comedy role of a Chinese mandrain with an eye toward the pretty Chinese maidens, the production is one of the best yet.

"Face in Fog" Stars Lionel Barrymore

Hush!

It is "The Face in the Fog," showing this week at Grauman's Theater.

Anything we say about it is likely to give the story away, so we're not going to tell a great deal. There are jewels, however, and a Russian count, and a lot of revolutionists, and a surprise finish. And they all make "The Face in the Fog" full of mystery and suspense and all the things that cause you to sit on the edge of the seat.

Of course, a lot of the old hokum is there, too, and you can call a great many situations before they are actually played, but at that the picture is much less obvious than the usual run of screen mystery melos.

The photography helps muchly to sustain the mysterious idea. The opening is so foggy that you have to grope for the characters, but when the fights once start the characters come right out into the bright electrics.

Barrymore seems to play Boston Blackie much better than anything of this kind he has previously attempted. Really the role is a sort of offset for brother John's Sherlock. But then Blackie wasn't a straight detective, he was a reformed crook. Which gives Lionel the appropriate "heavy" background.

The acting throughout is in key. Senna Owen plays a Russian noble woman and Lowell Sherman a Slavic count. He's rather miscast. But Mary MacLaren, Macey Harlem, Gustav Von Seyffertitz and George Nash all seem to fit in nicely. The Christmas toy shop is a familiar Grauman offering, but it is timely, and is full of bright dancing and singing, and an occasional spurt of comedy. The Syncopated Fashion Plates take part, and as usual are received with a lot of applause. Snell Highsmith, Conklin and their band have a lot of pep, and flavor their jazz with paprika.

WARNER BROTHERS GIVE DINNER PARTY

One of the most glittering star socials that has yet been held in the radiant province of the films was the dinner party of the Warner Brothers' last night at the Cocoanut Grove. Nearly 100 persons were present, representing the actors, directors and scenarioists in the company's productions, as well as newspaper critics and trade-journal representatives. The Warners, themselves, with Harry Rapf, were the hosts, and among the prominent star guests were Marie Prevost, Claire Windsor, Marguerite Clayton, Louise Tazanda, Pauline Starke, Kenneth Harlan, Monte Blue, Miss DuPont, Helen Ferguson and others. J. D. Williams, William Beaudine, Sid Franklin and others concerned with the industry attended.

GIRLS HAVE KID PARTY

HERSHOLT IS FAMOUS SCANDINAVIAN ACTOR

Jean Hersholt, who plays the part of Ben Letts in Mary Pickford's new production of "Tess of the Storm Country," which is in its sixth week at Miller's Theater, was born in Copenhagen, Denmark, where he received his education in the Jesuit College.

In early boyhood he dreamed of making his mark as an actor and as soon as he finished his studies, he availed himself of the first opportunity to make his debut on the stage. For twelve years he worked to win recognition as a leader and at the end experienced the gratifying thrill of being proclaimed a real star by the press of his native land. With such a foundation he came to the United States and his work on the stage and in this and other pictures is proof that in coming all the way from Denmark to make his mark on the American screen, he did not travel in vain.

His next appearance locally will be at the California Theater as one of the twenty-three prominent players who have leading roles in Marshall Neilan's first Goldwyn picture, "The Strangers' Banquet," which opens Sunday.

"PEG" TO HAVE WORLD PREMIERE AT LOEW'S

Announcement was made last night that "Peg O' My Heart" with Laurette Taylor in the title role would be given its first showing anywhere at Loew's State Theater starting Sunday the 31st inst.

"Peg O' My Heart" is a Metro adaptation of the stage play by J. Hartley Manners. It follows closely the old drama staged at the Burbank Theater which was later taken to New York with Miss Taylor in the leading part. In the supporting cast are Ethel Grey Terry, Russell Simpson, Mahlon Hamilton, Nigel Barrie and Lionel Belmore.

VERNACULAR HAS NO CHAMPION IN HOXIE

Jack Hoxie, cowboy screen star, hasn't time for the buckaroo celebrities of the movies who resort to the vernacular of the plains while talking with studio visitors. He contends that any man who has ability enough to rise to stardom in the motion-picture business should have sufficent knowledge of dictionary language to speak it with some little familiarity.

Says Jack: "It's absolutely disgusting to hear some of these fellows who claim to be real cowboy stars 'do their stuff' for the benefit of gullible studio guests. Contrary to creating a favorable impression with the visitors, they make asses of themselves and give a false idea of the general run of motion-picture people to those who are most interested in them."

BUILD RAILROAD

The railroad that supplies a thrill or two in the first few scenes of "If I Were Queen," the Ethel Clayton picture, showing this week at the Symphony, was built especially for the Clayton company in the "Balkans"—otherwise the Sierras. In a realistic scene the train is run off a high bridge and plunges into the river below.

ENTIRE CITY TO RING WITH SONG

Remarkable Singing Festival Planned for Saturday

Ten Thousand Voices Will Carol Holiday Cheer

Pershing Square Scene of Grand Finale

Probably the most remarkable Christmas singing festival ever inaugurated within the confines of a great city will be the presentation of "Wandering Minstrelsy" next Saturday night in Los Angeles by practically every singing organization and group in the city.

Promptly at 7 p.m. voices will carol "Joy to the World" from every conceivable quarter and section of the city, from the far western residential section to the extreme limits of the industrial centers. Macy street will thrill with melody on a par and simultaneously with Wilshire Boulevard. Church choirs will vie with choruses from the department stores and "industrial music" will compete with grand opera singers and professional groups in English and Spanish carols.

Through the department of industrial music of the Chamber of Commerce a marvelous organization of all these singing groups has been perfected, chiefly in response to an appeal at once spiritual and joyous with the Christmas spirit pervading throughout negotiations. From eight to ten "industrial" music groups, numbering from twenty to fifty persons each; from twelve to twenty clubs of like number; from eight to twelve educational institutions, including all our universities and State branches; a dozen musical society groups with large personnel, and choirs from probably 300 of the 400 churches in the city, with an estimated turnout average of fifty singers each, will provide this extraordinary program with numbers.

THOUSANDS TO SING

If the present schedule is carried out there should be over 10,000 singers caroling in our streets Saturday from 7 to 9 p.m. At 9:30 after the street pilgrimage is concluded, the carolers will assemble in a roped-off area in Pershing Square and render a half-hour of sacred music. The numbers to be sung as carols will be "Joy to the World;" "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing;" "Silent Night;" "Deck the Hall;" "Come All Ye Faithful;" "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear."

The church augmented choirs will sing first on the church steps and then visit "shut-ins" and certain corners in their vicinity. The Southern California Edison glee singers will troupe the downtown business section in a gayly decorated truck and the De Lara Opera Company, combined with the Wa-Wan Club, under direction of Mrs. Grace W. Mabee, will render Spanish and English carols in the Plaza.

Each group of "wandering minstrels" will have a lantern-bearer, with lance and torch at its head and as much of the old traditional Christmas custom will be adhered to as is practicable.

MISS SABEL SPONSOR

All the hospitals will be visited and serenaded as will the jails and calabooses. Special arrangements have been made for police escort and the Park Commission has arranged for the big Christmas tree in Pershing Square, about which the singers will congregate for the finale.

Miss Antonette Ruth Sabel, as head of the industrial music bureau of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, has been the prime mover in this Christmas carol organization and her associates on the committee, of which Mayor Cryer is chairman, are John Kemp, manufacturing committee; Mrs. Susan B. Dorsey, City Superintendent of Schools; Dr. Hugh K. Walker, president Church Federation; Mrs. Grace W. Mabee, national chairman sacred music; Mrs. Martha Nelson McCan, Board of Park Commissioners.

Mr. John Smallman, director of the Oratorio Society, has accepted the official invitation of the Chamber of Commerce to take the post of director-general of all the singing units. Mr. Smallman will direct the huge massed chorus in Pershing Square and the Southern California Edison Company orchestra on a huge truck, will provide the accompaniment.

ARRANGE PROGRAM

The following organizations, place of singing, and directors, so far make up the carol program outside of the church choir groups: Los Angeles Choral Society, special locations, Antonette Ruth Sabel director, Hollywood High School, Hollywood; Edna Ames, director; University of Southern California, vicinity of university, Horatio Cogswell, director; University California Southern Branch, vicinity, Childrens' Hospital, Lafayette Park, Frances Wright and William J. Kraft directors; Occidental College, vicinity, Mrs. Maude Read Barnard and W. E. Ooley, directors; Wednesday Morning Club, neighborhood, Mrs. G. L. Charette, director; Wa Wan Club, Plaza and vicinity, Mrs. Grace W. Mabee, director; Matinee Musical Club, California and Pacific hospitals; Mrs. J. Spenser-Kelly and Mrs. Henry G. Sanger, directors; Musicians' Club, St. James Park and vicinity, Albert G. Tufts, director; Highland Park Ebell Club, Highland Park district, Mrs. C. W. Foote, director; Ebell Club, County Hospital and vicinity, Anne McPherson and Mrs. A. B. Cookee; Lyric Club, Hollenbeck Park, Home, Santa Fe and Lincoln hospitals, Mrs. W. V. Goodfellow, president, Mr. Poulin, director; Oratorio Society, Westlake Park, Good Samaritan Hospital, and neighborhood, John A. Wilsern, president, John Smallman, director; Choir and County Sunday School Chorus, City Jail, J. A. Van Pelt, director; Hamburger's chorus, Y.M.C.A., University Club, hotels between Hill and Figueroa, Seventh to Tenth streets, Gage Christopher, director; Bronson Singers, Echo Park and vicinity, Carl Bronson director; Temple Baptist Choir, Sycamore Grove and vicinity, Henry Foster, director; Girls' Corner Club of First Baptist Church, vicinity and West to Bixel and some distance South; Mrs. Frances L. Neth, director; Orpheus Club, County Jail, Hugo Kirchofer, director; Chanters' Club, Soldiers' Home, Sawtelle; Walnut Growers' Association chorus, vicinity of plant; City Dye Works chorus, vicinity; Bible Institute chorus and choir, Hotels Alexandria, Lankershim, Van Nuys, Rosslyn, Clark, Savoy and Auditorium, J. B. Trowbridge, director; Southern California Edison Company chorus and orchestra, downtown district in truck and at Pershing Square at 9:30 as official accompanists to singers, William E. Ransom, director; Mrs. Emma M. Bartlett, Inglewood; De Lara Opera Company, Plaza, Spanish carols, Mrs. M. F. De Lara, conductor; Hollywood choruses, in Hollywood, Mrs. J. J. Carter, director; Ellis Club, Pershing Square, J. B. Poulin, director; Broadway Department Store chorus, Golden State Hospital, Optimists' Club, Soldiers and Sailors Home Club, Mrs. Frankel, director; Trinity Methodist, special locations, M. M. Johnson, leader; others to be assigned.

The Chamber of Commerce suggests to all citizens that they turn on their porch and front room lights Saturday between the hours of 7 and 9 p.m. to augment the joyousness of the occasion and to make Los Angeles foremost in unique and thorough celebrations of the kind. With the whole city lighted and singers grouped so near together that any resident can hear constant carolling from his front porch for two hours, the effect will be far reaching.

HELD FOR LARCENY

Youth Said to Have Confessed to Eight Felonies

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Dec. 19.—Joe Mitchell of several aliases, captured by Patrol Sergt. Ben Carillo in the act of robbing the home of C. F. Sischo on San Vicente Boulevard several weeks ago, received his preliminary hearing in Justice M. R. King's court and was bound over for trial in the Los Angeles Superior Court on charges of grand larceny.

Mitchell aged 17 years, is said to have confessed to eight felonies throughout the Southland, two of which were committeed in Santa Monica, one in Sawtelle and four in Huntington Park. The youth was taken to the County Jail in Los Angeles.

Oil Moguls Will Frolic at Grand Powwow

Young Huntington is heavily interested in Santa Fe Springs and other oil fields. Miss Boyd's father supplies lumber for hundreds of derricks and oil rigging all over the Coast, as well as having branches as far east as Omaha.

Eleventh hour preparations were being made yesterday for the feast of the petroleum producers, which will cost nearly $20,000 to stage if the full 2000 expected to attend are present, at $10 a plate.

Col. W. E. Hawley, chairman of the committee, with W. D. Howard, president of the Continental National Bank, and A. T. Jergens the oil operator who made Long Beach an oil town as his aides, has opened permanent headquarters at the Ambassador to handle all details until the "Petroleum Powwow" becomes a matter of history.

The massive gilded derrick, which is to center the dance floor and banquet hall, was finished yesterday by a well known motion-picture studio and will be put in place today. It will be strung with ribbons, so that the guests can do the "Petroleum Pole Dance" around it.
